We will send the second draft of the educational card out about 12:30pm – making some more changes that were suggested. Too many partners to include logos. So am listing all in alphabetical order. Please review the list and make corrections/additions.
More Questions

1. Where do people recycle the empty 12 oz. water cans? When we picked up water yesterday we received 2 cases of cans so I'm assuming others have received them too. They have a 10 cent deposit on them but when I tried to put them through the can return at Meijer, they were rejected. You can only take the cans back to stores where you purchased them. So cans will also become an issue. I 'm assuming that the cans came from FEMA.....and won't be accepted anywhere.
2. Does anyone have the list of churches who will accept the empty water bottles ?(and cans too?) Shane has confirmed that all sites currently listed on the back of the card will accept used water filters.

Hello Everyone,

I wanted to offer some suggestions/comments.

First, the City of Flint has given permission to provide recycling of the water filters at each of the Fire stations. Additionally I have confirmed with the Health and Human services office on Clio Road that we can collect the filters there as well. I am still working on confirming the rest.

In regards to the flyer, I think it may be necessary to list the partners rather than use logos. It may save both space and time. I am in contact with Genesee Packaging of which may be donating boxes to assist in shipping the water filters for recycling; therefore they should be added to the list as well. Others that should be included are:

Michigan State Police
Petoskey Plastics
Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission
TerraCycle
Any other organizations assisting/donating

I also think the flyer should direct people to websites that contain the accurate and up to date information that we all discussed.

Lastly, the flyer should clearly identify which locations recycle the filters and bottles – it is my understanding that water bottles will not be recycled at each fire station but water filters will be. That should be clear for residents.

All the best,

Will this flyer be on a half sheet or 1/3 sheet? My first concern is will the wording be legible on partial sheets?

Thank you,

We probably would be able to have a faster turnaround for the printer. The JIC would also be able to use the same "branding"/layout as other information materials (while still including all of our partners on the cards) - if that is something that our group can agree with.

City of Flint and Republic Services might be best suited to provide input on the content?

As we discussed in the meeting, space is very limited at the water distribution centers. So they will have to recycle at another location. We are currently working on those locations. Also, would the printer be able to turn these around quicker if we don't do the glossy print?

Attached is the first draft of the educational card for dissemination at all distribution sites in the City of Flint.
Action Requested:

- Review content first. Easy to read, 4th-6th grade level, instructions understandable

- Review format. Thought this was a catchy format that reflects the issue. We would print on a glossy card. This is not a final draft of the format – just a concept for review and approval.

- Forward information about places of worship who are assisting us and any other spelling, grammar, information errors or changes.

- At this time, printers are telling us 5 business days from submission of file, so time is of the essence .

Thanks for you input.

I just spoke to Alex Young at Young's. They want to do whatever they can to assist in this effort. They are working with GLR and Averill to accept the plastic bottles only. I did explain that logistically they cannot place boxes at the fire stations. They are willing to assist us however they can. We did not get to finish our conversation however, he is supposed to call me back.
Are we meeting tomorrow? I can invite him.

This is taking way too long to get information out.
1.The information at Young's Environmental about recycling hit social media and news outlets today. See below.
2.Below that is an email sent to City of Flint where they state they are going to put boxes for collections at the fire stations.
3.Below that are the 5 sites that were sent to me for recycling bottles and cans and my comments about logistics at each site. The latest information I received said that just 2 sites will be selected.
When can we finalize? It will take days beyond the final approved copy before printing is complete.....

2. Email to someone at the City of Flint:
On behalf of Young's Environmental I am contacting the City of Flint regarding recycling services, we are very interested in helping OUR community properly dispose of the thousands upon thousands of used empty water bottles due to the current water situation in Flint.

We are willing to donate our resources (trucks, personnel, dumpsters, and disposal) at no cost to the City of Flint in order to help keep our community clean throughout this State of Emergency. We are hoping to be able to drop these boxes at the fire stations which are handing out water which would allow for the citizens of our community to drop their empties as they pick up new, from what we understand many have inquired as to where they can take their bottles.

We've tried calling several outlets all to no avail regarding these services. Please contact myself at 810.577.0710 or Alex Young at 989.413.8852 at any time. We hope to hear from you soon!

Sincerely,
Stephanie Young

3. Five sites for recycling water and cans on educational card. Which is it? 5 sites or 2 and which ones are the final sites?

Brennan Senior Center
1301 Pingree Ave.
Flint MI 48503 (Seventh Ward)

Flint Water Plant
Flint, MI 48506

Haskell Center
2201 Forest Hill

(Locked parking lot gate at Parkhurst St entrance – make sure that it remains open if you use that site/contact someone running the after school programs there)

Hasselbring Senior Center

Parking lot pretty good sized that seniors use – would recommend either the east or north end of parking lot and loop people in and out)

Karen,

We will set up another meeting/conference call shortly, so we can discuss issues like this. For now, I think the focus for republic would be to sign up more people for recycling and provide bins. That would make sense to us for two reasons:
1. People with curbside recycling don't need to visit a station.
2. The stations will be gone at some point, while curbside recycling will still be provided after the response to the emergency has ended. So in the long term, curbside is a much bigger piece to this puzzle than the stations.

Gary and I were going to speak today anyway, and we want to set up a call for this afternoon or tomorrow, so we as a group will be able to coordinate. Republic will be a big part of addressing this, but we should discuss if additional stations are the best use of their capabilities.

I will be contacting the group in a little bit for the next meeting/call.

Thanks,

Henrik

Mr. Kammer,

On behalf of Young's Environmental I am contacting the City of Flint regarding recycling services, we are very interested in helping OUR community properly dispose of the thousands upon thousands of used empty water bottles due to the current water situation in Flint.

We are willing to donate our resources (trucks, personnel, dumpsters, and disposal) at no cost to the City of Flint in order to help keep our community clean throughout this State of Emergency. We are hoping to be able to drop these boxes at the fire stations which are handing out water which would allow for the citizens of our community to drop their empties as they pick up new, from what we understand many have inquired as to where they can take their bottles.

We've tried calling several outlets all to no avail regarding these services. Please contact myself at 810.577.0710 or Alex Young at 989.413.8852 at any time. We hope to hear from you soon!

Sincerely,

I just spoke to Alex Young at Young's. They want to do whatever they can to assist in this effort. They are working with GLR and Averill to accept the plastic bottles only. I did explain that logistically they cannot place boxes at the fire stations. They are willing to assist us however they can. We did not get to finish our conversation however, he is supposed to call me back.
Are we meeting tomorrow? I can invite him.

Recycling Group
This is taking way too long to get information out.
1.The information at Young's Environmental about recycling hit social media and news outlets today. See below.
2.Below that is an email sent to City of Flint where they state they are going to put boxes for collections at the fire stations.
3.Below that are the 5 sites that were sent to me for recycling bottles and cans and my comments about logistics at each site. The latest information I received said that just 2 sites will be selected.
When can we finalize? It will take days beyond the final approved copy before printing is complete.....
Karen

1. On Facebook this morning:

Wondering what to do with all your plastic bottles Flint, Michigan? Starting Monday at 9am we will have a roll-off box out front of our office located at G-5305 Dort Highway (between Carpenter and Coldwater) where you can drop off and recycling your empty plastic water bottles at no cost.
These bottles take centuries to decompose in landfills – let's work together to keep one crisis from causing another. We are working to get more drop off locations set up through our city and will do our best to keep everyone updated.Dort Highway in #Flint (between Carpenter Road & Coldwater) where you can drop and #recycle your empty plastic water bottles at no cost.

2. Email to someone at the City of Flint:
On behalf of Young's Environmental I am contacting the City of Flint regarding recycling services, we are very interested in helping OUR community properly dispose of the thousands upon thousands of used empty water bottles due to the current water situation in Flint.

We are willing to donate our resources (trucks, personnel, dumpsters, and disposal) at no cost to the City of Flint in order to help keep our community clean throughout this State of Emergency. We are hoping to be able to drop these boxes at the fire stations which are handing out water which would allow for the citizens of our community to drop their empties as they pick up new, from what we understand many have inquired as to where they can take their bottles.

We've tried calling several outlets all to no avail regarding these services. Please contact myself at 810.577.0710 or Alex Young at 989.413.8852 at any time. We hope to hear from you soon!

Sincerely,
Stephanie Young

3. Five sites for recycling water and cans on educational card. Which is it? 5 sites or 2 and which ones are the final sites?

Brennan Senior Center
1301 Pingree Ave.
Flint MI 48503 (Seventh Ward)

Flint, MI 48506
(What entrance and where located?

Fire Station 1/ City Hall
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502
(In the morning, the line to get water goes from the Fire Station, back on 5th Ave and south on S. Saginaw St. –How wise is it to have the recycling use this same line? Perhaps a separate line for recycling?)

Haskell Center
Flint MI 48504
(Locked parking lot gate at Parkhurst St entrance – make sure that it remains open if you use that site/contact someone running the after school programs there)

Hasselbring Senior Center
Flint, MI 48505 (First Ward)

Parking lot pretty good sized that seniors use – would recommend either the east or north end of parking lot and loop people in and out)

Subject: Re: Water Bottle Recycling Services

Karen,

We will set up another meeting/conference call shortly, so we can discuss issues like this. For now, I think the focus for republic would be to sign up more people for recycling and provide bins. That would make sense to us for two reasons:
1. People with curbside recycling don't need to visit a station.
2. The stations will be gone at some point, while curbside recycling will still be provided after the response to the emergency has ended. So in the long term, curbside is a much bigger piece to this puzzle than the stations.

Gary and I were going to speak today anyway, and we want to set up a call for this afternoon or tomorrow, so we as a group will be able to coordinate. Republic will be a big part of addressing this, but we should discuss if additional stations are the best use of their capabilities.

I will be contacting the group in a little bit for the next meeting/call.

Thanks,
Henrik

Water bills in poisoned Flint an 'outrage,' attorney general says

01/25/16 12:27 PM

By Tracy Connor and Lisa Riordan Seville

Michigan's top prosecutor said Monday that it's an "outrage" that residents of Flint are being forced to pay for water that's unsafe to drink — and his office may take action to stop the billing.

"Words can barely describe this tragedy. Things went terribly wrong," AG Bill Schuette said. "I would certainly not bathe a newborn child or a young infant in this bad water and if you can't drink the bad water you shouldn't pay for it."

Bill Shuette held a press conference this morning and told people emphatically not to bathe in the water. (my husband saw it and called to see if this was a new finding). That totally contradicts what we have been told- that we can take a short shower in lukewarm water. Can anyone verify? Once media picks this up it will go viral, create more hysteria and then a major demand for water.....trying to find his statement in news now .

We will send the second draft of the educational card out about 12:30pm – making some more changes that were suggested. Too many partners to include logos. So am listing all in alphabetical order. Please review the list and make corrections/additions.
More Questions

1. Where do people recycle the empty 12 oz. water cans? When we picked up water yesterday we received 2 cases of cans so I'm assuming others have received them too. They have a 10 cent deposit on them but when I tried to put them through the can return at Meijer, they were rejected. You can only take the cans back to stores where you purchased them. So cans will also become an issue. I 'm assuming that the cans came from FEMA.....and won't be accepted anywhere.
2. Does anyone have the list of churches who will accept the empty water bottles ?(and cans too?) Shane has confirmed that all sites currently listed on the back of the card will accept used water filters.

Also, what would be the process to include recycling information on the existing door hanger that is being distributed with the water and filter crews?

Hello Everyone,

I wanted to offer some suggestions/comments.

First, the City of Flint has given permission to provide recycling of the water filters at each of the Fire stations. Additionally I have confirmed with the Health and Human services office on Clio Road that we can collect the filters there as well. I am still working on confirming the rest.

In regards to the flyer, I think it may be necessary to list the partners rather than use logos. It may save both space and time. I am in contact with Genesee Packaging of which may be donating boxes to assist in shipping the water filters for recycling; therefore they should be added to the list as well. Others that should be included are:

Michigan State Police
Petoskey Plastics
Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission
TerraCycle

Any other organizations assisting/donating

I also think the flyer should direct people to websites that contain the accurate and up to date information that we all discussed.

Lastly, the flyer should clearly identify which locations recycle the filters and bottles – it is my understanding that water bottles will not be recycled at each fire station but water filters will be. That should be clear for residents.

All the best,

Karen,
Will this flyer be on a half sheet or 1/3 sheet? My first concern is will the wording be legible on partial sheets?

Thank you,

I will discuss with Mark if we might be able to get these printed through the State or the JIC.
We probably would be able to have a faster turnaround for the printer. The JIC would also be able to use the same "branding"/layout as other information materials (while still including all of our partners on the cards) - if that is something that our group can agree with.

City of Flint and Republic Services might be best suited to provide input on the content?

Thanks,

As we discussed in the meeting, space is very limited at the water distribution centers. So they will have to recycle at another location. We are currently working on those locations. Also, would the printer be able to turn these around quicker if we don't do the glossy print?

Attached is the first draft of the educational card for dissemination at all distribution sites in the City of Flint.
Action Requested:

- Review content first. Easy to read, 4th-6th grade level, instructions understandable

- Review format. Thought this was a catchy format that reflects the issue. We would print on a glossy card. This is not a final draft of the format – just a concept for review and approval.

- Forward information about places of worship who are assisting us and any other spelling, grammar, information errors or changes.

- At this time, printers are telling us 5 business days from submission of file, so time is of the essence

Thanks for you input.

Spoke with Bob from MDOC) advised that DOC vans can be demobed after today's operations. He could only account for 12 vans. Travelbee may be able to find them. With the police teams being done after tonight we won't need the vans. May need to box trucks but I am unsure on that... They may be needed by the warehouse, kristi or tonya may know more on that.

Jay/Shasta,

Working with MDOC/DTMB to demobilize vans tonight after operations. Can you review the following list and advise if these are currently all being used by the water response teams? If they are, we plan to demob them tonight. If not, let me know which vans you plan to keep and we'll work that out here.

Yes we have about 30 done. A lot of people had already received one. We have the paperwork for those given out.

The truck never came. If the truck pallet jack has rubber wheels we can unload it to the transfer center really quick. If it doesn't the steel wheels will destroy the flooring at the transfer center. If you can find that out we will know whether we need volunteers to unload it.

Thanks

Hi Ed,

I do have a stock set aside at the 2727 Lippincott Blvd. GCCARD location.

It is available for pick up whenever you are ready to begin home deliveries. The contact at the facility is Shawn Scott-Fitzgerald with the American Red Cross/1-563-663-2672. We also have tracking sheets that need to track which homes have been visited and returned to the local EOC somehow so they can get entered into the overall database.

Hi Michelle,

Thanks for the info. Judy informed me that you called regarding the Your Ride clients that still need filter. We'll be glad to do the initial delivery and then hold off as requested.

For the 2-1-1, we'll get the passengers to the distribution centers located along the designated fixed routes. The passengers just need to let the driver know that is their intention and we will not collect the fares and will just log the count of passengers riding for the water supplies.

MTA added the 5 requested Water distribution sites as stops along the following fixed routes: Fenton, ML King, Franklin, Dupont and South Saginaw.

We are ready and willing to help – please don't hesitate to ask for assistance as needed.

Hi Ed,

I am just following up our earlier call. I have let our Joint Information Center know that the MTA has included the 5 fire stations in the bus routes. This information will be provided to 211.

I have also let Jay Eickholt know that I'll be the main point of contact for MTA.

I am following up on the supplies, we will get a stock set aside and then I can coordinate pick up with you. We are receiving a lot of supplies today.

I am also going to speak with the sheriff's department about the calls received regarding home deliveries.

Please contact me at if you need anything.

Thank you so much for your support,

I have highlighted the more salient information in yellow.

Thank you.

73	1/23/2016	3:10 pm			called because she is struggling to attach a filter to her tap without it spewing water all about. Reviewed with her all she has available to her at this point in time--filter, bottled water, no water testing kit. Explored numerous options with her--going to a nearby fire station, contacting her landlord, calling a friend--and together we finally decided on making a Hotshot Request. She is also concerned about her health but was not particularly open to suggestions such as an Urgent Care. Did suggest to her that she may want to try a Pure filter as opposed to a Brita filter as the Pure filter kit has more adapters available within the kit.	Yes	HotShot Reque - See above.

A Flint resident inquired about a cartridge for his pitcher filter. He said he went to every fire station. Can we find out what the process is for getting replacements?

I received a pitcher filter when they first became available (ZeroWater 8 cup filter) because the faucet type filter will not fit on any of my faucets. I have been to 4 different Water Resource Sites, none of the sites have any replacement filters.
It has been very frustrating going from site to site and having the staff not have any answers about if the replacement filter will even be available.
What is the status on the replacement filters for the ZeroWater pitchers?

Sorry for the delay. Yes, I did verify the warehouse has water filters replacements for this gentleman's brand (ZeroWater) of water pitcher. I will ensure the Local EOC contacts him so he can receive his replacement filter

Hi There,

I know you had said below "I believe the SEOC delivered the replacement cartridges for those". Is there any way to confirm this- you can see the below Flint resident called today saying they were unable to get a replacement cartridge for their pitcher....

Thanks,

Subject: Inquiry about replacement cartridges

A Flint resident inquired about a cartridge for his pitcher filter. He said he went to every fire station. Can we find out what the process is for getting replacements?

I received a pitcher filter when they first became available (ZeroWater 8 cup filter) because the faucet type filter will not fit on any of my faucets. I have been to 4 different Water Resource Sites, none of the sites have any replacement filters.
It has been very frustrating going from site to site and having the staff not have any answers about if the replacement filter will even be available.
What is the status on the replacement filters for the ZeroWater pitchers?

The pitchers are available and I believe the SEOC delivered the replacement cartridges for those. The guard has been instructed to give out 1 case but we can make arrangements for special cases (call the fire station and provide name, hotshot, etc.)

What resources are available for individuals who have faucets in their homes the filters do not fit? When they go to the fire station to get water- they are only allowed 1 case but that is assuming they have a filter. Also, are water pitchers not available anymore? This individual had a pitcher but cannot get a replacement cartridge for it from the fire stations.

Please advise.

The Durant hasn't been processed yet. River Village received an initial shipment through MSHDA. They didn't account for these filters and the filters were hoarded. Insp. Bolger advised that a MSP team would go door to door there. Not sure if the teams have gone back there yet.

Hi Brian

For your awareness, Tonya Nobach and I are working logistics today at the state level and this weekend.

Your direction is perfect, we are tracking distribution of all commodities from the SEOC. Please send all requests through this email account.

If you can give us more details on the below two requests, we will handle them from here

Thank you and let us know if you have any questions,

Mike,

Moving forward, we need to run requests for additional filters through MSP. With additional MSP and National Guard individuals on the ground now in Flint, I think they want to take lead on getting future filters out to impacted residents in areas of need.

My contacts have been there is Wendy Galbreath and Penny Burger and I have copied her on this email. I would make them aware of the need for 300 filters at River Village Apartment Complex and 90 at Durant and see if they can assist first.

Penny and Wendy, if there is more appropriate contact for these matters moving forward, please advise.

Thank you,

Brian.

Brian/Michele,
We have now heard back from just about everyone on our list and all are good to go except River Village that could use about 300 or so and the Durant which says they need 93 filters. Do we still have access to filters to get out to these properties? If so I can arrange to get them out there ASAP.

Mike,

Moving forward, we need to run requests for additional filters through MSP. With additional MSP and National Guard individuals on the ground now in Flint, I think they want to take lead on getting future filters out to impacted residents in areas of need.

My contacts have been there is Wendy Galbreath and Penny Burger and I have copied her on this email. I would make them aware of the need for 300 filters at River Village Apartment Complex and 90 at Durant and see if they can assist first.

Penny and Wendy, if there is more appropriate contact for these matters moving forward, please advise.

Thank you,

Brian.

Brian/Michele,
We have now heard back from just about everyone on our list and all are good to go except River Village that could use about 300 or so and the Durant which says they need 93 filters. Do we still have access to filters to get out to these properties? If so I can arrange to get them out there ASAP.

The Durant hasn't been processed yet. River Village received an initial shipment through MSHDA. They didn't account for these filters and the filters were hoarded. Insp. Bolger advised that a MSP team would go door to door there. Not sure if the teams have gone back there yet.

Only if they are for the larger quantities (ie. apartment complexes). Most of what comes from the Governor's office are single family homes and Lt. DeCastro makes those deliveries. I have been keeping a tracking sheet of those.

Thank you Matt for the introduction.

Schupan Recycling appreciates the opportunity to help in a time of need and as the thousands of pallets of water are distributed we can help by installing a collection system for both water bottles from the citizens of Flint and the pallet wrap from the distribution centers.
We are looking forward to bringing several of our partners to the table to help with this project such as Petoskey Plastics who have generously committed to supplying recycling bags.
Let us know the locations as soon as possible so we can determine the best piece of equipment for each distribution point. Implementation will take three days from the identification of the location until the equipment is on site.

Again thank you for letting us be a part of the team and please don't hesitate to reach out to Schupan Recycling with any questions.

We will send the second draft of the educational card out about 12:30pm – making some more changes that were suggested. Too many partners to include logos. So am listing all in alphabetical order. Please review the list and make corrections/additions.
More Questions

1. Where do people recycle the empty 12 oz. water cans? When we picked up water yesterday we received 2 cases of cans so I'm assuming others have received them too. They have a 10 cent deposit on them but when I tried to put them through the can return at Meijer, they were rejected. You can only take the cans back to stores where you purchased them. So cans will also become an issue. I 'm assuming that the cans came from FEMA.....and won't be accepted anywhere.
2. Does anyone have the list of churches who will accept the empty water bottles ?(and cans too?) Shane has confirmed that all sites currently listed on the back of the card will accept used water filters.

Also, what would be the process to include recycling information on the existing door hanger that is being distributed with the water and filter crews?

Hello Everyone,

I wanted to offer some suggestions/comments.

First, the City of Flint has given permission to provide recycling of the water filters at each of the Fire stations. Additionally I have confirmed with the Health and Human services office on Clio Road that we can collect the filters there as well. I am still working on confirming the rest.

In regards to the flyer, I think it may be necessary to list the partners rather than use logos. It may save both space and time. I am in contact with Genesee Packaging of which may be donating boxes to assist in shipping the water filters for recycling; therefore they should be added to the list as well. Others that should be included are:

Michigan State Police
Petoskey Plastics
Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission
TerraCycle
Any other organizations assisting/donating

I also think the flyer should direct people to websites that contain the accurate and up to date information that we all discussed.

Lastly, the flyer should clearly identify which locations recycle the filters and bottles – it is my understanding that water bottles will not be recycled at each fire station but water filters will be. That should be clear for residents.

All the best,

We probably would be able to have a faster turnaround for the printer. The JIC would also be able to use the same "branding"/layout as other information materials (while still including all of our partners on the cards) - if that is something that our group can agree with.

City of Flint and Republic Services might be best suited to provide input on the content?

Mike,

Moving forward, we need to run requests for additional filters through MSP. With additional MSP and National Guard individuals on the ground now in Flint, I think they want to take lead on getting future filters out to impacted residents in areas of need.

My contacts have been there is Wendy Galbreath and Penny Burger and I have copied her on this email. I would make them aware of the need for 300 filters at River Village Apartment Complex and 90 at Durant and see if they can assist first.

Penny and Wendy, if there is more appropriate contact for these matters moving forward, please advise.

Was your bag tag going to include information on how to recycle bottles, filters, how to sign up for recycling in the city, the list of all distribution sites and recycling sites and addresses? Maybe we aren't working on the same educational piece.....Here is the first draft that I sent out after the meeting on Tuesday. I'll forward the emails that went with it. Just a little confused.....
Thanks

I guess I am confused about the educational piece. I thought we were designing it and printing it based upon all the information gathered by the team. Due to our grant funding, unless we design it, we cannot pay for printing. We can go either way. Makes no difference to me. Just needed to get our limitations out to everyone.

Thank you Matt for the introduction.

Schupan Recycling appreciates the opportunity to help in a time of need and as the thousands of pallets of water are distributed we can help by installing a collection system for both water bottles from the citizens of Flint and the pallet wrap from the distribution centers.

We are looking forward to bringing several of our partners to the table to help with this project such as Petoskey Plastics who have generously committed to supplying recycling bags.
Let us know the locations as soon as possible so we can determine the best piece of equipment for each distribution point. Implementation will take three days from the identification of the location until the equipment is on site.

Again thank you for letting us be a part of the team and please don't hesitate to reach out to Schupan Recycling with any questions.

Hi Mary,

I received a call on the phone bank from , who initially asked if her house in the zip code was on the Flint water system. I found a partial zip code list and told her she was on the Flint water system. When I told her about getting water, filters and replacement cartridges, she informed me that she and her husband were disabled and had difficulty getting around. Could you pass this on to the person coordinating the Hot Shot teams?

Thanks,

Janet,

My name is Alex Young, I'm with Young's Environmental here in Flint. I'm emailing you because our company would like to help out with the water crisis here in our city by offering up roll off boxes for all of the used water bottles that are being generated. I already have recycling set up free of charge around the city. I just need some one to give me the ok and locations of where I can drop the boxes.

Please let me know as we'd love to help out the community.

Thanks,

Alex Young

Was your bag tag going to include information on how to recycle bottles, filters, how to sign up for recycling in the city, the list of all distribution sites and recycling sites and addresses? Maybe we aren't working on the same educational piece.....Here is the first draft that I sent out after the meeting on Tuesday. I'll forward the emails that went with it. Just a little confused.....
Thanks

I don't mean to confuse or challenge your process, Schupan Recycling created the original bag tag. Our printer was standing by to help us out knowing we were on a short timeframe. If it helps for us to print this please let me know.

I guess I am confused about the educational piece. I thought we were designing it and printing it based upon all the information gathered by the team. Due to our grant funding, unless we design it, we cannot pay for printing. We can go either way. Makes no difference to me. Just needed to get our limitations out to everyone.

Water Crisis Recycling Team
Attached is the first draft of the educational card for dissemination at all distribution sites in the City of Flint.
Action Requested:

- Review content first. Easy to read, 4th-6th grade level, instructions understandable

- Review format. Thought this was a catchy format that reflects the issue. We would print on a glossy card. This is not a final draft of the format – just a concept for review and approval.

- Forward information about places of worship who are assisting us and any other spelling, grammar, information errors or changes.

- At this time, printers are telling us 5 business days from submission of file, so time is of the essence

Thanks for you input.

Subject: Inquiry about replacement cartridges

A Flint resident inquired about a cartridge for his pitcher filter. He said he went to every fire station. Can we find out what the process is for getting replacements?

I received a pitcher filter when they first became available (ZeroWater 8 cup filter) because the faucet type filter will not fit on any of my faucets. I have been to 4 different Water Resource Sites, none of the sites have any replacement filters.
It has been very frustrating going from site to site and having the staff not have any answers about if the replacement filter will even be available.
What is the status on the replacement filters for the ZeroWater pitchers?

The pitchers are available and I believe the SEOC delivered the replacement cartridges for those. The guard has been instructed to give out 1 case but we can make arrangements for special cases (call the fire station and provide name, hotshot, etc.)

This was our version and does not include direction for filter recycling.

Our feedback on the current flyer:
Can you use a single font?
Caps should be left on the bottles not removed, this is the preferred industry standard.
I think I read that you plan on having multiple versions to account for areas without recycling, Is that correct?
Our logo has been stretched out of proportion. I can send you a correct version.

Was your bag tag going to include information on how to recycle bottles, filters, how to sign up for recycling in the city, the list of all distribution sites and recycling sites and addresses? Maybe we aren't working on the same educational piece.....Here is the first draft that I sent out after the meeting on Tuesday. I'll forward the emails that went with it. Just a little confused.....

I guess I am confused about the educational piece. I thought we were designing it and printing it based upon all the information gathered by the team. Due to our grant funding, unless we design it, we cannot pay for printing. We can go either way. Makes no difference to me. Just needed to get our limitations out to everyone.

Thank you Matt for the introduction.

Schupan Recycling appreciates the opportunity to help in a time of need and as the thousands of pallets of water are distributed we can help by installing a collection system for both water bottles from the citizens of Flint and the pallet wrap from the distribution centers.

We are looking forward to bringing several of our partners to the table to help with this project such as Petoskey Plastics who have generously committed to supplying recycling bags.
Let us know the locations as soon as possible so we can determine the best piece of equipment for each distribution point. Implementation will take three days from the identification of the location until the equipment is on site.

Again thank you for letting us be a part of the team and please don't hesitate to reach out to Schupan Recycling with any questions.

Kits are being assembled now, nearly 30,000 bottles are coming in to be assembled at the VRC. I will forward this info.

Can someone contact this individual to say that test kits are coming in as they are assembled and will be made available at the PODs asap.

Kits are being assembled now, nearly 30,000 bottles are coming in to be assembled at the VRC. I will forward this info.

Can someone contact this individual to say that test kits are coming in as they are assembled and will be made available at the PODs asap.

Thanks for the quick preparation of this draft. Please make sure to also include Matt Flechter in your communication as his name was inadvertently left off the original communication. Hello Everyone,

I wanted to offer some suggestions/comments.

First, the City of Flint has given permission to provide recycling of the water filters at each of the Fire stations. Additionally I have confirmed with the Health and Human services office on Clio Road that we can collect the filters there as well. I am still working on confirming the rest.

In regards to the flyer, I think it may be necessary to list the partners rather than use logos. It may save both space and time. I am in contact with Genesee Packaging of which may be donating boxes to assist in shipping the water filters for recycling; therefore they should be added to the list as well. Others that should be included are:

Michigan State Police
Petoskey Plastics
Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission
TerraCycle
Any other organizations assisting/donating

I also think the flyer should direct people to websites that contain the accurate and up to date information that we all discussed.

Lastly, the flyer should clearly identify which locations recycle the filters and bottles – it is my understanding that water bottles will not be recycled at each fire station but water filters will be. That should be clear for residents.

All the best,

Karen,
Will this flyer be on a half sheet or 1/3 sheet? My first concern is will the wording be legible on partial sheets?

Thank you,
Heather

I will discuss with Mark if we might be able to get these printed through the State or the JIC.
We probably would be able to have a faster turnaround for the printer. The JIC would also be able to use the same "branding"/layout as other information materials (while still including all of our partners on the cards) - if that is something that our group can agree with.

City of Flint and Republic Services might be best suited to provide input on the content?

As we discussed in the meeting, space is very limited at the water distribution centers. So they will have to recycle at another location. We are currently working on those locations. Also, would the printer be able to turn these around quicker if we don't do the glossy print?

Water Crisis Recycling Team
Attached is the first draft of the educational card for dissemination at all distribution sites in the City of Flint.
Action Requested:

- Review content first. Easy to read, 4th-6th grade level, instructions understandable

- Review format. Thought this was a catchy format that reflects the issue. We would print on a glossy card. This is not a final draft of the format – just a concept for review and approval.

- Forward information about places of worship who are assisting us and any other spelling, grammar, information errors or changes.

- At this time, printers are telling us 5 business days from submission of file, so time is of the essence

Thanks for you input.

Why is this coming to the local EOC when the SEOC is responsible for purchasing and supplying the pods with supplies?

Hi team,

We had a constituent calls who has been to Fire Station #8 3 times today. The first 2 times they had no filters. All three times they have not had water test kits. They told her they will not get anymore test kits for 2 weeks.

Would someone follow up with her as to where she can get a test kit?

Hi Mary,

I received a call on the phone bank from , who initially asked if her house in the 48507 zip code was on the Flint water system. I found a partial zip code list and told her she was on the Flint water system. When I told her about getting water, filters and replacement cartridges, she informed me that she and her husband were disabled and had difficulty getting around. Could you pass this on to the person coordinating the Hot Shot teams?

Thanks,

Jim

Hi Team,

If someone owns a business in flint- can they go to the fire station and get water/ water filters for their business?

If they own a home and a business- what is the protocol if they want resources for both locations?

Has anyone worked with the Chamber in Genesee County? Just had someone say that 2-1-1 referred them to the Chamber. They happened to be good friends with the President and the President was "out of the loop".

Constituent is disabled and can not leave her home.
Needs water & Filter.
She says she called 2-1-1 twice to be put on a list and called the Sheriff's office but still no one has come to her house.
She said Red Cross was on the neighboring street a week ago and was kind enough to give her some water when she yelled from her door.

Disabled & Needs water/ filter

Says no one has come to her building and it is mostly filled with elderly and disabled folks. She says they have all been calling 2-1-1 and they "put them on the list" but no one has come out at all.

Many abandoned houses on this block- volunteers went down all surrounding streets but didn't come down their street . There are 2 old ladies on the street as well and only 7 houses that are not abandoned. Street needs water/ filter delivery. Most people on this street are old/ disabled and unable to leave their home.

Got a brand new furnace 2 years ago and it went out yesterday. She had the furnace company come out and they won't fix it because they say it is corroded due to the water. She now has no heat in her home and can't afford to fix her furnace.

Filter doesn't fit their faucet. When they go to the fire station to get water- they are only allowed 1 case but that is assuming they have a filter. Also, are water pitchers not available anymore? This individual had a pitcher but cannot get a replacement cartridge for it from the fire stations.

Disabled can't leave home- Needs water, filter, and testing kit

Disabled, needs water, filter, testing kit

She mentioned that she is afraid of police officers—so if help is sent it shouldn't be from and authority figure.

I can make phone calls for you ahead of time if that would help your process. Let me know if there is anything you need from me. Please let me know when you have completed these.

Likely they are with the company we are working with, Danny's Pallets. No worries. Hopefully he didn't give him too hard a time.

Yesterday the an individual in charge of the fire station 1 called to say there was an individual collecting the pallets from the collection area near the dumpsters. He said that he was ordered to send the pallets back to the warehouse on the waste delivery trucks.

I let him know that it will be ok to manage the pallets that way and that the broken pallets can go back to the warehouse as well. I am guessing that Danny's Pallets is picking them up from the warehouse as well. (Can anyone confirm this?) I let him know that we just want to make sure the pallets are out of their way and not taking up space in the dumpsters.

Matt,
We had some pallets behind City Hall that have been picked up by a company called Dunay's Pallets. When our Facility Management Director, Lee Osborne, confronted him, he did not speak English very well and they were not able to communicate. Are these two company's associated that your aware of?
Thank you,

I guess I am confused about the educational piece. I thought we were designing it and printing it based upon all the information gathered by the team. Due to our grant funding, unless we design it, we cannot pay for printing. We can go either way. Makes no difference to me. Just needed to get our limitations out to everyone.

Thank you Matt for the introduction.

Schupan Recycling appreciates the opportunity to help in a time of need and as the thousands of pallets of water are distributed we can help by installing a collection system for both water bottles from the citizens of Flint and the pallet wrap from the distribution centers.
We are looking forward to bringing several of our partners to the table to help with this project such as Petoskey Plastics who have generously committed to supplying recycling bags.
Let us know the locations as soon as possible so we can determine the best piece of equipment for each distribution point. Implementation will take three days from the identification of the location until the equipment is on site.

Again thank you for letting us be a part of the team and please don't hesitate to reach out to Schupan Recycling with any questions.

Laura,

Water billing and shutoff questions should be directed to the city. I know of no help that we can offer him (Tori, if you do, please weigh in). Google provided me with the number this gentleman should call to have his water restored.

If that doesn't work, he may want to contact the mayor's office ((810) 766-7346) or his city council representative.

He could also try his state representative or senator for solutions.

Water has been shut off in for a year because he owes $3800- they transferred the water bill to his taxes on his home. He stopped paying because he couldn't drink it- now they are going to take his home.

Disabled & Needs water/ filter

Says no one has come to her building and it is mostly filled with elderly and disabled folks. She says they have all been calling 2-1-1 and they "put them on the list" but no one has come out at all.

Many abandoned houses on this block- volunteers went down all surrounding streets but didn't come down their street . There are 2 old ladies on the street as well and only 7 houses that are not abandoned. Street needs water/ filter delivery. Most people on this street are old/ disabled and unable to leave their home.

Got a brand new furnace 2 years ago and it went out yesterday. She had the furnace company come out and they won't fix it because they say it is corroded due to the water. She now has no heat in her home and can't afford to fix her furnace.

Filter doesn't fit their faucet. When they go to the fire station to get water- they are only allowed 1 case but that is assuming they have a filter. Also, are water pitchers not available anymore? This individual had a pitcher but cannot get a replacement cartridge for it from the fire stations.

Disabled can't leave home- Needs water, filter, and testing kit

Disabled, needs water, filter, testing kit
She mentioned that she is afraid of police officers—so if help is sent it shouldn't be from and authority figure.

The pitchers are available and I believe the SEOC delivered the replacement cartridges for those. The guard has been instructed to give out 1 case but we can make arrangements for special cases (call the fire station and provide name, hotshot, etc.).

Flint Resident
Went to 4 fire stations for water test kit- all were out. They all said they had them in the morning but run out by the time he gets out of work
Also wants a blood test

(I called her back and left her a voicemail- it would be nice to have an answer when she calls back or for someone from MSP-Leg call her directly)
Received a flyer from the Governor's office in the mail but she didn't think she had city of Flint Water- now she is very upset
Lives in Hunters Ridge Subdivision

Disabled- 2-1-1 said they would send someone to her house by last Wednesday and still no delivery-
Also needs someone to help her put the filter on her sink because her "hands don't work right"

Water and filter delivered. I even installed filter but they wished removal after it was installed. They both felt due to their age it would be a hindrance. I removed the filter for them and asked if they wanted a water testing kit. They didn't want to test their water as they have always bought water and never drank it. They didn't wish to get free water, and were going to continue to purchase it. They thanked me for the help.

Needs someone to come out and help put the Filter on. Her son lives with her but isn't able to put it on either- They watched the video together but still can't get it on. Her son is mobile and was able to get to the fire station for supplies but she said he is "slower".

She also needs someone to tell her about the water. I explained over the phone that she is able to drink it after it is filtered and bathe. She still asked for the person that comes out to talk to her about it.

She also needs someone to tell her about the water. I explained over the phone that she is able to drink it after it is filtered and bathe. She still asked for the person that comes out to talk to her about it.

Hi Michelle,

In October, the UM-Flint provided Brita water filters to international students who live off campus. It's time to replace those filter cartridges.

Consequently, we're requesting 500 Brita water filter replacement cartridges. The delivery information and points-of-contact are the same as those we provided on Sunday (see below).

Please let me know if the State is able to fulfill this request.

Hi Paul,

The University of Michigan-Flint is requesting 1,000 waters filters which the University would distribute to faculty, staff and students (bearers of UM ID cards only). Can the State provide UM-Flint the filters? The University would handle all other aspects of distribution, including unloading delivery truck(s).

The University would like to distribute the filters on Monday, Jan. 18.

The UM-Flint POC is:

Mike Lane

Director, Environment, Health and Safety

mjlane@umflint.edu

Please let me know if you have additional questions.

Thank you,

Linda

Constituent called today and she has never received response to her below outreach.

She is a licensed daycare and is frustrated no one can take the time to respond to her and get these kids tested. She has kids in her daycare that have yet to be tested.

She goes through a lot of water every day at her business and has purchasing it out of pocket.

If someone could please follow up with me as to the resolution of this contact

Hi Michelle,
In October, the UM-Flint provided Brita water filters to international students who live off campus. It's time to replace those filter cartridges.

Consequently, we're requesting 500 Brita water filter replacement cartridges. The delivery information and points-of-contact are the same as those we provided on Sunday (see below).

Please let me know if the State is able to fulfill this request.

Thank you,

Hi Chris,

I spoke to Red Cross SEOC Liaison Paul Spata who advised me to share this request with you. Paul said that the GC EOC is now handling partner requests. I'm following up with you in my role as the UM-Flint Emergency Preparedness Specialist.

UM-Flint is requesting 1,000 water filters to distribute to its faculty, staff and students. The original request was for filter delivery Monday, but that doesn't matter. We'd like to get filters as soon as possible.

Please let me know the status of this request as soon as you can. The University wants to ensure it's doing everything possible to safeguard the members of our campus community.

Thank you,

Linda

Hi Paul,

The University of Michigan-Flint is requesting 1,000 waters filters which the University would distribute to faculty, staff and students (bearers of UM ID cards only). Can the State provide UM-Flint the filters? The University would handle all other aspects of distribution, including unloading delivery truck(s).

The University would like to distribute the filters on Monday, Jan. 18.

Good Morning

Here are several personal issues that came out again last night that need to be addressed.

I did speak with Jen Wolf about the test kits. She said a large shipment is coming in today and will be distributed to the pods.

Hi Team,

The Governor's office received many voicemails overnight- I called all folks back but these are the folks that have experienced issues when reaching out for help: Please note the two individuals who have had their water shut off.

Has a Kohler sprayer sink so the regular filter won't fit- Doesn't have a pitcher- Needs a filter that goes under the sink that filters the water from there

- Called last week and the sheriff's office last week- they said they would bring her a pitcher but still no one has brought that even
- Susan has many Doctors appointments so someone needs to call her before they come.

- Water was shut off so has no running water - $8000.00 outstanding bill
- Needs water – bottled
- Doesn't have a filter- but also has no running water

Went to 4 fire stations for water test kit- all were out. They all said they had them in the morning but run out by the time he gets out of work
Also wants a blood test

Female

(I called her back and left her a voicemail- it would be nice to have an answer when she calls back or for someone from MSP-Leg call her directly)
Received a flyer from the Governor's office in the mail but she didn't think she had city of Flint Water- now she is very upset
Lives in Hunters Ridge Subdivision

Disabled- 2-1-1 said they would send someone to her house by last Wednesday and still no delivery-
Also needs someone to help her put the filter on her sink because her "hands don't work right"
Needs Water, Needs Filter

Owns 20 rental properties in Flint and has questions about the pipes in his properties and how he can help

Water was shut off to his home because he owes $4,000
Needs water and testing Kit- filter if his water gets turned back on

Thank you,

We will have more inquiries and volunteers in the morning but this seemed most urgent.

Message: I received a pitcher filter when they first became available (ZeroWater 8 cup filter) because the faucet type filter will not fit on any of my faucets. I have been to 4 different Water Resource Sites, none of the sites have any replacement filters.
It has been very frustrating going from site to site and having the staff not have any answers about if the replacement filter will even be available.
What is the status on the replacement filters for the ZeroWater pitchers?

Subject:	Re: RFF for 400k water

Hello Everyone,

We wanted to alert you to a challenge - we are getting a lot of donations coming in and more people are telling us they want to send water.

Storage Facilities - Current Space
As a review, the report from the storage facilities is as follows:

1. Warehouse reported being full Tuesday and they could not receive more deliveries

2. Cher's delivery arrives at food bank today, as a result they will not have more room until next Tuesday.

3. GCard Warehouse- needs their space for their own needs (not water related) as a result, the water that is there now will need to be moved or distributed in the next day.

Large Donations Increasing
We are getting some large donations from people far and wide - with more coming. A couple of deliveries are arriving tomorrow and we are trying to find them space. We are checking to see if the churches could use a restocking of their supplies.

Delivery Challenges
Some of the deliveries are coming without prior communication or knowledge on our part. We are also beginning to hear from people that they have water collected and they want us to make arrangements to get it picked up. When we get these requests, we are thanking them and gathering their contact information. We are letting them know that we are checking to see what arrangements can be made.

FEMA Deliveries
If we get these deliveries of 8 trucks daily from FEMA, the storage problem will become more of an issue. We know the second wave of door to door deliveries is being planned, but we are not sure if the need will keep up with the deliveries that are coming in.

Supply and Demand
It would be helpful to know what the daily supply and demand numbers have been coming in at. This will allow us to keep in front of the donations that are coming in and determine the space needs.

Storage Plan
A plan may have already been created to address the storage issue - but we wanted to make sure. We would like to identify options for additional storage sites to manage the high volume of water that is being sent.

Communications

We would like to figure out how to put out a message to allow people to understand the best way to donate. This is tricky, as we do not want people to feel there help (water donations) is being turned away. My Communications Director is in the JIC tomorrow and will begin working on it based on your recommendations.

Your ideas are welcomed and appreciated!

Previously they were calling Matt Purcell at GCCARD to get what they needed for the residents.

Job Corp called today and is waiting on a response.

HI team,

Please see below a few folks that need water resources:

- People came to her house today 1/18 and left a flyer but no water- needs water. Also, the filter does not fit on her sink so she doesn't know what to do. Says she followed the directions but the only part of her sink that works in the "sprayer" and the filter won't fit on this.
- We may need to get her a pitcher that filters water.

- Needs a water delivery- in back of apartment with a cane- takes about 3 minutes to answer the door- please do not leave until she gets to the door

- Needs water delivery- disabled and unable to leave home- has a filter

Hi Shasta,
We received the water filters and replacement cartridges. Thank you!!!

I understand that the lead time on the water test kits is longer. Would you please let me know when DTMB is ready to deliver them?

I appreciate your help.

Am I correct in thinking that the "address form" is actually the spread sheet you sent?

HI team,

Please see below a few folks that need water resources:

- People came to her house today 1/18 and left a flyer but no water- needs water. Also, the filter does not fit on her sink so she doesn't know what to do. Says she followed the directions but the only part of her sink that works in the "sprayer" and the filter won't fit on this.
- We may need to get her a pitcher that filters water.

- Needs a water delivery- in back of apartment with a cane- takes about 3 minutes to answer the door- please do not leave until she gets to the door

- Needs water delivery- disabled and unable to leave home- has a filter

When available, please provide location and time information so we can review it with our staff. Also, can you please provide me Penske's contact information? I will need to work with them on paperwork and insurance for operating their vehicles.

When available, please provide location and time information so we can review it with our staff. Also, can you please provide me Penske's contact information? I will need to work with them on paperwork and insurance for operating their vehicles.

Thanks,

That's awesome!!! Thanks Jay. Do you know what the total amount is? We'll have to work out shipping hours at the warehouse. I asked Shawn tonight but haven't gotten an answer yet. Thanks again. This is great!

This is a topic of discussion in the SEOC yesterday that we need to be thinking about all the plastic bottles.... Let me know what needs to happen....

Attached is a flyer that can be modified and distributed with the bags.

Also I talked to Gary Hicks at Republic. They service the Flint fire stations with trash dumpsters. It was reported to them on Monday that they are overflowing. They are happy to hear that Schupan is interesting in donating the bags and equipment because it may lessen the pressure on the dumpsters (I wouldn't be surprised if recycling dumpsters also begin to be placed at the fire stations as well).

What additional information do you need from me to help make this happen?

Matt – thank you very much for passing this info on – great news from Schupan!

Jennifer – As point for us as department EM – can you please walk this invitation over to the donations peeps?

Thanks

Mel,
Nice to meet you by email. I'm Matt Flechter, Recycling Market Development Specilist working primarily on implementing the Governor's Recycling Plan of Action. Bryce asked me to forward this information to you with the goal of identifying steps to take to facilitate a partnership to set up a collection program for water bottles in Flint.

As you can see below Shupan Recycling is interesting in donating resources to help set up the collection infrastructure to help manage the used water bottles.

This morning Amcor, a Michigan based plastic product manufacturer active in supporting the development of successful recycling programs, offered financial support to expand the collection network to all water distribution centers.

Bryce spoke to Director Creagh this morning and he requested we work through next steps with you. Please let us know how we can help move this forward.

Subject: Water bottle recycling for Flint

Matt,
Here is our proposal:

Schupan Recycling would deliver two trailers to selected distribution centers. The distribution center staff would supply a recycling bag with each case of water given to a citizen. Each bag would have a flyer with instructions on how to recycle your water bottle and the expectation when the citizen returned for another case of water they would bring back a bag full of empties. Schupan Recycling will provide up to 70 cases of bags and the printed instruction guide.
Schupan Recycling would need the distribution staff to attach the guide to the bag with a stapler insuring proper delivery of the educational message and place the full bags in the trailer provided.
Schupan Recycling would also produce a press release announcing the services provided for DEQ and the City of Flint.

Hope this is what you need.

thanks

This is a topic of discussion in the SEOC yesterday that we need to be thinking about all the plastic bottles.... Let me know what needs to happen....

Attached is a flyer that can be modified and distributed with the bags.

Also I talked to Gary Hicks at Republic. They service the Flint fire stations with trash dumpsters. It was reported to them on Monday that they are overflowing. They are happy to hear that Schupan is interesting in donating the bags and equipment because it may lessen the pressure on the dumpsters (I wouldn't be surprised if recycling dumpsters also begin to be placed at the fire stations as well).

What additional information do you need from me to help make this happen?

Fellow PIOs,

Thank you for helping staff the Flint Joint Information Center (JIC) during the Flint water emergency. Without your help, we couldn't make this operation happen.

We are still trying to fill the following shifts (see attached document):

Feb. 16 – 1 person
Feb. 18 – 2 people
Feb. 19 – 1 person
Feb. 22 – 1 person
Feb. 23 – 1 person
Feb. 24 – 2 people
Feb. 25 – 2 people
Feb. 26 – 2 people

Please evaluate your staffing and let us know if you have someone available to work any of these shifts by 5 p.m. today. When possible, with the reduced staffing, we prefer PIOs who are already trained to work in the Flint JIC.

Thank you for your consideration. We can't make this operation happen without your partnership.

Hi Meegan,

I was on the www.michigan.gov/flintwater website and it looks like the main menu bar is different on the pages. For example, when you're on the homepage there are fewer menu tabs than if you go to the Resources page.

Just wanted to share this with you. I wasn't sure if it was supposed to be like that.

Subject: RE: Updates

Thanks for these updates Sierra. Please see below for some action items.

Also, I was really hoping not to staff at all next weekend. Is your thought that we need to keep someone in the SEOC? Are you sure you're up for it again next Saturday and Sunday? I know you have Friday, Feb. 12 off, we could maybe look at another day off the following week.

EVENTS:
•Children's Health Services of NY is sending a mobile medical response team to Flint and they should be on the ground today (Sunday). Bill would like us to announce this and arrange a photo/video opportunity tomorrow.
-----Bill reached out to Angela Minicuci and she will help coordinate. (Who is Bill?)

•Update to EPA fact sheet has been provided to be reviewed. Document is in the JIC Manager email from Michael Gretchen. (Please forward to me)

•The Planning Group sent an email to the SEOC-PIO email account asking for a bullet list of important events that state agencies will be participating in this week by noon on Monday February 8, 2016. (i.e. Meeting with community agencies to identify future POD sites or meet with federal partners to outline long term recovery).They will be compiling a list on Monday afternoon for the Governor's office.
-----I wanted to let you know for your awareness in case they ask for a list from the JIC. (please forward to me)

•There remains a concern about pet lead exposure. MSP SEOC OPS has asked what can we put out publically that may be an offer of assistance if needed for those concerned. First would be to see their family veterinarian, but for those who are unable, is there a place that will do it for no charge?
-----SEOC PIO, JIC Manager, and DHHS were looped in for awareness and Gov's office as follow up. (There are about three bullet points from MDARD regarding pets in the Internal Talking points in MICims. Please share this information in a reply to all. Please copy me too. Also, please loop in Jen Holton asking if she can determine if anywhere is offering free services to Flint residents.)

•Additional translated documents were provided by Karen Phillippi. Documents are in the JIC email account.
-----I help off on passing these along since we are also waiting on documents from ASL. (Please forward these to Meegan for posting with a cc to me. We are still waiting on ASL documents, but I do want to get these up).

•Dianna Van Horn (Red Cross) emailed documents that were downloaded from WebEOC but wants confirmation that they are approved for general distribution. Red Cross would like copies available at the VRC. She also wants to know if they are available in Spanish? (Please forward to me)

WEBSITE UPDATES:
•Trevor added another location on the Donation Guidelines document on the website.
-----Pierson Road Warehouse on Monday, Friday and Saturdays between 12 – 6 p.m. only, or email flintwarehouse2@michigan.gov to schedule a dock time for delivery. (Did the Donation Guidelines document in MiCims get updated with this info? Please also send to JICNews to ask that the Internal Talking Points be updated with this new location)

NOTIFICATIONS:
•Recommendations from the CDC will be going out tomorrow (Monday). A list of recommendations are in the JIC email account from Michael Gretchen. (Please forward to me.)

•CDC has provided some revisions to the lead poisoning in pets document before handing it over the MDARD. A copy of the document is in the JIC Manager email sent by Lisa Briseno. (Please forward to me).

•MDOC is reporting that they are receiving questions about how prisoners are planning to donate a portion of their income to Flint. (I don't know anything about this. Is this confirmed?)

STAFFING:
•Emily Guerrant (MEDC) is available on Tuesday, Feb. 9. She sent the email on Saturday, please have Ron confirm with her. (Please forward to me)

•Kristin Phillips (DNR) can stay until 8 on Monday and plans to reserve a hotel room since I will also be there on Tuesday. Please have Ron confirm with her. (Please forward to me)

Hi Shanon,

I hope you're having a good weekend! I was asked about the JIC staffing schedule for next weekend and I told Cindy that as of right now I'm scheduled for Saturday, February 13 and Sunday, February 14. If we foresee any changes with the JIC operation I told her that we would let her or Wendy know.

Below is a list of tasks and topics that may come up on Monday. If you have any questions, please let me know.

My plan is to leave after the 4:00 briefing. Thanks!

EVENTS:
•Children's Health Services of NY is sending a mobile medical response team to Flint and they should be on the ground today (Sunday). Bill would like us to announce this and arrange a photo/video opportunity tomorrow.
-----Bill reached out to Angela Minicuci and she will help coordinate.

•The WEYI-TV NBC25 & University of Michigan-Flint Town Hall meeting -- "Your Voice, Your Future: The Flint Water Crisis" will take place on February 29 at 7 p.m. at Northbank Center's Grand Ballroom in Flint.
-----The forum is designed to give government, health care, environmentalists, community groups, emergency/disaster response officials, and others the opportunity to speak directly with residents directly affected by the water crisis.
-----According to emails in the JIC Manager account, invitations have been sent to the Governor's Office, MDARD and MDHHS.

TASKS:
•There is an outstanding task in MiCIMS that is assigned to the JIC PIO Leader from Michelle Kuzera.
-----Task: Coordinate the intergovernmental, public and external affairs effort to ensure awareness and visibility of communications activities regarding Flint water crisis with State and Federal partners. (PEATF)

•Update to EPA fact sheet has been provided to be reviewed. Document is in the JIC Manager email from Michael Gretchen.

Finley: What isn't helping in Flint
By Nolan Finley, Detroit News 02/07/16 8:26 AM
A crisis isn't solved by finger pointing, grandstanding, gotcha games, exaggerations and hysteria. That's what's been going on in Flint, and it isn't helping. Instead of pulling together, Michigan is fracturing. Politicians see in Flint not a disaster that demands single-minded focus on solutions, but a delicious opportunity that can't be squandered. We are months into the awareness that the city's water system carried lead into residents, and still there has not been a summit of local, state and federal officials to unite behind a fix-it strategy. What's been going on is an embarrassment, and has additionally damaged a state whose reputation is built on pure, abundant water. That isn't helping the people of Flint.

CNN schedules Democratic debate in Flint
By Kyle Balluck, The Hill 02/07/16 8:14 AM
CNN announced early Sunday that it will host a debate between Democratic presidential candidates Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders next month in Flint, Mich., which has been hit hard by contaminated drinking water. The March 6 event will come two days before the Michigan and Mississippi primaries. "Our Democratic candidates have run spirited campaigns focused on how to best move our country forward, and our upcoming debate in Flint, Michigan is a critical setting to highlight what's at stake in these elections," Democratic National Committee Chairwoman Debbie Wasserman Schultz said in a statement distributed by CNN.

Walberg talks jobs, Flint water crisis and more
By Dan Cherry, Le Connect 02/07/16 8:00 AM
More than two dozen residents spent their morning Saturday with U.S. Rep. Tim Walberg at a coffee hour at Family Kitchen restaurant in Madison Township. Walberg, a Republican from Tipton, answered a dozen questions submitted on cards on a wide range of topics, from local infrastructure and jobs to the Flint water crisis and the upcoming presidential election. Jobs and the local economy remain Walberg's "No. 1 issue," he said, but more must be done to make it easier for businesses to thrive in Michigan and Lenawee County. Regulation fees that nationally total $1.9 trillion are levied on job providers "just for regulatory compliance costs," Walberg said.

Detroit, Flint to host presidential debates
By Crain's Detroit Business 02/07/16 8:00 AM
Michigan will play host to two presidential debates days ahead of the March 8 state primary. Republican candidates will debate issues in Detroit on March 3, and Democratic candidates Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders will face off in Flint on March 6. The two-hour GOP debate, presented by the Fox News

Channel, will air at 9 p.m. across Fox's various media platforms including Internet, TV and radio. The location of that debate has yet to be finalized, but the Fox Theatre is reportedly in the running. Megyn Kelly of Fox News will again be a moderator, leaving candidate Donald Trump's attendance an unknown.

Flint biz treads water through crisis
By Marti Benedetti, Crain's Detroit Business 02/07/16 8:00 AM
The Flint water crisis is taking a toll on the city that goes beyond lead poisoning. The Flint Cultural Center, considered a jewel with its expansive neighborhood of theaters, museums and a large public library, could be hurt by declining property values and tax collections as a result of the water crisis. At the same time, Flint business owners hope water woes won't stem the downtown renaissance of recent years. Kay Schwartz, director of library services for the Flint Public Library in the cultural center, said the water crisis has the potential to hurt library financing, but it has weathered financial crises before. In 2009, in the midst of the recession and General Motors' bankruptcy, a library millage of 2.9 mills produced $4.7 million. The library relies on a property tax millage for 90 percent of its income.

Hillary Clinton to speak in Flint Sunday
By FOX 2 Detroit 02/07/16 7:08 AM
Days away from the New Hampshire Primary and Hillary Clinton has decided to visit Flint Sunday where she will attend a community meeting with Flint Mayor Karen Weaver and local residents to hear firsthand about the water crisis that is harming families and what our leaders need to do to fix it. Clinton will use her trip to urge the Republican-controlled Senate to approve the Senate Democrats' $600 million amendment to help Flint. Earlier this week, Senate Democrats blocked an energy bill in order to try to force action on the Flint provision.

By Amanda Emery, MLIVE 02/07/16 6:05 AM
Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton is visiting Flint Sunday amid the city's water crisis to hear first-hand from residents. Here are the four things to know about Clinton's visit:

1. Clinton is scheduled to attend a community meeting with Flint Mayor Karen Weaver and local residents on Sunday, Feb. 7 to discuss the Flint water crisis. The meeting is free and open to the public.
2. The meeting will be held at the House of Prayer Missionary Baptist Church, located at 1851 West Carpenter Road in Flint, at 1:30 p.m.

4. Clinton will also use her trip to urge the Republican-controlled Senate to approve the Senate Democrats' $600 million amendment to help Flint. Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders will debate next month in Flint, Michigan, a city thrust into the national spotlight after it was discovered residents were drinking toxic tap water. The debate will air on CNN, the Democratic National Committee announced on Sunday. The internationally televised event on March 6 will take place two days before the Michigan and Mississippi primaries and is part of a broader deal reached by Clinton and Sanders to add more DNC-sanctioned presidential primary debates to the schedule.

Flint Water Crisis Overrides Governor Snyder's Middle East Trip
By Alfredo Watts, The Lake Andes Wave 2/07/16 4:47 AM

One of the prior suits alleges there is no sovereign immunity because the water switch denied residents their federal constitutional rights to bodily integrity and to be free from state-created danger. The fund, established by the Community Foundation of Greater Flint, is a supplemental...

Earley subpoenaed to testify in Flint water crisis
By Michael Christensen, My Tech Bits 02/07/16
Some families discovered that the amount of lead in their water was "above toxic waste-dump levels", Mrs. Stabenow said. The U.S. House Oversight and Government Reform Committee is expected to hold a hearing today on Flint's water crisis. "The public has every right to be outraged". Snyder's office said the agency that has already accepted blame for much of the Flint water crisis dropped the ball on the Legionnaires' disease issue and nobody told the governor about it. The Michigan Democratic Party has now called on Snyder to resign. "To date, Congress has not heard testimony from you on the Flint water crisis".

D.C. report: Aid for Flint, Michigan, drawing attention
By Randy Krehbiel, Tulsa World 02/07/16 12:00 AM
The Senate resumes work on an energy bill that has become bogged down by dozens of amendments and an attempt to include emergency aid for Flint, Michigan, in it. U.S. Sen. Jim Inhofe more or less blamed President Barack Obama's attention to climate change for the lead-contaminated water crisis in Flint. Inhofe said Obama has consistently short-changed the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund "while increasing funding for subsidies for his corporate friends that share his global warming views."

Thomas Lucente: Flint water crisis — You can't make this stuff up
By Thomas Lucente, Lima Ohio 02/07/16 1:18 AM
The hypocrisy of the left is always entertaining, though quite dangerous. The thing is, they simply don't see it. Let's take the water crisis in Flint, Michigan. The crisis was a failure of government at all levels. Initial reports would have you believe the switch was made to save money. That fits in with the leftist narrative that austerity and responsible fiscal management is bad and government spending — the more the better — is always good. However, that was not the case. Government officials chose the KWA because the new project, while more costly to Flint residents, would create jobs and stimulate the economy.

Officials accused of Flint water crisis cover-up in Wednesday House hearing
By Curtis Figueroa, Sinema Blaze 02/07/16
Gov. Rick Snyder is expected to propose an additional $30 million in state funding to help Flint residents pay their water bills. Joel Beauvais, acting water chief for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, said MI officials ignored federal advice to treat Flint water for corrosion-causing elements a year ago and delayed for months before telling the public about the health risks. The panel subpoenaed EPA's Susan Hedman to appear at a deposition in Washington later this month. State officials testifying before the committee admitted more should have been done.

Activists ask United Nations to intervene in Flint
By Niraj Warikoo, Detroit Free Press 02/07/16 3:12 AM
Did the Flint water contamination violate international treaties the U.S. has agreed to? Activists want the United Nations to come to Flint and investigate. Many people have been asking city, state and federal officials to help in Flint. Now, some activists want international intervention, asking the United Nations to investigate the water problems in Flint as possible violations of international treaties the U.S. has agreed to. Last week, activists with the Detroit Water Brigade traveled to New York City to testify about Flint and Detroit before the United Nations' Commission for Social Development at its Civil Society Forum. Afterward, they sent a letter to the U.S. Mission to the United Nations asking it to allow the United Nations to send a fact-finding mission to Flint.

Red Cross needs volunteers for Flint water relief
By Rhonda Ross, WZZM ABC 13 02/07/16 6:00 AM
The country has been rallying together to bring relief to those affected by the Flint water crisis. Many have been donating bottled water but if you're looking to take things a step further, The American Red Cross could use your help. Mike Mitchell from the American Red Cross of West Michigan says volunteers are needed more than ever to assist in relief efforts. Mitchell says people are needed to help deliver water and supplies to people who can not make it to relief stations, such as the elderly or the disabled. Anyone interested in volunteering in Flint can visit the American Red Cross office in Flint to sign up.

Memo to Clinton From Flint: Bring Water
By Justin Glawe, Daily Beast 02/07/16 12:15 AM
During her visit on Sunday, Hillary Clinton will once again shine the media spotlight on Flint. Unfortunately, so far the press attention has brought little relief for residents. The only thing that the people of Flint need to hear from Hillary Clinton when she arrives here tomorrow is where they can get bottled water. The crisis in Flint is not over because it has received national media attention or because politicians are now owning up to their failures. It is a present, silent, man-made disaster that is ongoing — and the infrastructure of the response is being handled by every level of government as poorly as the water crisis itself.

Hillary Clinton Meeting With Flint Mayor, Residents On Sunday
By CBS Detroit 02/06/16 10:15 PM
Democratic Presidential candidate Hillary Clinton will be in Flint Sunday to speak with residents who are dealing with the city's drinking water crisis firsthand. A long friendship put spotlight on Flint water crisis
By Rochelle Riley, Detroit Free Press 02/06/16 10:57 PM
The moment that changed the course of thousands of lives in Flint actually came in the spring of 2014 — before the city switched its water source from Lake Huron to the Flint River. Elin Betanzo, a water engineer working for the Northeast Midwest Institute, was sitting in a Mt. Pleasant conference room on April 16, 2014, at a meeting of the Michigan section of the American Water Works Association. It was a training class for people who understand water systems and rivers and lead, who work for municipal water plants and who help to police them.

Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha Talks about Flint Water Crisis
By Crystal A. Proxmire, Oakland County 115 02/06/16 video clip
n Flint there have been many people who fought in their own ways to bring attention to the problems faced by residents since the water was switched from Detroit water to water from the Flint River. One of those who brought forward research about increased levels of lead, and who has been advocating for more resources to help the children exposed to it, has been Royal Oak native Doctor Mona Hanna-Attisha. Dr. Hanna-Attisha came home to Royal Oak Saturday to talk with various groups about the crisis in Flint. She also recalled her Royal Oak roots.

Lawmakers introduce Flint water, Tesla sales bills
By Kathleen Gray, Detroit Free Press 02/06/16 10:35 PM
In addition to the Tesla bills, the Flint water crisis continues to dominate action in Lansing. Two bills were introduced last week to set up a revolving fund to deal with the replacement of water infrastructure pipes and another to require testing for lead and other contaminants in the water supply going into schools.

Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha goes from doctor to global hero
By Rochelle Riley, Detroit Free Press 02/06/16 10:58 PM
The night before her scheduled appearance on national TV to talk about the Flint water crisis, Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha walked into the Oakland County home she shares with her husband and two daughters and plopped onto the couch. She wanted to listen to an NPR interview (the first of herself she would watch or hear). But her 7-year-old daughter "began screaming 'No more Flint!' and took the phone and threw it across the room," she said with a laugh.

Money for Flint? Yes, but bigger issues loom
By Stephen Henderson, Detroit Free Press 02/06/16 10:39 PM
Michigan Sens. Debbie Stabenow and Gary Peters say they want $600 million to help Flint deal with infrastructure. Rep. Candice Miller upped the ante to $1 billion, which is what she wants the Environmental Protection Agency to send to help replace lead service lines in people's homes. (For the record, I think the total cost here falls way shy of $1 billion, but it's a nice round number for the headlines, right?) And so the political scramble to fix what got broken in Flint continues to unfold, and I'm guessing we haven't seen the last of the one-upmanship or center-stage grabbing.

Bernie Sanders' campaign sets up shop in Flint before Hillary Clinton's visit on Sunday
By Steve Carmody, Michigan Radio 02/06/16 2:00 PM
Hillary Clinton is bringing her presidential campaign to Flint Sunday. But her rival for the Democratic presidential nomination is also setting up shop in town this weekend. Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders will top the Democratic side of Michigan's presidential primary next month. On Friday, a handful of volunteers were busy making hand-made signs in the new Bernie Sanders campaign office in Flint on Friday.

Boil Water Advisory Lifted by City of Flint

No Bacteria Identified

FLINT, Mich. – With the Feb. 9 water main break repaired and successful back-to-back bacteria tests completed, the city of Flint lifted its boil water advisory today.

Affected residents no longer need to boil their filtered water because testing did not reveal any bacteria during or after the repair of the water main break. The boil water advisory was issued as a precautionary measure because the loss of pressure in the water distribution system can make the system vulnerable to bacterial contamination.

Previously installed water filters are still safe to use given the absence of bacteria, but residents are reminded to check their water filter indicator and replace the filter cartridge, if needed. Individuals should follow the water filter manufacturer replacement instructions.

Residents are reminded to continue use of filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning. Pregnant woman and children under 6 years of age should continue to drink only bottled water.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Michigan Department of Environmental Quality both encourage residents and businesses to flush their water for between two to five minutes through all taps every day. This will assist with flushing their individual pipes as well as rescaling the water system as a whole. This should be done first thing in the morning after the water system has been stagnant for several hours.

To prolong the life of their filter, this daily flushing should be done with the filter turned in the off position. Once the system has been flushed for two to five minutes, the filter should be turned back on for all cooking and drinking.

Residents are also reminded to clean the aerator on every household faucet every week.

Free water filter cartridges, water filters, bottled water and water testing kits are available at water resource sites that remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

310 East 5th St.

MORE

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.

3402 Western Road.

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Road.

202 East Atherton Road.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

A Medicaid Waiver Request to Assist in Addressing Health Impacts from Potential Lead Exposure in Flint, Michigan, Pursuant to Section 1115 of the Social Security Act

February 13, 2016

State of Michigan

Rick Snyder, Governor

Nick Lyon, Director
Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
201 Townsend Street
Lansing, MI 48913

I. Overview

The State of Michigan, through its Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS), hereby submits the following request for a waiver pursuant to Section 1115 of the Social Security Act. The purpose of this waiver request is to address potential lead exposure in the impacted areas of Flint, Michigan as further described herein.

This request has three aims: (1) to expand Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) eligibility for select individuals in the impacted area; (2), to coordinate comprehensive benefits and resources for these individuals through the provision of Targeted Case Management services; and (3) to provide a mechanism for expanded lead abatement activities in the impacted area. Although measures have been taken to address the public health issues brought about by this emergency, obtaining proper health care, case management and other assistance is necessary to minimize and further prevent any long-term adverse health effects associated with lead exposure.

II. Section 1115 Waiver Request

A. Expansion of Medicaid and CHIP Eligibility for Impacted Individuals

MDHHS proposes to suspend or alter existing eligibility requirements to provide Medicaid eligibility for select individuals who are served by the Flint water system or were served by the Flint water system. The requirements to be modified and the target population are described below.

1. Eligible Individuals: Eligible individuals include residents of Michigan who meet one of the following criteria:

    - Those individuals up to age 21 who are served by the Flint water system or were served by the Flint water system between April 2014 and the date on which the Flint water system is deemed safe by the appropriate authorities. This would include any children born to the pregnant women described below.
    - Those individuals who are served by the Flint water system and are pregnant between the date of approval of this waiver request and the date on which the Flint water system is deemed safe by the appropriate authorities.

2. Income and Asset Standards: An income standard of 400 percent FPL would be applied, using MAGI-based methodologies. No asset test would be applied. Individuals up to age 21 and pregnant women with household income above 400 percent FPL could buy in to unsubsidized coverage under the program.

3. Annual Renewals: MDHHS will use an electronic passive renewal process to redetermine the eligibility of those found eligible under this waiver. The renewals will occur at least once in each twelve month eligibility period. Income and residency will be verified. Those who are found ineligible through the electronic process will be given an opportunity to provide paper verification. In addition, any individual who has already been determined eligible for a Medicaid category and is served by or has been served by the Flint water system during the above mentioned period will maintain their current eligibility according to the rules described above. However, these individuals may be reevaluated using the modified standards if they lose their eligibility at any time before the Flint water system is deemed safe by the appropriate authorities.

4. Duration of Eligibility: Those determined eligible based on the above criteria will retain full Medicaid eligibility according the following schedule:

   - Pregnant Women: The duration of the pregnancy and during the two calendar months post-delivery.
   - All others: Until the age of 21.

5. Benefits

   Eligible beneficiaries described above will receive the full array of State Plan benefits. This includes the provision of Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic and Treatment Services (EPSDT) for children up to age 21, Non-Emergency Medical Transportation (NEMT) and Maternal Infant Health Program services.

6. Delivery System

   The State will utilize its existing delivery systems to provide Medicaid benefits to eligible individuals. Individuals will be enrolled in the Medicaid Health Plans, consistent with the State's approved §1915(b) waiver. Populations that are considered voluntary or exempt from enrollment into a Medicaid Health Plan (e.g., Native Americans, beneficiaries who have other Health Maintenance Organization or Preferred Provider Organization coverage, etc.), will remain a voluntary or exempt population from managed care under this demonstration.

   Behavioral health services and related specialty supports will also be provided to eligible individuals through the State's existing Prepaid Inpatient Health Plan system in accordance with the Medicaid State Plan and any relevant waiver authorities. The services provided under this demonstration will be coordinated with existing case management services as appropriate.

7. Cost-Sharing

   Michigan does not impose any cost sharing for individuals under 21 or pregnant women under the state plan. Cost-sharing for eligible individuals described above will be consistent with the Medicaid State Plan. Children under age 19 covered under MIChild (the state's title XXI-funded Medicaid expansion program, with income between 160 – 212% of the FPL) are charged a premium under the state plan. However, individuals subject to this waiver will be exempt from all premiums. Children who are currently eligible for the MIChild program and are served by or have been served by the Flint water system as described in Section II A will also be exempt from premiums for the duration of their eligibility.

B. Targeted Case Management

In addition to the benefits described above, the State plans to offer Targeted Case Management (TCM) Services to all children and pregnant women served by the Flint water system who have been determined eligible for Medicaid. For the purposes of this demonstration, TCM services are defined as services furnished to assist these individuals within the target population in gaining access to needed medical, social, educational, and other services. The State will provide face-to-face TCM services in a manner consistent with 42CFR 441.18 and 42 CFR 440.169 through a Designated Provider Organization (DPO), as defined below.

1. Target Population

   For the purposes of this demonstration, the target group includes all children who are newly eligible pursuant to Section II A, as well as all Medicaid eligible children (up to 21) served by the Flint water system.

2. Delivery System

   As noted above, the State will provide TCM services through DPOs. For the purposes of this demonstration, a DPO is any provider who has been approved by the State (in coordination with community leaders and stakeholders in the impacted area) and meets the following qualifications:

   - Is currently enrolled as a Michigan Medicaid Provider;
   - Can demonstrate the capacity to provide all core elements of TCM, including comprehensive assessment and care plan management, as well as linking, coordination and long-term monitoring of services;
   - Has a sufficient number of staff to meet the service needs of the target population and the administrative capacity to ensure the provision of quality services in accordance with State and Federal requirements;
   - Has experience in the coordination and linkage of community services; and
   - Has the willingness and capabilities to coordinate with the individual's Medicaid Health Plan, as applicable.

3. DPO Staff Qualifications

   The DPO will provide TCM services primarily through the use of a case manager. The case manager must meet one of the following criteria:

   - Licensure as a Registered Nurse by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs and at least one year of experience providing community health, pediatric or maternal of infant health nursing services; or
   - Licensure as a Social Worker by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs and at least one year of experience providing social work services to families.

   With active participation by the beneficiary, case managers will be required to provide comprehensive TCM services consistent with 42 CFR 440.169, which includes but is not limited to: performance of a comprehensive history, assessment, and reassessment of the individual; the development and ongoing management of an individualized plan of care, including identification of goals and actions; the provision of ongoing communication with the individual's primary care physician and health plan (as applicable); coordination of health care and related community support services, including physical and behavioral health-related services (i.e. Medicaid health plans and community mental health services programs), nutritional support and age appropriate referrals to Early On, Great Start Readiness Programs and Head Start; and referral to and assistance in obtaining additional social supports, including financial, housing and transportation assistance, and lead assessment and abatement resources.

C. Lead Abatement

The State also seeks enhancement and expansion of its current lead abatement program through the use of a designated state health program model. As part of this expansion, the State would provide abatement services to homes in the impacted area. Abatement services are defined as the removal of lead hazards, including:

- The permanent enclosure or encapsulation of lead based paint,
- The replacement of surfaces or fixtures, the removal or covering of soil lead hazards, and
- All preparation, cleanup, disposal, and post-abatement clearance testing activities associated with such measures.

Individuals performing abatement services must be properly certified by the state. MDHHS also requests funding to train individuals in lead abatement.

III. Goals and Objectives

Through the provision of direct health care services as part of expanded eligibility, and the inclusion of TCM services, along with the provision of lead abatement activities, the State expects to do the following:

- Identify and address any physical or behavioral health issues associated with actual or potential exposure to lead hazards.
- Mitigate lead hazards in the impacted area through the provision of expanded lead abatement activities, which will result in a reduction in the number of individuals experiencing potential lead exposure.

As part of this demonstration, the State will test the following hypotheses:

- Providing expanded eligibility under this waiver will allow for enrollees to have access to services to identify and address physical or behavioral health issues associated with lead exposure.
- Providing Targeted Case Management services will allow for enrollees to receive assistance in gaining access to needed medical, social, educational, and other service.
- Providing enhancement and expansion of the lead hazard removal program will reduce the potential for ongoing or re-exposure to lead hazards.

To test these hypotheses, the State will utilize the following evaluation measures:

- Utilization of services for waiver enrollees including but not limited to access to primary/preventive services, lead screening, well-child visits, behavioral health services.
- Utilization of TCM services including but not limited to the number of waiver enrollees served, types of referrals provided.
- Number of homes in the designated area in which lead hazard removal has occurred.

IV. Enrollment and Financial Information

The State anticipates approximately 15,000 individuals will be eligible for the group described in Section II A. In addition, approximately 30,000 individuals in the impacted area are currently enrolled in Medicaid.

V. Cost-Effectiveness and Budget Neutrality

The Medicaid Eligibility Group (MEG) and associated amounts listed in the table below in conjunction with the amount calculated in paragraph (B) constitute the budget neutrality limit for the target population.

MEG	DY 1 – PMPM	DY 2 – PMPM	DY 3 – PMPM	DY 4 – PMPM	DY 5 – PMPM
Target Population	$446.83	$449.35	$469.07	$484.60	$500.93

A. The PMPM amounts detailed in the table above represent estimated total computable costs for the full array of State Plan benefits and Targeted Case Management Services for the target population. If the state's experience of the take up rate and other factors that affect the costs of this population indicates that the PMPM limit above may underestimate the actual costs of State Plan benefits and Targeted Case Management Services for the target population, the state may submit a PMPM adjustment for CMS review and approval without submitting a formal waiver amendment.

B. In addition to the PMPM amounts above, the budget neutrality amounts will be increased to include the total computable costs of lead abatement services for the target population in the impacted area. These costs will be incurred in a manner which utilizes existing state administrative infrastructure and lead abatement programs. The non-federal share of these costs will be limited to resources appropriated by the state for the express purpose of lead abatement in the impacted area. Amounts associated with this paragraph will be reported to CMS on an annual basis for inclusion in the overall budget neutrality limit for the target population.

C. The State requests Title XXI funding be made available for the population made eligible by this waiver and all lead abatement activities described herein.

VI. Waivers and Expenditure Authorities

MDHHS seeks waiver of the following requirements of the Social Security Act:

- Eligibility §1902(e)(14) – To the extent necessary to eliminate the income and asset test and modify redetermination requirements for eligible individuals as described herein.
- Comparability §1902(a)(17) or § 1902(a)(10)(B) - To the extent necessary to provide the benefits described in this demonstration request to those individuals who meet the criteria described herein.
- Cost-Sharing §1902(a)(14) insofar as it incorporates Sections 1916 and 1916A, and § 2103(e) - To the extent necessary to waive premiums in the State's MIChild program for those individuals impacted by this demonstration.
- Freedom of Choice §1902(a)(23) - To the extent necessary to allow the State to limit those entities providing Targeted Case Management services under this demonstration.
- Statewideness §1902(a)(1) - To the extent necessary to allow the State to carry out the demonstration as described herein.
- Amount, Duration, and Scope of Services -Section 1902(a)(10)(b) - To the extent necessary to allow the State to provide a benefit package to the demonstration population that differs from the State Plan benefit package.

VII. Public Notice and Tribal Consultation Process

Given that this request is intended to address an emergency, as declared by the President on January 16, 2016, the State seeks an exemption from the public notice process pursuant to 42 CFR 431.416(g). However, the State does intend to seek input from the public as well as various stakeholders as part of the waiver development and implementation process, and has already issued some information through a press release as the State developed this proposal.

Given the expedient nature of this emergency request, the State also requests modification of the tribal consultation process. The State is submitting a letter to the Tribal Chairs and Health Directors in concert with the submission of this request, which will notify them of this proposal. MDHHS expects to schedule a conference call with the Tribal Chairs and Health Directors to discuss the waiver application, seek consultation and answer any questions.

VIII. Implementation Timeline

The State anticipates a phased approach to implementation upon approval of the demonstration.

The State also plans to engage in targeted outreach efforts to reach the individuals described in Section IIA as well as those in the impacted area who are currently eligible. This may include, but is not limited to, increasing the availability of application materials and related support services in the impacted area and providing State eligibility specialists in schools, health care facilities and other community locations to assist with the application process. The State also expects to pursue a streamlined application process for individuals who may be eligible under this demonstration.

IX. Expedited Renewal

Given the possible long-term risks from potential lead exposure, the State requests that upon expiration of the waiver, an expedited renewal process will be granted.

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 12, 2016
Release #: 36

INTERVIEW OPPORUNITY: Spec. Colwell will be available for interviews at Fire Station #1 located at 210 E. 5th St. from 1-4 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 12.

National Guard Soldier Distributing Water Saves Flint Resident's Life

FLINT, Mich. –While helping to hand out water to the citizens of Flint, a National Guard soldier helped save a Flint resident's life.

"This is why I joined the military, to help people," said Spec. Charles D. Colwell, a medic with the Headquarters Company of the 125th Infantry Battalion attached to Alpha Company from Detroit, Mich. He is one of 65 soldiers helping distribute water resources after Gov. Rick Snyder activated the National Guard to help with the Flint water emergency.

Because of his actions on Feb. 1, Spec. Colwell is being recommended for the Michigan Lifesaving Medal by his immediate supervisor.

While on duty at Fire Station #1 in downtown Flint, Pfc. Zacharry R. Burrell greeted the resident who was there to return recyclables. Noticing that she was short of breath and struggling for her inhaler, Burrell ascertained the resident was clearly having a medical condition and needed immediate assistance.

"She stood there for a minute and it kind of looked like she was looking for something in her bag and then she bent down and put her hands on her knees and began coughing uncontrollably and I saw she had an inhaler in her hand," said Burrell.

Burrell brought Spec. Colwell out to the woman, who immediately started assessing her condition. She had been walking with some women to the firehouse. They told Colwell the woman had used her inhaler twice and it was nearly empty. He determined she was also suffering from severe bronchitis, so he called 911.

It wasn't until the next day the other soldiers realized how much he had done when she came back to the firehouse to thank Colwell for saving her life.

Colwell who has been a medic with the Michigan National Guard for the last two years is also a trained emergency medical technician on the civilian side in the city of Detroit.

"I do this so much every day and everyone else is kind of blowing it up," explained a humble Colwell, who doesn't understand why the other soldiers he is working with thinks he deserves the Michigan Lifesaving Medal.

"I couldn't be more proud of him," said his squad leader, Sgt. Brandon M. Lewis. "That's why I put him in for the highest award that I could possibly recommend for him for doing that."

Colwell went beyond his normal duties while in Flint and his actions made what could have been a bad situation a positive one.

"If it wasn't for him, one of us might have misjudged the situation and just thought she was sick," said Lewis. "Not only did he immediately seek her out, but he did everything he could to make her comfortable and by the time the EMTs and paramedics got here he already had an assessment to hand over to them so they were a few steps ahead."

The 125th Infantry Battalion includes soldiers from different companies from around the state who have volunteered to assist the citizens of Flint during this time. They are stationed at water resource sites at the five fire stations, handing out water, water filters and water testing kits.

American Red Cross and United Way Play Crucial Role Coordinating Volunteer Efforts in Flint

FLINT, Mich. – Since early January, over 2,000 volunteers have volunteered their time to assist Flint residents during the water emergency. Volunteers are coordinated through the Volunteer Reception Center, operated jointly by the American Red Cross and United Way of Genesee County. These volunteers have performed numerous tasks throughout the community from delivering water resources door-to-door to assembling water test kits.

"We have had volunteers of all ages from all different backgrounds come forward to help," stated Sarah Lewan, community volunteer manager. "We have processed more than 200 groups of varying sizes, including corporate groups, social groups and concerned citizens."

Volunteers are utilized at a variety of community organizations to provide assistance with water distribution, warehousing, data entry and assembly of water test kits. The volunteers give whatever time they can, whether it is a couple of hours or availability for several days.

There are opportunities for additional groups and individuals to volunteer. To learn more or sign-up to volunteer, visit www.flintvolunteer.com.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the City of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Additional information about water response efforts is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way's 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

Outreach to Flint's Blind Community Helps Ensure Access to Information and Resources

Flint, Mich. – The Bureau of Services for Blind Persons (BSBP) is working to ensure Flint's blind community has access to all information and resources related to the Flint water emergency.

"We have made direct contact with all of the bureau's blind clients who live in Flint to ensure they have the resources they need and we will continue to provide assistance to any Flint resident who is blind or visually impaired," said BSBP Director Edward Rodgers.

Bureau staff contacted nearly 40 BSBP clients living in Flint by either home visit or phone to ensure they had access to all health-related water emergency information and to offer assistance in obtaining bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Information is available in braille by contacting the bureau. Flint residents who are blind or visually impaired and need further assistance or information should contact Sue Luzenski at the BSBP at Luzenskis@michigan.gov or 517-335-4265.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the City of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations. Additional information about water response efforts is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way's 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

For more information about the BSBP, visit www.michigan.gov/bsbp or call 1-800-292-4200, TTY 888-864-1212.

State Launches New Streamlined Services for Residents

New Testing Sites Help Confirm Water Quality

FLINT, Mich. – This week the Michigan Departments of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and Health and Human Services (MDHHS) initiated new initiatives to engage residents in a more in-depth level of data collection that will help confirm when Flint's drinking water is safe and provide a more streamlined level of post-testing services for resident health and wellness.

Starting today, 10 Sentinel Site teams consisting of representatives from the DEQ, along with licensed plumbers, will begin to visit 402 identified residential sites across the city to teach homeowners how to test their water in a scientifically accurate manner so they may submit regular samples to the state for testing.

Geographically dispersed across all nine wards, these sites will be established for ongoing lead and copper monitoring and will be resampled periodically to help determine when the drinking water advisory may be discontinued. This testing regimen calls for resampling every two weeks for an additional four, two-week cycle.

"These Sentinel Sites are an important step in helping us achieve a higher level of data analytics on the quality of the water," said Keith Creagh, Director of the DEQ. "The data collected will help us determine when and where corrosion control treatment has been effective."

Also launching today is a more streamlined system of addressing residences that test high for lead or copper in their water. This new process will provide residents with more efficient in-home follow-up for environmental and health wrap-around services.

"As soon as we see that a household's water level tests high for lead or copper, this new automatic protocol kicks in, beginning a series of measures to get people the health-related services they need faster," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the MDHHS. "While many of these residents have had outreach from county and state agencies since last fall, this new system creates a timeline and multi-agency organizational structure so that services can be provided in a more cohesive manner."

MORE

The new streamlined system of in-home follow-up visits not only allows for faster residential feedback, but also allows for multiple agencies to work with residents in a more coordinated manner. The process is as follows:

- Daily lab test results are posted publicly online at www.michigan.gov/flintwater
- Test results greater than 150 ppb are emailed to MDHHS
- All test results are emailed to the City of Flint, who then sends them to residents by U.S. Mail
- Within 48 hours, MDHHS coordinates a home health visit through the Genesee County Health Department to any resident whose lead test result was greater than 150 ppb. Home visit includes:
  - Health and wellness information
  - Off-site blood test referral
  - Assists with transportation support for appointments, as necessary
  - Provides additional bottled water, filters and water sample kits
- Within 48 hours, DEQ schedules a home water visit to any resident whose lead test result was greater than 150 ppb (100 ppb or greater, but less than 150 ppb residents are visited within seven days). Home visit includes:
  - Water testing and sampling information
  - Water sample collection
  - Inspection by the Flint Local 370 Plumbers Union (field verification of service line, aerator cleanout, filter check)
  - Provides additional bottled water, filters and water sample kits

Unlike lead, there is a safe level of copper. Everyone comes into contact with it every day and copper is essential for good health, but for homes with elevated copper levels, individuals are being instructed to use bottled water for drinking and cooking.

People's bodies require copper for normal functioning, and at different amounts depending on age, and whether a women is pregnant or breastfeeding. Ingesting high levels of copper can cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Additional information about the Flint water emergency is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way 211 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

DRINKING WATER WARNING

The City of Flint water system lost pressure and contamination may have occurred
BOIL YOUR FILTERED WATER BEFORE USING

Due to a drop in pressure in the City of Flint water supply, bacterial contamination may have occurred in the water system. Bacteria are generally not harmful and are common throughout our environment. Corrective measures are currently being undertaken to correct the situation.

What should I do?

AS A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE, DO NOT DRINK THE WATER WITHOUT BOILING IT FIRST. Bring all FILTERED water to a boil, let it boil for one minute, and let it cool before using, or use bottled water. If you are currently NOT using a filter to remove lead from drinking water, FLUSH your water for AT LEAST 7 minutes before collecting any to boil. Boiled FILTERED, boiled FLUSHED, or bottled water should be used for drinking, making ice, brushing teeth, washing dishes, and preparing food. Boiling kills bacteria and other organisms in the water. Continue using boiled or bottled water until further notice.

Due to the pressure loss, there may be trapped air and loose sediment in your water lines. The air and sediment may be removed by flushing you water system. DO NOT FLUSH YOUR SYSTEM THROUGH THE FILTER. The resulting air and sediment may affect the performance of your filter and the filter cartridge should be replaced.

What happened? What is being done?

These precautionary actions are being taken due to the loss of water pressure in the water distribution system caused by a water transmission main break on February 9, 2016. Whenever a water system loses pressure for any significant length of time, precautionary measures are recommended.

The City of Flint Water Department is working to get pressure restored, and water staff will be taking other remedial actions such as flushing and collecting bacteriological samples from around the system. The samples will be collected to determine that the water quality meets the state drinking water standards. We will inform you when tests show no bacteria and you no longer need to boil your water. We anticipate resolving the problem later today. This precautionary boil water notice shall remain in effect until results from the sampling verify the water is safe to drink. Customers will be advised when the boil water advisory has been lifted.

For more information, please contact The City of Flint Water Department at (810) 766-7202. General guidelines on ways to lessen the risk of infection by microbes are available from the EPA Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1(800) 426-4791.

Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly (for example, people in apartments, nursing homes, schools, and businesses). You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.

CERTIFICATION: WSSN: 2310

Boil Water Advisory
Frequently Asked Questions

1. Why do I have to boil my water?
A "Boil Water Advisory" has been issued by the City of Flint due to a drop in pressure in the City of Flint water supply. Due to this drop in pressure, bacterial contamination may have occurred in the water system.

Bacteria are not generally harmful and are common throughout our environment. Corrective measures are currently underway to remedy the situation.

2. Should I use bottled water?
Water from an alternative water source is the best option during a "Boil Water Advisory." When bottled water is available, it is a good alternative to boiling water.

3. What is the proper way to disinfect my water so it is safe to drink or prepare other drinks like baby bottles, drink mixes, tea, frozen juices, etc.?
The best method of treatment for those served by the City of Flint Water department is to first filter the water through an NSF-approved water filter. Then, the water must be boiled.

Boiling water kills harmful bacteria and parasites (freezing will not disinfect water). Bring water to a full rolling boil for at least 1 minute to kill most infectious organisms (germs).

For areas without power, disinfect tap water by adding 8 drops, about 1/8 teaspoon, of plain unscented household bleach to a gallon of water. Thoroughly mix the solution and allow the water to stand for 30 minutes.

4. Can I use my coffee maker, ice machine, water or soda dispenser?
Do not use if they are directly connected to your water supply. Use bottled water or water that has been boiled or disinfected for making coffee and ice.

Once you have been notified that the boil water advisory has been lifted, these devices should be cleaned, disinfected and flushed according to the operator's manual for the device.

5. Can I just use my filter instead of boiling water?
No. You must boil the water after you run it through the filter during the "Boil Water Advisory."

6. Can I use tap water to brush my teeth?
No. Do not use tap water to brush your teeth. Use bottled water or water that has been filtered and boiled or disinfected as you would for drinking.

7. How should I wash my hands during a boil water advisory?
Vigorous handwashing with soap and your tap water is safe for basic personal hygiene. However, if you are washing your hands to prepare food, you should use boiled (then cooled) water, disinfected or bottled water with handwashing soap.

8. Is potentially contaminated water safe for washing dishes or clothes?
Yes, if you thoroughly rinse hand washed dishes for a minute in a bleach solution (1 tablespoon bleach per gallon of filtered water). Allow dishes to completely air dry. Most household dishwashers don't reach the proper temperature to sanitize dishes. It is safe to wash clothes in tap water.

9. Is potentially contaminated water safe for bathing and shaving?
The water may be used for showering, baths, shaving and washing, if absolutely necessary, but don't swallow water or allow it to get in your eyes, nose or mouth. Children and disabled individuals should have their bath supervised to make sure water is not ingested. Minimize bathing time. Though the risk of illness is minimal, individuals who have recent surgical wounds, have compromised immune systems, or have a chronic illness may want to consider using bottled or boiled water for cleansing until the advisory is lifted.

10. How should I wash fruit, vegetables, and food preparation surfaces or make ice?
Wash fruit and vegetables with filtered and boiled (then cooled water) or bottled water or water sanitized with 8 drops (about 1/8 teaspoon) of unscented household bleach per gallon of filtered water. Also, use filtered and boiled water to wash surfaces where food is prepared. Ice should be made with filtered and boiled water, bottled water or disinfected water.

11. What do I do with food and drink prepared during the advisory?
Throw away uncooked food, beverages or ice cubes if made or prepared using tap water during the day of the advisory.

12. How does a "Boil Water Advisory" affect feeding my infant?
Mothers who are breastfeeding should continue to breastfeed their babies. Wash and sterilize all baby bottles and nipples before each use. If this is not possible, then single-serve, ready to feed bottles of formula must be used with a sterilized nipple. Always filter and boil water before mixing concentrated liquid or powdered formula. If unable to boil filtered water, water may be disinfected as described for drinking.

13. What if I have already consumed potentially contaminated water?
Even if someone has consumed potentially contaminated water before they were aware of the boil water advisory, the likelihood of becoming ill is low. Anyone experiencing symptoms such as diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, with or without fever, should contact their healthcare provider. Symptoms associated with waterborne illness are also associated with foodborne illness, or even the common cold.

14. What infectious organisms might be present in contaminated water?
Illnesses from contaminated water occur principally by ingesting water. The major organisms that produce illnesses are protozoa such as Giardia and Cryptosporidium, and bacteria, such as Shigella, E. coli, and viruses. These organisms primarily affect the gastrointestinal system, causing diarrhea, abdominal cramps, nausea, and vomiting with or without fever. Most of these illnesses are not usually serious or life-threatening except in the elderly, the very young or those with compromised immune systems.

15. Is potentially contaminated water safe for household pets?
The same precautions that are taken to protect humans should be applied to household pets. Fish and other animals living in water should not be exposed to potentially contaminated water. If the animal's water needs to be changed use filtered and boiled or bottled water.

16. What happens after the boil water advisory has ended?
You will be notified by the City of Flint when the boil water advisory has been lifted. Once the boil advisory has been lifted, you must change the cartridge in your water filter. The water filter can then be used with the new cartridge.

17. Where can I get additional information?

Residents Reminded of Boil Water Advisory
Water Filter Cartridges Should be Replaced After Advisory is Lifted

Free water filters, cartridges, bottled water, testing kits available at resource sites

FLINT, Mich. Flint residents are reminded to boil their water due to the drinking water warning issued by the city of Flint on Feb. 9. Until further notice, boiled filtered water or bottled water should be used for drinking, brushing teeth, washing dishes, preparing food and for pets.

The boil water advisory was issued in response to a water main break on Tuesday that caused a loss of pressure in the water distribution system. Whenever a water system loses pressure for a significant length of time, bacteria contamination can result. As a precautionary measure, residents are advised to boil their water to kill bacteria and other organisms in the water.

Once the City of Flint lifts the advisory, affected residents should be prepared to take a few precautions to ensure their water is safe for use.

First, residents should always flush their water system for at least five minutes after it has gone unused for several hours. For filtered pitchers, flush before filling the pitcher. Residents can prolong the life of their tap filter by turning the valve to the unfiltered setting before flushing, then switch back to the filtered setting before drinking or cooking.

Second, residents should replace the cartridge in their water filter after a boil advisory. Previously installed water filters will still be safe to use after the cartridge has been replaced, and residents should be sure to follow the water filter manufacturer replacement instructions.

For other tips, see the attachment, "Boil Water FAQs."

Free water filter cartridges, water filters, bottled water and water testing kits are available at water resource sites that remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a water bottle recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.

3402 Western Rd.

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.

202 East Atherton Rd.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

"That's a lot of kids to test," says Dr. Nicole Lurie of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. "Testing is underway. And there are lots of places in this city, whether it's your doctors office, or other sites where you can get tested in the next two months." The state says it's important to assume all kids who drank Flint water in the last two years were exposed to lead.

Governor Rick Snyder's office put out a written statement saying Shekter-Smith was "officially terminated" Friday. It does not list the exact reasons for her termination. Shekter-Smith apparently played a role in MDEQ misinterpreting federal rules that required treatment to prevent lead from leaching from old pipes.

Public officials, Williams said, should immediately give the city the financial resources it needs for new piping and infrastructure in homes. "What's going on in Flint is deplorable," he told members of the news media during a roundtable discussion at the union's Solidarity House headquarters in Detroit. "I still question why isn't the governor and the state Legislature acting quicker than what they did, and why have they continued not to act."

,Snyder defends office's handling of Legionnaires'
By David Eggert AP for Click on Detroit 02/05/16 3:55 PM
Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder is defending how his office responded to an email flagging a potential link between a surge in Legionnaires' disease and Flint's water. The Republican governor told The Associated Press Friday that an aide, Harvey Hollins, asked the Department of Environmental Quality to look into a local official's concerns further. He says the DEQ was skeptical of any link last March and "didn't bring it forward" again. Snyder says one reason he changed the agency's leadership is because he "wasn't getting the information that I should have."

Michigan GOP casts Obama admin as Flint villain
By Steve Benen, MSNBC 02/05/16 3:34 PM
Ted Cruz this week reflected on the water crisis in Flint, Michigan, which the Republican presidential hopeful blamed, at least in part, on the city having been governed "with one-party government control of far-left Democrats for decades." The fact that the crisis was created by Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder's (R) administration and his emergency manager in Flint – local Democratic officials had no decision-making authority – was a detail the Texas Republican appears to have missed.

Why cities like Flint transport water using pipes made with a poison
By Josh Hakala, Michigan Radio 02/05/16 1:30 PM
The Flint water crisis has attracted attention and outrage from all over the globe, but unfortunately, the city of Flint isn't the first to have its population affected by lead. Due to the age and condition of lead water lines, it's entirely possible that other cities around the country are currently suffering from elevated lead levels. The most recent large-scale example of lead poisoning was discovered in 2001 in Washington D.C.

What did Snyder know and when did he know it?
By Jack Lessenberry, Michigan Radio 02/05/16 12:27 PM [radio clip]
There's no question that some of the wilder criticism of Governor Snyder has gone too far. There's absolutely no evidence the governor, or anybody else, deliberately set out to poison the people of Flint as some sort of racist plot. Accusations of that sort are inexcusably irresponsible. However, there are legitimate questions about what he knew and when he knew it. And yesterday, new information surfaced proving that, at the very least, the governor's staff failed to properly inform him.

Sanders, Clinton call for federal rescue in Flint, Michigan
By Tony Dokoupil, MSNBC 02/05/16 12:01 PM
The leading candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination had harsh words for Michigan officials and a humane message for residents of Flint nearly two years after the predominately poor, black town began complaining of unusable tap water. "This is an emergency," said former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, lingering over the fate of Flint's most vulnerable population, its 9,000 children under the age of 6. "Every day that goes by," she said, to rising cheers from the audience, "is another lost day in a child's life."

By Kate Wells Michigan Radio 02/05/16 11:30 AM

A cursory look at the problems of municipal water infrastructure and aging buildings across the country indicates the potential dangers to be pervasive in cities and suburbs.

By Emily Lawler, MLIVE 02/05/16 2:37 PM

The House Energy and Commerce Committee announced it would hold a March hearing on the Flint water crisis, making it the third Congressional panel to examine the issue. "The situation in Flint, Michigan, is unacceptable at all levels and we still have a lot to learn. Fred Upton, R-Michigan, and Ranking Member U.S. Rep. Frank Pallone Jr., D-New Jersey.

By Ben Boychuk & Joel Mathis, Los Angeles Daily News 02/05/16 2:00 PM
U.S. Justice Department officials this week said the FBI and other federal criminal investigators would look into whether the water poisoning crisis in Flint, Mich., was the result of criminal wrongdoing. If Flint had been a prosperous city, would the water supply have been cleaned up sooner? Or is this just another case of incompetent government? Was Flint neglected because it's poor? Of course it was.

Obama Should Federalize the Michigan National Guard to Handle Flint Water Poisoning Crisis.
By Paul Abrams, Huffington Post 02/05/16 12:59 PM
Weeks after Rachel Maddow's reporting made the poisoning of Flint Michigan's children national news, months after the problem was a matter of local news, Michigan's Governor, Tea Partier Rick Snyder, has still done very little to stop, halt, prevent any further lead from assaulting the brains of Flint's children.

Gov. Rick Snyder the best thing you can do for Flint is resign — like today
By David A. Love, The Grio 02/05/16 12:58 PM
Now is the time for Michigan Governor Rick Snyder to show himself the door — like today. Because at this point, resignation is about the best scenario for Snyder and for the poisoned city of Flint. Contrary to what the governor has led the public to believe, there are new revelations that he knew a great deal about the Flint water crisis, and early on. In fact, emails show that Snyder knew about the increase in cases of Legionnaires' Disease and the link with the poisoned swill of the Flint River used for drinking water since March 2015.

Column: Flint could be our future if we don't change our ways
By Bill Mego, Naperville Sun in Chicago Tribune 02/05/16 12:22 PM
Unlike Flint, Mich., Naperville does not have a water crisis and is not currently threatened with one. What has happened in Flint over the last two years should, however, teach us something important. If you'll bear with me for a minute, I'll tell what I think it is. Once a premier manufacturing city, Flint's fortunes declined with the auto industry's. By 2011, the city was in receivership, under the control of an emergency manager. He approved a money-saving switch from their longtime water supplier, the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, to the not-yet-completed Karegnondi Water Authority. The Detroit department countered with an offer that would have saved Flint many millions, but it was rejected, apparently for political reasons.

Mark Ruffalo: Flint isn't an anomaly. We're heading toward a national water crisis.
By Mark Ruffalo, Washington Post 02/05/16 11:29 AM

For the past two years, the 100,000 residents of Flint, Mich., drank, cooked and bathed with lead-contaminated water. Rates of lead poisoning – which can impair brain development and cause other serious health ailments – among the area's children have skyrocketed, from 5 percent before the water turned bad to 16 percent today.

Michigan GOP Whitewashes Rick Snyder's Role In Flint Water Crisis
By Arthur Delaney, Huffington Post 02/05/16 1:15 PM
The Michigan Republican party would like you to know that Gov. Rick Snyder (R) has been busy trying to heal the city of Flint while the malevolent Obama administration has only stood in the way. That's the message of an infographic the state party started putting out on social media on Thursday. The light blue water droplets on the left represent actions Snyder has taken since October, when his administration admitted its own mistakes created a crisis in Flint, a city whose 100,000 residents still can't drink the water because of high lead levels. The dark blue droplets supposedly show unhelpful actions taken by the Obama administration, such as the refusal to declare a federal disaster area in the state (it declared an emergency instead).

Michigan Democratic Party urges Gov. Rick Snyder to resign over Flint crisis
By Khorri Atkinson, MSNBC 02/05/16 2:26 PM
On the heels of growing scrutiny over his handling of the unfolding water crisis in Flint, Michigan, which has exposed thousands of children to high contamination levels of lead, the Michigan Democratic Party has called on Gov. Rick Snyder to step down. The call for his resignation on Thursday came after liberal group Progress Michigan obtained an email through a public-records request that says the governor's office was long aware of the heath crisis. The email, the watchdog group said, reveals that Snyder's adviser Harvey Hollins knew about a possible connection between Flint's highly contaminated water supply and the surge in diagnosed cases of Legionnaires' disease in the area since last March. Still, the governor took 10 months to disclose the outbreak to the public.

Snyder's Flint task force is battling state departments
By Paul Egan, Detroit Free Press 02/05/16 1:27 PM
Many state departments are cooperating with Gov. Rick Snyder's task force investigating the lead contamination of Flint's drinking water, but getting needed information from certain departments is "like pulling teeth," a task force member said Friday. Dr. Lawrence Reynolds, a Flint pediatrician who was named to Snyder's Flint Water Task Force in October, did not specify which departments are cooperating with the work of the task force and which are not.

Towards Flint
By Rep. Chris Taylor, Huffington Post 02/05/16 11:42 AM
Our nation is watching in horror as the Flint water disaster unfolds, a completely avoidable, unnecessary public health crises that threatens an entire town and the health and welfare of its people. A Republican-controlled executive and legislative branch authorized unaccountable emergency managers to swoop in, take over municipalities, and engaging in "cost cutting" measures like switching Flint's drinking water source from Lake Huron to the Flint river, failing to treat the water for corrosive elements at an approximate cost of $100 a day. This failure resulted in the poisoning of a whole town.

House Democrats want Gov. Snyder to testify at new hearing on Flint water
By Roberto Acosta, MLIVE 02/05/16 3:12 PM
Three Congress members have invited Gov. Rick Snyder to testify before the House Democratic Steering & Policy Committee during a hearing next week on the Flint water crisis. The committee including co-chairs U.S. Rep. Rosa DeLauro, D-Conn. U.S. Rep. Donna F. Edwards, D-Md., and U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee, D-Flint Township, sent a letter to Snyder requesting his appearance at the 2 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 10 hearing.
Flint rapper Jon Connor writes about the disaster in his hometown

By Emily Fox, Michigan Radio 02/05/16 1:35 PM
Rapper Jon Connor says he's "Flint to the bone." He was born and raised in the city, but moved to California around two years ago after he was signed to Dr. Dre's music label: Aftermath. But Connor says his heart still remains in his hometown. Flint's water crisis drew Connor back home these past two weeks. He came home to check on his friends and family. He also took time to volunteer at the Food Bank of Eastern Michigan and the Boys and Girls Club in Flint. He also wrote a song while he was in town. It's called Fresh Water for Flint.

America does a terrible job tracking how many kids have lead poisoning
By Sarah Frostenson, VOX 02/05/16 12:00 PM
In the wake of Flint, Michigan's lead poisoning crisis, I've spent the past few weeks researching how widespread an issue elevated blood lead levels are in children. It hasn't been easy. We know that even low levels of lead in the blood can reduce IQ and affect the ability to pay attention. We know that lead can cause irreversible neurological damage. Some researchers even think it's associated with the mid-1990s spikes in teen crime. We know that lead is a problem — but it's nearly impossible to know how much lead exposure kids in a certain zip code, neighborhood, or census tract might come in contact with. If you're a parent who wants to know whether kids in your area are especially at risk for lead poisoning, I can tell you from my research that it won't be easy.

Gov. Snyder tells committee to stick to solutions, not blame
By WLNS News 6 02/05/16 12:08 PM
It's been just under 24 hours since e-mails released by Progress Michigan showed that officials from Governor Snyder's office knew about an outbreak of Legionnaires' disease months before the public did. Since then some Democrats have called on Governor Snyder to step down but so far he's not showing any signs of considering that. This morning the governor told the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee meeting in Flint that they need to stick to solutions instead of pointing fingers.

WATCH: Gov. Snyder spoke at meeting in Flint this morning
By Mark Brush, Michigan Radio 02/05/16 10:45 AM
Gov. Snyder spoke at a morning meeting of the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee. His remarks come after revelations that one of his top aides knew about an outbreak of Legionnaires' disease in Flint and its possible links to the Flint River, almost a year before Snyder says he found out about it. The aide was Harvey Hollins who Snyder just picked to lead the state's response team in Flint.

Michigan Officials Knew About Legionnaires' Disease Long Before Outbreak Reached Its Peak
By Zak Cheney-Rice, MIC 02/05/16
Ten people are dead in Flint, Michigan, because of a Legionnaires' disease outbreak that took hold after the city switched water sources in 2014. While we don't know for sure the outbreak started because of the water crisis there, we do know this: Officials in the administration of Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder knew about the surge long before he said they did, according to internal emails obtained by the liberal group Progress Michigan.

Water expert blames DEQ 'cover-up' for Flint crisis
By Melissa Nann Burke & Jim Lynch, Detroit News 02/05/16 9:50 AM
The engineering professor who helped uncover the contamination of Flint's water told Congress Wednesday that primary blame lies with a few state environmental officials who "misled" Michigan leaders and residents and tried to "cover up" proof of high lead levels. "One-hundred percent of responsibility lies with those employees at the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality. There's no question," Marc Edwards, a water expert at Virginia Tech University, told the U.S. House Committee on Oversight & Government Reform.

Democrats call for federal intervention in Flint
By Click on Detroit 02/05/16 8:17 AM
Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders say Michigan's government has responded inadequately to the lead contamination crisis in Flint, and the federal government should get involved. Clinton said in Thursday's presidential debate in New Hampshire that the federal government needs to hold Michigan responsible, while also finding ways to remedy the "terrible burden" that people in Flint are facing, such as helping to pay for health care costs.

Bernie and Hillary's tension-filled face-off: Wall Street, health care, Flint crisis and progressive cred highlight latest Democratic debate
By Ben Norton, SALON 02/05/16 1:06 AM
Sparks were flying Thursday night, as Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders went head-to-head for the first time in the Democratic presidential debate in New Hampshire.Sanders kicked off the debate lamenting that millions of Americans have given "up on the political process... because they understand the economy is rigged." Both candidates also expressed disgust at the poisoning of water in Flint, Michigan, with toxic levels of lead.

Rick Snyder's Office Was Warned Of Deadly Legionnaires Outbreak, Did Nothing
By Arthur Delaney, Huffington Post 02/04/16 8:50 PM
Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder (R) has said he didn't know about an uptick in deadly Legionnaires' disease around Flint until this year, but newly released emails show a Snyder aide had been warned last March. Snyder's office said the agency that has already accepted blame for much of the Flint water crisis dropped the ball on the Legionnaires' disease issue and nobody told the governor about it. The Michigan Democratic Party has now called on Snyder to resign.

For months Snyder admin knew about Legionnaires outbreak but didn't say anything
By Allie Gross, Metro Times 02/04/16 6:23 PM
New emails reveal that Gov. Rick Snyder's administration was aware of the uptick in Legionnaires' Disease in Flint — and it's potential connection to the Flint River — nearly a year before the public was informed about the outbreak. The emails, obtained by Progress Michigan, show that in March 2015 top Snyder aide Harvey Hollins received a number of emails from disgraced MDEQ spokesperson Brad Wurfel that discuss the outbreak of Legionnaires' Disease in Flint, and how it could be connected to the Flint River.

Gov. Rick Snyder 'incompetent,' 'morally bankrupt,' say D's following Legionnaire's revelations
By Emily Lawler, MLIVE 02/04/16 6:26 PM
Michigan Democrats are turning up calls for resignation and expressing indignation following a revelation that Gov. Rick Snyder's administration knew of a possible connection between an outbreak of Legionnaire's Disease and the Flint water source in March of 2015. Snyder first spoke publicly about Legionnaire's Disease on Jan. 13. State health officials said then that he'd learned about it only recently. But emails obtained by the Associated Press through liberal group Progress Michigan show that Snyder's office was aware of the Legionnaire's Disease outbreak last March. The state has not confirmed a link between the outbreak and the water.

Hillary Clinton's Bet on Flint
By Rebecca Leber, The New Republic 02/04/16
Ever since Flint's water crisis became a national story at the beginning of the year, Hillary Clinton has done everything in her power to own the issue in the Democratic primary, to Bernie Sanders's detriment. She released a statement on January 11 calling it "unconscionable" that the Michigan city had been using lead-contaminated tap water since 2014 while state and federal officials denied there was a problem. She went on Rachel Maddow's MSNBC show a few days later to declare, "This is infuriating to me. ... I care deeply about this issue."

Scientist says lead exposure in Flint comparable to post-war Iraq
By Ali Harb, The Arab American News 02/04/16 12:52 PM
A local scientist who studies birth defects linked to toxins caused by bombs said lead exposure in Flint children is comparable to the pollution in post-war Iraq. Dr. Mozhgan Savabieasfahani, an Ann Arbor-based researcher, praised Dr. Mona Hanna-Attisha for exposing the high levels of lead in the blood of Flint's children. Savabieasfahani won the Rachel Carson Prize, an international environmental award last year for her research on the impact of war on public health. She has been monitoring lead levels in the teeth and hair of Iraqi children who grew up in combat zones.

Schuette investigation into Flint to go back to 2006
By Jennifer Chambers, Detroit News 02/04/16 9:38 PM
Michigan Attorney General Bill Schuette says his office's independent investigation into the Flint water crisis will date back to at least 2006, include a team of more than 10 investigators and — he hopes — restore the public trust for the people of Flint. "Families feel completely betrayed about what happen. The situation is incredibly tragic. Many things went terribly wrong," Schuette told the editorial board and staff at The Detroit News on Thursday. "This is a step to the road back to regain trust."

All,

Please read the below emails. From the best I can determine, we (JIC Manager and SEOC-PIO) should no longer have to worry about reviewing or posting any of the required testing reports (water, blood level, school, or food establishment) to www.michigan.gov/flintwater. These reports are now all routing through the DNR/DEQ Emergency Command Center directly to authorized web posters.

Other documents that need to be posted to the website (fact sheets, videos, etc.) should be sent to Meegan Holland for posting. Meegan will forward to an authorized person for posting to the site.

Thanks,

Hi Shanon,

Ed and I had a discussion about this, along with Nicole, and determined that these reports are being posted to comply with overall directives in the EPA Order and therefore will be routed through the DEQ administrators for posting on the website. Nicole will, however, be sure to copy Meegan, JICManager, SEOCPIO, etc. when she sends the information to be posted so you will all be aware what reports are about to be posted on the website. She has also been tasked by Ed and Meegan to raise awareness about any red flags.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Hey, Shannon:

Yes, the EPA-required reports that had previously routed through the SEOC PIO will now be posted directly by Darlene, Eric and Trevor following review by the Emergency Command Center here in Lansing. I am copying Kerry Wieber in the ECC to see if she has an answer on the other specific reports you mention below. Kerry: Are these EPA-mandated documents? If not, I assume they will route through the SEOCPIO.

Thanks,

Hi Ed,

Thank you for sorting this out. Currently, the DEQ reports required by EPA are being sent to _____ for posting. With this new arrangement, will the reports be sent directly to the approved web posters (Darlene, Eric and Trevor)? It seems that would be more efficient.

Also, I think this is clear from your message, but we also have reports for school water testing, blood level testing, and food establishment assessments that are sent to MSP-SEOCPIO for posting on the web. These other reports would not be covered by this agreement and should be sent to Meegan for posting, correct?

Gov. Rick Snyder: Flint businesses can seek assistance through Small Business Administration disaster loans

SBA approved Snyder's Thursday request

LANSING, Mich. – The Small Business Administration today approved Gov. Rick Snyder's request for low-interest disaster loans for businesses in Genesee County and the city of Flint.

"Approval of economic injury disaster loans will help business owners and nonprofits in Flint recover from any damages as a result of the water crisis," Snyder said. "We will continue to seek resources from all levels of government to help the people of Flint and appreciate the SBA's partnership in our efforts."

The approval provides access to federal Economic Injury Disaster Loans, which are working capital loans to small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture and most private, non-profit organizations that meet their ordinary and necessary financial obligations that cannot be met as a direct result of the disaster. Business owners seeking these loans must apply by Nov. 7, 2016.

Repayment of disaster loans is tailored by the SBA to the borrower's financial capacity.

More information and criteria for SBA disaster loans is available atwww.sba.gov/disaster. Eligible Flint business owners can apply online via SBA's website at https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela.

MSP Assists with Flint Water Response Efforts

The MSP is actively involved in the state's ongoing response to the health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

On January 5, Governor Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County, making available all state resources to ensure Flint residents have access to safe water. As part of this effort, Governor Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC), which is overseen by the MSP Emergency Management & Homeland Security Division.

The SEOC continues to be activated and is responsible for coordinating response and recovery efforts by state, local and federal agencies. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in Michigan. The state's Joint Information Center (JIC) is also operational to help coordinate public information.

In addition to working in the activated emergency facilities, members of the MSP also helped distribute water resources to Flint residents, including many department members who volunteered their time during the Martin Luther King, Jr. Day holiday weekend.

For updates on the Flint water situation, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater. To find out how you can help, visit www.helpforflint.com.

Subject: DRAFT MSP weekly report

Hi Shanon and Sierra,

Below is a draft of the weekly report. I will be out tomorrow and Friday but wanted to compile a draft report. As always, please add anything I may have missed. Also, I know this is a busy time for the Governor's Office so I wanted to include the MCO RS graduation in the report so that it is on their radar. According to information Chelsea received from the Training Academy, the Governor is speaking at the graduation. I have not confirmed that for myself, so I did not include that in the write-up. And I don't know what time the Director is scheduled to give testimony on Feb. 23 so I did not include that info. I hope this is helpful. --Tiff

State outlines initiatives to determine safe drinking levels and to provide long-term assistance to Flint children

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 31, 2016
Release: #25

Flint, Mich. – Strategies to determine when Flint's water is safe to drink and to ensure that the city's children have access to comprehensive health care are key to the state's long-term solutions in the Flint water crisis.

Short-term, Gov. Rick Snyder is urging every Flint resident to get a water test kit.

"Almost 5,000 homes submitted water tests, but we want to encourage everyone to submit a water test. Please pick up a free water test kit at one of the Flint fire stations and return the sample to the same location," Snyder said. "We want to ensure that all homes are getting the proper immediate attention and the home water tests will help in that process. If you need assistance, please call United Way 2-1-1 for help."

In addition to the federal emergency declaration, which was granted on Jan. 16, Snyder has requested more federal help for Flint: "While the USDA denied my request to expand WIC nutrition support for Flint children ages 5-10, I'm asking that agency to reconsider. I'm also encouraging the federal government to grant my requests to extend Medicaid eligibility to all Flint residents ages 21 and under, provide long-term health care services for children and help with lead abatement."

On Friday, Snyder signed legislation that will allocate $28 million for more water resources and expanded health care initiatives, including more school nurses, diagnostic tests and community education through the Genesee County Health Department. He also plans to include additional long-term aid for Flint in his FY 2017 budget proposal to be unveiled early this month.

Here's what key Michigan departments are doing to help with the Flint water emergency:

Michigan Department of Environmental Quality

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) has embarked on a five-part strategy to establish a baseline of data to determine when the water is safe to drink.

The strategy includes:

•Residential water testing: At-home water testing done by residents is key in guiding experts to areas of concern.

To date, of 4,924 total residential water samples, tests show that 93.7 percent of homes are below the actionable level of 15 parts per billion (ppb) for lead:

4,616 samples at 15 ppb or less for lead (93.7%);
4,179 samples at 5 ppb or less for lead (84.9%);
308 samples over 15 ppb for lead (6.3%);
37 samples over 150 ppb for lead (0.75%); and
26 samples over 1,300 ppb for copper (0.5%).

Water samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams. To process these samples as efficiently as possible, the Michigan Department DEQ lab is operating seven days per week and is capable of processing 1,000 tests per day. Residents can access these reports online at www.mi.gov/FlintWater. Results are mailed to each residence tested.

•School testing: Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools in the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. The state will retest the public schools once it has completed replacing water fixtures. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School, which will be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

•Food service/restaurant provider testing: Michigan DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, flushing water systems properly and using the correct food and water standards.

•Blood level testing: Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood lead levels have their water tested for lead. Homes with high water lead levels are provided additional services by MDHHS and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure residents' exposure to lead is minimized.

•Flint water distribution system testing: Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system. Additionally, sentinel sites are being established to set a baseline for data collection.

Michigan DEQ is working with the EPA on trend analysis and data sets that will be reviewed by the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee, which includes water quality experts to help local, state and federal officials provide a consensus conclusion on water quality and safety.

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services

In response to the elevated blood lead levels found in some Flint children, the MDHHS has worked closely with partners at the state and local level to reach and educate families and providers about what they can do to help protect the health of Flint residents.

These actions include funding to Genesee County Health Department for nurses to work with families when an elevated blood lead level has been detected. During follow-up visits, nurses coordinate with environmental health investigators to meet with families in their homes to identify lead exposures, answer questions and provide water filters.

As part of the effort to test Flint residents, the following data includes all children and adults tested since Oct. 1, 2015:

•67 of 3,351 Flint residents tested showed an elevated blood lead level;
•38 of 1,505 children under the age of 6 showed an elevated blood lead level;
•Seven of 963 children between 6 and 17 years of age showed an elevated blood lead level; and
•22 of 883 adults over the age of 18 showed an elevated blood lead level.

Because lead stays in the blood for only a few weeks after exposure, these numbers do not provide a comprehensive picture of how many people may have been exposed. MDHHS continues to focus on ensuring that all children in Flint have access to additional behavioral, educational, nutritional and healthcare supports, as well as encouraging every resident to get tested for elevated blood lead levels.

Emergency Management Response

Today, water response teams comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers continued door-to-door delivery efforts. These teams are canvassing neighborhoods providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits to City of Flint water system consumers not yet identified as having a water filter. These door-to-door efforts also include the 266 homes outside of the city limits on the municipal water system.

Additionally, homebound residents who need supplies should call United Way 2-1-1 or 810-257-3600. The United Way 2-1-1 is collecting a list of individuals needing home delivery and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

•100,593 water filters
•32,093 water testing kits

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and can be found at the five city fire stations. For locations, go to www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

Due to an overwhelming response from individuals who want to donate, please direct inquiries to FlintDonations@michigan.gov or 517-420-4162. You can also donate online at www.helpforflint.com.

Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, or by calling United Way 211.

Subject: DRAFT MSP weekly report

Hi Shanon and Sierra,

Below is a draft of the weekly report. I will be out tomorrow and Friday but wanted to compile a draft report. As always, please add anything I may have missed. Also, I know this is a busy time for the Governor's Office so I wanted to include the MCO RS graduation in the report so that it is on their radar. According to information Chelsea received from the Training Academy, the Governor is speaking at the graduation. I have not confirmed that for myself, so I did not include that in the write-up. And I don't know what time the Director is scheduled to give testimony on Feb. 23 so I did not include that info. I hope this is helpful. --Tiff

State Encourages Food Establishments to take Advantage of Free Water Safety Inspections

Local and State Leaders Showcase Water Assessments Done at Flint Food Establishments

Flint, Mich. – In an effort to support Flint food-based businesses, Lt. Gov. Brian Calley, along with local and state food regulators and business development officials, provided a behind-the-scenes look at how the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) and Genesee County Health Department are working with local food establishments to conduct water assessments and ensure food safety precautions are in place.

"Flint has hundreds of restaurants, retail food markets and food processors committed to serving its residents safely," Calley said. "These establishments can now receive free assessments from MDARD and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure food safety precautions are in place."

"In response to this emergency and the need to assess lead levels in water being used at Flint food establishments, MDARD has mobilized 14 food inspectors, working full-time to conduct risk-based compliance assessments and verify adherence to current water source requirements," said MDARD Director Jamie Clover Adams. "MDARD inspectors are assisting the Genesee County Health Department in conducting the sampling and inspections, allowing the health department to focus its efforts on checking other priority facilities in its jurisdiction, including childcare facilities."

Food establishments must take extra precautions to protect food safety during the Flint water emergency. These precautions include having the water tested by an accredited laboratory to prove it is safe to use; installing approved water filters, as needed; flushing unfiltered faucets and hard-plumbed equipment on a daily basis; or using commercially bottled water for all cooking, cleaning/washing and drinking.

"Flint's restaurants and other food establishments are demonstrating they are taking the necessary precautions to reduce potential food safety risks associated with Flint water," said Mark Valacak, Health Officer, Genesee County Health Department. "Safe food preparation and handling is the cornerstone of any food business's success, and we are dedicated to working cooperatively with MDARD and the food service establishments we regulate to ensure the safety of our food supply."

The State of Michigan is covering the cost of water sample testing for food establishments on the City of Flint water supply.

"The restaurants, bars, cafes and other food businesses, like the Flint Farmers' Market, in Flint are the backbone of the city's culture and economic success, and help define who we are as a community," said George Wilkinson, Group Vice President, Flint & Genesee Chamber of Commerce. "Whether a relative new-comer or a well-established dining institution, we need to do whatever we can to support Flint food businesses and ensure their success."

Flint has a total of 633 licensed food businesses, including restaurants, food processors and retail grocery stores. Assessments have been prioritized according to risk, with those in known high-lead areas taking first priority, and by request from food establishments. Food businesses who have not yet had an assessment or free water sample testing can call MDARD's Call Center at 800-292-3939 to schedule an appointment.

As of Feb. 4, MDARD has completed approximately 225 initial assessments of food businesses and has begun doing follow-up assessments. If the businesses are taking the required precautions, they are determined to be in compliance with state and federal food regulations. A list of food businesses determined to be in compliance with current water use regulations is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater. The list is updated regularly.

Flint food businesses not included on the list are not necessarily out of compliance with Michigan food regulations. Some businesses have not yet received a compliance assessment from food inspectors.

Initial water samples taken at the facilities were "first-draw" samples, taken when the water had not been in use for at least six hours. If first-draw samples showed any lead levels, follow-up samples are being taken. MDARD will continue to work with businesses to make sure they are in compliance with water use requirements and assist them in getting water test sample results below detectable levels.

For more information, or to schedule a food establishment water assessment, contact MDARD at 800-292-3939.

DEQ and EPA Continue Interagency Cooperation Discussions on Flint Water

FLINT, Mich. – Michigan Department of Environmental Quality Director Keith Creagh met today with Interim Regional Administrator Robert Kaplan from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as part of ongoing interagency cooperation to address the Flint water crisis. The EPA and DEQ have met regularly since a state of emergency was declared in Flint in early January.

"These conversations with the EPA are a critical part of our shared response to the emergency in Flint," said Creagh. "We know that moving forward will require all levels of government – along with partners in the business and nonprofit communities and the community of Flint – to work together with the sense of urgency this crisis demands."

Creagh and the EPA regional administrator have weekly phone calls. In addition, program staff from the DEQ and EPA remain in daily contact to coordinate response. At today's meeting, Creagh and Kaplan along with technical staff from both agencies discussed working together to maximize the data that is being collected to make sure the agencies are closely aligned in their work.

The DEQ is also working in conjunction with the EPA to plan and review the 200 sentinel test sites, enabling both entities to capture the information needed across the entire spectrum of data so we have a better overall analysis of the distribution system.

"We want to have systems and structures in place that will lead us to better conclusions for the people of Flint," Creagh said. "We appreciate the partnership with EPA and other government and non-government agencies."

The discussion included a five-part strategy the DEQ implemented to establish a baseline of data to determine when the water in Flint is safe to drink.

MORE

The strategy includes:

- Residential water testing: At-home water testing done by residents is key in guiding experts to areas of concern.

- School testing: Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools in the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. The state will retest the public schools once it has completed replacing water fixtures. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School, which will be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

- Food service/restaurant provider testing: Michigan DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, flushing water systems properly and using the correct food and water standards.

- Blood level testing: Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood lead levels have their water tested for lead. Homes with high water lead levels are provided additional services by MDHHS and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure residents' exposure to lead is minimized.

- Flint water distribution system testing: Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system. Additionally, sentinel sites are being established to set a baseline for data collection. Sentinel sites are homes that will be used as representative samples to determine the effectiveness of corrosion controls in reducing lead levels.

"Our ongoing conversations with the EPA will help us solidify this plan so we can have confidence in the outcomes," Creagh said.

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and can be found at the five city fire stations. For locations, go to www.michigan.gov/flintwater. Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, or by calling United Way 211.

State outlines initiatives to determine safe drinking levels and to provide long-term assistance to Flint children

Flint, Mich. – Strategies to determine when Flint's water is safe to drink and to ensure that the city's children have access to comprehensive health care are key to the state's long-term solutions in the Flint water crisis.

Short-term, Gov. Rick Snyder is urging every Flint resident to get a water test kit.

"Almost 5,000 homes submitted water tests, but we want to encourage everyone to submit a water test. Please pick up a free water test kit at one of the Flint fire stations and return the sample to the same location," Snyder said. "We want to ensure that all homes are getting the proper immediate attention and the home water tests will help in that process. If you need assistance, please call United Way 2-1-1 for help."

In addition to the federal emergency declaration, which was granted on Jan. 16, Snyder has requested more federal help for Flint: "While the USDA denied my request to expand WIC nutrition support for Flint children ages 5-10, I'm asking that agency to reconsider. I'm also encouraging the federal government to grant my requests to extend Medicaid eligibility to all Flint residents ages 21 and under, provide long-term health care services for children and help with lead abatement."

On Friday, Snyder signed legislation that will allocate $28 million for more water resources and expanded health care initiatives, including more school nurses, diagnostic tests and community education through the Genesee County Health Department. He also plans to include additional long-term aid for Flint in his FY 2017 budget proposal to be unveiled early this month.

Here's what key Michigan departments are doing to help with the Flint water emergency:

Michigan Department of Environmental Quality
The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) has embarked on a five-part strategy to establish a baseline of data to determine when the water is safe to drink.

The strategy includes:

- Residential water testing: At-home water testing done by residents is key in guiding experts to areas of concern.

MORE

To date, of 4,924 total residential water samples, tests show that 93.7 percent of homes are below the actionable level of 15 parts per billion (ppb) for lead:

- 4,616 samples at 15 ppb or less for lead (93.7%);
- 4,179 samples at 5 ppb or less for lead (84.9%);
- 308 samples over 15 ppb for lead (6.3%);
- 37 samples over 150 ppb for lead (0.75%); and
- 26 samples over 1,300 ppb for copper (0.5%).

Water samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams. To process these samples as efficiently as possible, the Michigan Department DEQ lab is operating seven days per week and is capable of processing 1,000 tests per day. Residents can access these reports online at www.mi.gov/FlintWater. Results are mailed to each residence tested.

- School testing: Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools in the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. The state will retest the public schools once it has completed replacing water fixtures. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School, which will be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

- Food service/restaurant provider testing: Michigan DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, flushing water systems properly and using the correct food and water standards.

- Blood level testing: Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood lead levels have their water tested for lead. Homes with high water lead levels are provided additional services by MDHHS and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure residents' exposure to lead is minimized.

- Flint water distribution system testing: Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system. Additionally, sentinel sites are being established to set a baseline for data collection.

Michigan DEQ is working with the EPA on trend analysis and data sets that will be reviewed by the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee, which includes water quality experts to help local, state and federal officials provide a consensus conclusion on water quality and safety.

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
In response to the elevated blood lead levels found in some Flint children, the MDHHS has worked closely with partners at the state and local level to reach and educate families and providers about what they can do to help protect the health of Flint residents.

These actions include funding to Genesee County Health Department for nurses to work with families when an elevated blood lead level has been detected. During follow-up visits, nurses coordinate with environmental health investigators to meet with families in their homes to identify lead exposures, answer questions and provide water filters.

MORE

As part of the effort to test Flint residents, the following data includes all children and adults tested since Oct. 1, 2015:

- 67 of 3,351 Flint residents tested showed an elevated blood lead level;
- 38 of 1,505 children under the age of 6 showed an elevated blood lead level;
- Seven of 963 children between 6 and 17 years of age showed an elevated blood lead level; and
- 22 of 883 adults over the age of 18 showed an elevated blood lead level.

Because lead stays in the blood for only a few weeks after exposure, these numbers do not provide a comprehensive picture of how many people may have been exposed. MDHHS continues to focus on ensuring that all children in Flint have access to additional behavioral, educational, nutritional and healthcare supports, as well as encouraging every resident to get tested for elevated blood lead levels.

Emergency Management Response
Today, water response teams comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers continued door-to-door delivery efforts. These teams are canvassing neighborhoods providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits to City of Flint water system consumers not yet identified as having a water filter. These door-to-door efforts also include the 266 homes outside of the city limits on the municipal water system.

Additionally, homebound residents who need supplies should call United Way 2-1-1 or 810-257-3600. The United Way 2-1-1 is collecting a list of individuals needing home delivery and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- 234,490 cases of water
- 100,593 water filters
- 32,093 water testing kits

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and can be found at the five city fire stations. For locations, go to www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

Plan Advanced by State to Monitor Skin Conditions in Flint

FLINT, Mich. – Health officials in Michigan are moving forward on the investigation of rashes possibly associated with Flint water.

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) is developing a plan to better understand rashes that are being reported by members of the public. In recent weeks, MDHHS and the United Way 211 Information Line have received some calls with questions or concerns about rashes possibly associated with Flint water. While rashes are very common in the general population and there are numerous known causes, an important public health function involves being able to identify and rapidly respond to new causes of illness as they emerge.

MDHHS has been actively monitoring trends in rash illnesses to emergency departments in Genesee County and has not seen evidence of increases compared with prior years. However, in an effort to proactively respond to reported rashes, MDHHS is developing a plan to conduct structured interviews with members of the public who report current rashes that may be related to exposure to Flint water in their homes. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (CDC/ATSDR), and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) are providing technical assistance to MDHHS in this effort.

"Flint residents are understandably worried about the effects of skin exposure to water in their homes, and it's absolutely necessary we follow up directly on their concerns," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the MDHHS. "While the science currently tells us children and adults can bathe in the water, we are committed to identifying any potential health risks so we can provide information to and protect families in Flint."

MDHHS will begin asking health care providers to report cases of current rash possibly associated with Flint water exposure. These individuals will be contacted and interviewed by MDHHS personnel, and investigations will also involve testing home water samples of those with active rashes. This testing will be different from other routine water sampling and testing being conducted by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality or the EPA throughout Flint as it will focus on testing for concentrations of metals and other water quality factors that may be associated with the reported rashes.

MORE

While finalizing plans and materials for this investigation, MDHHS is already actively responding to these rash reports. Last week, Flint residents who recently reported rashes were interviewed at their homes by a team from MDHHS and water samples were collected for analysis. While it is too early in the investigation to draw any conclusions about how many people might be experiencing rashes or what might be causing them, MDHHS is responding with urgency to these reported health complaints with assistance from federal partners.

Members of the public who have concerns about rashes are encouraged to visit their primary care physician. Information reported by health care providers is an important part of creating a better understanding of the characteristics of these rashes. Individuals with questions may also call United Way 211 to be connected with health information specialists to answer their specific concerns.

For additional information related to the response in Flint, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

Edible Flint Works to Address Water Emergency through Urban Gardening

Urban Agriculture Organization Makes a Positive Impact in Flint Communities

Flint, Mich. – Since 2009, Edible Flint has been working with individuals and institutional partners to support Flint residents in growing and accessing healthy food in order to reconnect with the land and each other. As a part of their continuing outreach to Flint's residents, Edible Flint is gearing up to ensure a bumper crop of lead fighting vegetables and address concerns over urban gardening in Flint.

Edible Flint supports more than 300 community and individual gardens in the city through its Garden Starters program. This program provides gardening classes, technical expertise, resources and supplies. In response to the recent Flint water emergency, the organization has plans to expand their programs as they prepare for the upcoming gardening season.

Not only are they looking to support additional food gardeners through their Garden Starters program, they are currently reviewing the selection of seeds and transplants being distributed this year to ensure vegetables that fight lead exposure are included. In addition, Edible Flint, which tests approximately 50 new gardens each year, will be increasing the number soil tests (including lead screening) for Flint's food gardens. They also intend to provide hose filters for garden irrigation for program participants.

"Edible Flint is committed to supporting Flint residents by providing access to resources to grow nutritious fresh food," said Terry McLean, Michigan State University Extension (MSUE) Educator, and Edible Flint Leadership Board Member. "Through our urban gardening program we hope to provide a catalyst for recovery and community engagement."

McLean added, Edible Flint has been working with MSUE partners to reassure gardeners of the safety of eating and growing vegetables grown in Flint's community gardens.

For more information on Edible Flint, visit http://www.edibleflint.org.

Kyle, Tiffany and Sierra-

Thanks again for helping in the SEOC. Here are the duties as I know them:

  - Check the Resource Management/Task list and make sure there is nothing for the SEOC-PIO or JIC to work on
- Log into Outlook
  - Check to see what emails need to be responded to
  - Keep an email that needs to be followed up on
  - Delete or save into the cabinet folder any emails that have been completed
  - This has to be done through-out the day
- Attend 8:30am meeting in conference room
- Attend 9:30am meeting in SEOC (stay at your desk)
- Attend 4:00pm meeting in the SEOC (stay at your desk)
- Any press releases from JIC must be approved by the state director
  - Print the press release and review it yourself
    - Mark any changes you feel it needs, initial hard copy
  - Complete a "Message Form" tracking sheet (copies in yellow folder on desk)
    - Staple two together
  - Submit message form and hard copy press release to SEOC Ops Chief
    - Once they review they initial and approve
  - Submit message form and hard copy press release to state director
    - Once they review they initial and approve
  - You then notify JIC if it's been approved or if changes are needed
  - Copies of approved message form and hard copy of press release are saved in yellow folder on the desk

That's all I can think of at the moment

Have fun!

Hi Shanon,

News release #16 has been sent to the distribution list and it has been sent out via Twitter.

Over all I think we were able to accomplish necessary JIC tasks from the SEOC this weekend. If we are to do this next weekend, I have been reminded that the SEOC will be moving to the GOB Friday night. So whoever reports to the SEOC representing the JIC will need to go to the GOB. Also for your awareness, if the JIC were to come to Lansing, there is concern if the space will be ready.

With working out of the SEOC, I can see why getting the data has been difficult. We have our data that the State is collecting and we also have data from the Red Cross. Red Cross was using paper documentation and then later updating it digitally. More iPads have been provided to the Red Cross to hopefully move this process along. In addition, the warehouse is sometimes not reporting their daily inventory on time at 6 p.m. due to late shipments, stocking, etc.

As for my tasks that we went over this morning, here are the updates.

-Review 211 report: The 211 report was not distributed on Saturday or Sunday. This weekend's activity will be included in the report that will be sent on Monday.

- Sit rep accomplishments: submitted

- Social media content: Tweeted out content from last nights news release.

- Update internal talking points: talking points have been updated to include data from news release 15 and outdated information has been removed. I also took out the 37,000+ homes have been visited as it has been determined that this number is irrelevant because it include duplicates. The hours for the Red Cross Volunteer Reception Center has been highlighted because we'r waiting for confirmation on their hours of operation.

- Update general talking points: talking points have been updated to include data from news release 15 and outdated information has been removed. I also took out the 37,000+ homes have been visited as it has been determined that this number is irrelevant because it include duplicates.

- Media monitoring report: a report was submitted.

- Create SEOC PIO/JIC procedures: procedures have been created for the role of SEOC PIO/JIC Rep. (Attached to email).

On Monday, I have been told that GIS is going to meet to discuss how they can meet our need to know exactly how many homes have been visited or the resident visited a water resource site. I would follow up with GIS or Amanda to check on the status some point on Monday. The GIS reps that I spoke with are Nikki and Matt.

Also on Monday, the SEOC logistics chief will need the numbers on the back of of the employee access card for Kari Arend and Frank Provenzano for access. Ron was looped into the email but I wanted you to know that this has been tasked for Monday.

A task that is outstanding is to upload the Chinese flyer version. File is in JIC Manager email. There has been some discussion about the format.

Release #: 22

State Using Technology to Identify Lead Pipes and Track Water Resource Distribution in Flint

Flint, Mich. – In an effort to help identify the location of lead pipes and other components of Flint's water infrastructure, GIS experts from the City of Flint, State of Michigan, the University of Michigan – Flint, and FEMA have translated hundreds of hand-drawn plat maps from the 1980s and hand-written notes on thousands of cards about updates to home plumbing systems into digitized maps. These maps are helping with the response and determine where safe water is needed.

"Mapping infrastructure to this depth of detail is highly unusual," said Capt. Chris A. Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "Since most of the water system infrastructure is underground, we can't just walk out and survey it, so GIS mapping is a critical component of the state's coordinated response."

Once the maps are in digital format, they are synched with 2015 parcel data. The maps can then be overlaid with Census information and infrastructure information, allowing analysts to pinpoint which homes have lead service lines.

"The state is making progress in organizing, cataloging, and converting water service line information from paper to searchable databases and digitized maps," said Scott Bailey, a GIS data analyst with FEMA helping with the mapping project. "This is going to be a success story because prior to this event, this type of information was not available in a GIS environment."

The GIS systems have already assisted response teams as they go door to door to deliver water supplies to residents. Each team is armed with an iPad that feeds information into the GIS system. The online application uploads home data in real time, noting whether there are children in the household and which ones have been provided with bottled water, a water test kit, a water filter and replacement cartridges. The information has also helped identify the number of inhabited homes in a city affected by blight. Old data may show a street full of residents, when some houses are actually vacant.

For more information the GIS project, contact James Tchorzynski, at 517-230-5568. Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling 211 or 844-875-9211, or visiting www.helpforflint.com

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 28, 2016
Release #: 21

Water Resource Sites Open Daily from 9 a.m. – 9 p.m.

Audio Available from Governor Snyder's Tele-Town Hall

Flint, Mich. – As efforts continue to ensure Flint residents have safe drinking water, Governor Snyder last night held a live tele-town hall where he and other state officials fielded questions from residents on the state's actions. A recording of the conversation can be heard here.

One of the most visible aspects of the response continues to be the distribution of bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits by National Guard members at five of the city's fire stations.

As part of the distribution process, residents seeking water filters and replacement cartridges are asked to share their address. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time to assist with long-term recovery and help water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts. It is important to note that no resident will be denied resources if an address is not provided, and a photo identification is not required.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- 207,055 cases of water
- 97,342 water filters
- 30,801 water testing kits

Water response teams also continued door-to-door delivery efforts. Today, 125 American Red Cross and other volunteers visited 1,768 homes providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Earlier this afternoon, a coalition of public-private partners announced Flint's coordinated recycling program for empty water bottles and used water filter cartridges. Residents can learn more here.

MORE

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a water bottle recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.

Fire Station #5 (also a water bottle recycling site)
3402 Western Rd.

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Rd.

202 East Atherton Rd.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Hi Jim,

I tried calling back but I must have written your number down wrong. I had it at 313-222-2034 but it was a dead number. At any rate, I talked with Civil Service and learned that the investigation of the two DEQ employees is being conducted under the authority of the DEQ director as the appointing authority. DEQ has requested special assistance to thoroughly investigate DEQ actions regarding the Flint water crisis. The assistance will be provided by an experienced internal investigator from the Michigan State Police. This is not a criminal investigation. It's difficult at this time to say how long it will take to complete the investigation, but it is now underway.

Hope this helps.

Shanon,

For your awareness, Jonathan Oosting with the Detroit News called yesterday to ask if we could confirm if MSP escorted any of the suspended DEQ employees off state property. I checked with D/F/Lt. Furlong, F/Lt. Thomas and F/Lt. Boucher and both did not have any record of the escort. Our response to the Detroit news was: "To our knowledge we are not aware of any MSP personnel escorting DEQ staff."

Hi Colonel,

Attached please find the talking points we have prepared for you for Monday. Please note we will need to update these tomorrow evening so you will have the most updated activity numbers(homes visited, etc.) for Monday morning.

I have prepared these so that the first two pages would be your remarks. The rest of the information is for your background and in case you are asked any questions. If you want to cover more material, please let me know, but I figure with the Governor and Mayor there, it was best to keep your remarks brief.

Let me know if you have questions or would like additional information.
Thanks,

Hi Shanon,

News release #16 has been sent to the distribution list and it has been sent out via Twitter.

Over all I think we were able to accomplish necessary JIC tasks from the SEOC this weekend. If we are to do this next weekend, I have been reminded that the SEOC will be moving to the GOB Friday night. So whoever reports to the SEOC representing the JIC will need to go to the GOB. Also for your awareness, if the JIC were to come to Lansing, there is concern if the space will be ready.

With working out of the SEOC, I can see why getting the data has been difficult. We have our data that the State is collecting and we also have data from the Red Cross. Red Cross was using paper documentation and then later updating it digitally. More iPads have been provided to the Red Cross to hopefully move this process along. In addition, the warehouse is sometimes not reporting their daily inventory on time at 6 p.m. due to late shipments, stocking, etc.

As for my tasks that we went over this morning, here are the updates.

-Review 211 report: The 211 report was not distributed on Saturday or Sunday. This weekend's activity will be included in the report that will be sent on Monday.

- Sit rep accomplishments: submitted

- Social media content: Tweeted out content from last nights news release.

- Update internal talking points: talking points have been updated to include data from news release 15 and outdated information has been removed. I also took out the 37,000+ homes have been visited as it has been determined that this number is irrelevant because it include duplicates. The hours for the Red Cross Volunteer Reception Center has been highlighted because we'r waiting for confirmation on their hours of operation.

- Update general talking points: talking points have been updated to include data from news release 15 and outdated information has been removed. I also took out the 37,000+ homes have been visited as it has been determined that this number is irrelevant because it include duplicates.

- Media monitoring report: a report was submitted.

- Create SEOC PIO/JIC procedures: procedures have been created for the role of SEOC PIO/JIC Rep. (Attached to email).

On Monday, I have been told that GIS is going to meet to discuss how they can meet our need to know exactly how many homes have been visited or the resident visited a water resource site. I would follow up with GIS or Amanda to check on the status some point on Monday. The GIS reps that I spoke with are Nikki and Matt.

Also on Monday, the SEOC logistics chief will need the numbers on the back of of the employee access card for Kari Arend and Frank Provenzano for access. Ron was looped into the email but I wanted you to know that this has been tasked for Monday.

A task that is outstanding is to upload the Chinese flyer version. File is in JIC Manager email. There has been some discussion about the format.

Flint Water Emergency Response

Talking Points for Colonel Etue

NOT INTENDED TO BE DISSEMINATED TO THE MEDIA OR PUBLIC IN THIS FORMAT

- Today is the 20th day of this emergency declaration, and over the past three weeks, significant progress has been made on the ground to get Flint residents the safe water resources they need.

- As of this morning, 22,129 homes in the city of Flint were either visited by a water response team or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up free resources such as bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

- Our primary mission continues to be ensuring all Flint residents have access to safe water resources and that they are aware of the information and free resources available to them.

- Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by door-to-door water response teams:

  - More than 77,700 cases of water
  - More than 69,700 water filters
  - More than 16,600 water testing kits

- As we move to the next phase of this effort, door-to-door efforts will continue; becoming increasingly targeted to ensure we are reaching every home.

- It should be noted there are no plans to discontinue the Water Resource Sites at this point in time. Five sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

- We have been and will continue to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety here in Flint.

- We recognize this situation is a marathon – not a sprint – and we are committed to being here for as long as it takes to ensure the residents of Flint have the safe water resources they need.

- If you are a Flint resident and you need help, please call 2-1-1 or visit www.michigan.gov/FlintWater for more information.

- Persons wishing to assist with response efforts can visit www.HelpForFlint.com to learn more.

INFORMATION – IF ASKED...

Volunteers and Donations

- There continues to be great cooperation on the ground in Flint by many local agencies, from the city and county to churches and public, private, and non-profit groups.

- The American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1, Michigan Community Service Commission, and many other organizations have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process.

- The American Red Cross has established a volunteer reception center for those wishing to assist with ongoing efforts to distribute water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water test kits.

    - The Volunteer Reception Center is located at the Red Cross office at 1401 S. Grand Traverse St. in Flint.

- Material and in-kind donations of cases of water bottles, gallon jugs, and larger containers of water can be dropped off at the below locations.

    - Donations of 100 cases or less:

        - Catholic Charities Center for Hope, 517 E. Fifth Ave, Flint
          Monday – Friday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

    - Donations of 100 cases or more, pallets of water or donations in one semi-truck:

        - Food Bank of Eastern Michigan, 2300 Lapeer Rd., Flint
          Monday - Friday 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

    - For extra-large donations, such as multiple semi-trucks, delivery arrangements can be made by emailing Janet Hunter at hunterj8@michigan.gov.

- In-kind donations include labor to install filters and trucks to deliver materials. All in-kind donors should contact Janet Hunter at hunterj8@michigan.gov.

Federal Support

- President Obama's approval of a federal emergency in Flint provides emergency relief in the form of bottled water, water filters, filter replacements, and water test kits. The period of assistance is up to 90 days.

- The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has been designated the lead federal agency responsible for coordinating the federal government response and recovery efforts, and they are now on the ground here in Flint.

- In addition, the state has been working with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies.

- Coordination includes identifying federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts.

    - In addition to the agencies already mentioned, this may include agencies such as the Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

Supplemental Appropriation Request

- The State Budget Office has assembled an emergency supplemental budget request for the current fiscal year to address the immediate funding needs for the Flint water crisis.

- The supplemental request was put together by reviewing the financial needs submitted by various state agencies, as well as the City of Flint.

- The total amount of the supplemental request is $22.6 million from the general fund; when federal and restricted funds are included, the supplemental request totals $28 million.

- While we know that more money will be needed to address the water crisis in Flint for the long term, this supplemental funding will provide the immediate financial support that is necessary.

Possible Lead in Bottled Water Issue

- We are aware that a few residents raised concerns about lead possibly being present in the bottled and canned water that was being distributed at water resource sites.

- Upon hearing this information, the state took immediate action and tested all 21 brands of water being distributed for both lead and copper.

- The results show that all 21 brands of bottled water had results of "Not Detected."

    - With respect to lead that means that all 21 brands were less than 1 part per billion and for copper, all 21 brands were less than 50 parts per billion.

- This concern was raised due to measurements that some residents obtained with a TDS meter that was provided with their ZeroWater brand water filters.

- The term TDS stands for "Total Dissolved Solids" and is a measurement of all of the minerals and other common chemicals that are present in the water. The TDS meter is not sensitive enough to measure the lead in the water and the purpose for including it with the filter is to help the user determine when it is time to replace the filter.

Water Resource Sites

- Water resource sites provide free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

- As part of the distribution process, residents seeking filters and replacement cartridges are asked to share their address to gather information necessary for long-term recovery efforts. However, no resident will be denied resources if an address is not provided.

    - Photo identification is not required to receive resources.

    - In order to keep up with demand, the general guideline is one case of water per household, per day.

- Water resource sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

  Fire Station #1
  310 East 5th St.
  Flint, MI 48502

  Fire Station #3
  1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
  Flint, MI 48503

  Fire Station #5
  3402 Western Road
  Flint, MI 48506

  Fire Station #6
  716 West Pierson Road
  Flint, MI 48505

  Fire Station #8
  202 East Atherton Road
  Flint, MI 48507

Water Filters

- When used properly water filters remove 99% of lead in water.

- Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth, and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

- One filter and one replacement cartridge are being provided per household initially. Each filter is good for approximately 100 gallons of water. The filter has an indicator on it that will turn from green to red when it needs to be replaced.

- There is a detailed video posted on www.michigan.gov/flintwater that explains how to properly install a water filter cartridge. An instruction sheet also has been provided to 2-1-1 to share with those individuals without internet access.

Resources for homebound individuals

- 2-1-1 is collecting a list of limited mobility or homebound individuals needing home delivery of water resources and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department, who is making these deliveries.

- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free water filter installation to homebound residents needing assistance. This is also being coordinated through 2-1-1.

DEQ Employee Suspensions

- As a result of the pending questions regarding employee actions related to water testing in Flint, action was taken on January 23 against two DEQ employees. Both employees were suspended pending an internal investigation, in accordance with Civil Service rules.

    - The Michigan State Police Professional Standards Section is conducting this administrative investigation.

Water Bills

- The City of Flint is responsible for issuing water shut-off notices for non-payment. Per the Mayor, the city has put a halt on all notices or disconnections. Shut off notices have not been mailed since the beginning of December.

- The city advises that there has been no disconnection of service for nonpayment on an active account since August 7, 2016.

- The city is currently reviewing its policy on shut off notices in light of the declared emergency and amended preliminary injunction order issued on January 11, 2016.

- The city has a legal obligation to bill for services and to maintain operation of both water and sewer systems.

- Water payment inquiries should be referred to the City of Flint.

Water Response Teams Visit More Than 11,000 Homes Today

State Continues To Provide Water Resources in Flint

FLINT, Mich. – Water response teams continued their door-to-door efforts, today visiting another 11,144 homes providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality reports that since implementation of residential monitoring, water sampling reports are as follows through Jan. 22, 2016:

- 1,186 total Residential Samples reported
  - 1,099 samples at or below the Action Level of 15 ppb (92.7%)
  - 966 samples at or below 5 ppb (81.5%)
  - 87 samples exceed the Action Level of 15 ppb (7.3%)

"We are in the process of establishing a formal sampling protocol that will be representative of the entire distribution system and we will revisit these sites routinely to establish a baseline and conduct trend analysis," stated Keith Creagh, Director of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality.

Those who get their water test results should know that the units in the reports are expressed in milligrams per liter (mg/L), also known as parts per million (ppm). In order to convert to parts per billion, multiply the result by 1,000. For example, a result of 0.004 (mg/L) would equal 4 parts per billion (ppb).

Flint residents are encouraged to turn in the water test kits at the five water resource sites. You can watch how to use a water test kit here.

Creagh continued, "While we recognize not all the samples within the program are officially recognized. The reason we are collecting this data is because we are trying to get an overall assessment of the water system and to identify potential areas of ongoing concern."

RESS RELEASE January 17, 2016

/o weeks ago Genesee County Volunteer Militia Command Staff release public statement concerning the patriot movement in Burns, Oregon and that statement it was mentioned, ...to the grievances of our current rannical government, a government that was sworn to uphold The onstitution and The Bill of Rights and in another sentence, ...Americans 'e angered at the very infringements on our rights that the Federal, State ıd Local governments are doing and that anger grows daily... We elect dividuals to represent us and they turn their backs on the very ones that ected them. At that time, only fragments were mentioned in the media ɔncerning THE FLINT CITY WATER CRISIS, today it is a national event. ıere are more and more articles daily giving evidence that the City overnment has known for a considerable amount of time ("EPA water xpert, Miguel Del Toral, identified potential contamination problems with int's drinking water last February and confirmed the suspicions in April. e authored an internal memo about the problem in June, according to ɔcuments obtained by Virginia Tech.") that there has been a problem with ; water system and that they have actually attempted to cover this up. ıis is truly GOVERNMENT run amuck.

'e the People of the County of Genesee and of the State of Michigan, and united to say to this government "ENOUGH IS ENOUGH", there hav ɜen lives lost and, along with families being ruined from illnesses. We ɜmand that those responsible are held accountable.

The DEQ will need to post testing data on the Flint water website.
This afternoon I spoke with Caleb - as the data is ready, DEQ will supply the info to EMichigan for posting online.

Subject: Flint JIC Parking Update
Attachments: Flint JIC Parking Ramp Parking - 2016.01.22.pdf

Flint Joint Information Center Partners,

Thank you for your continued support of the Flint Joint Information Center (JIC). Without your efforts, we couldn't make this operation happen.

Department of Technology, Management and Budget Facilities Management has asked that those who are reporting to the Flint JIC to begin parking in 25 newly assigned parking spaces. The amount of people reporting to the facility has maxed out the available visitor parking spaces in the parking garage, causing issues with the building's day-to-day activities.

I have attached a map of our newly assigned parking spaces. Parking is available on a first come, first serve basis.

To park in the new spots, enter the parking garage through the Harrison Street entrance and use your state of Michigan ID for gate access. If your state of Michigan ID can access the JIC, you will be able to use the gate.

If your state of Michigan ID cannot access the JIC or you don't have a state of Michigan ID, please continue to park in the visitor area until we can get that problem solved.

I have a little more information based on the initial appointment (likely to change). Speakers will be Mayor, Gov, and Colonel. Several directors will be in attendance as well as pastors. The topic might have something to do with pastors; Harvey's office requested the CAUTION member list yesterday.

Pre-briefing is 11-11:30 a.m. with press conference from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Location TBD.

Colonel will need talking points; not sure what that will entail yet.

Jo will provide us with more details as she receives them.

Lieutenant,

The event will be held on Sunday January 24 at 2 p.m. at Flint City Hall. Members will be wearing uniforms and insignia as well as side arms. The have indicated long rifles are not welcome at this event. The show of support is to collect water donations for distribution to citizens of Flint. I cannot confirm 1,000 will be attending. As of this afternoon 53 are going, 83 are interested, and 680 were invited. They are hoping to collect a couple U-Hauls of water.

Please let me know if you have any questions. I have no information to indicate there are any threats or they plan any protests.

Fellow PIOs,

Attached please find the Joint Information Center staffing schedule for January 22 – 31. Please note we have decided to scale back JIC staffing for the weekend and we will not require any PIOs in Flint for this Saturday and Sunday. Sierra Medrano will staff the SEOC-PIO desk at Collins Road and will produce the nightly activity news release both days. She will also monitor the JICManager and JICNews email accounts for any urgent matters. If you are a lead agency PIO, she may be contacting you if an issue arises.

Regular JIC operations will resume in Flint on Monday, January 25, at 8 a.m. Below is some additional logistical information about the JIC.

JIC Location:

State of Michigan Office Building

State set to finish door-to-door visits in Flint
Detroit Free Press

LANSING -- State officials, bolstered by volunteers and more soldiers and airmen from the Michigan National Guard, are expected to have completed a door-to-door canvass of the entire city of Flint by the end of the day today, as they continue their response to the Flint drinking water crisis, a Michigan State Police spokeswoman said.

Shanon Banner couldn't say that the state will have made personal contact with every household by the end of the day Thursday, because some residents have not been home when state officials visited. But she said it's expected the entire geographic area of the city will have been covered.

Follow-up visits will be needed to cover any homes that were missed the first time, she said.

The effort has been bolstered by a surge in number of Michigan Guard soldiers and airmen, who, starting Wednesday, were assisting in the door-to-door effort, as well as staffing fire stations where people can pick up supplies, Banner said.

The state Emergency Operations Center said Thursday that officials visited 3,395 Flint homes on Wednesday, bringing the total number of homes that have either been visited, or whose residents have visited a distribution center, to 29,317 since Jan. 5, when Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency.

State officials earlier estimated there are about 33,000 households in Flint.

The number of Michigan National Guard soldiers and airmen working on the effort Wednesday is expected to more than double today, from 95 to about 180. They are going door-to-door in Flint, distributing bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits, along with teams comprised of city, county and state personnel, the American Red Cross and volunteers, the release said.

Flint's drinking water became contaminated with lead in April 2014 after the city, while under the control of a state-appointed emergency manager, switched its source to the Flint River as a temporary cost-cutting move and the state Department of Environmental Quality failed to require the addition of needed corrosion control chemicals. As a result, the corrosive water caused lead to leach from pipes, joints and fixtures, causing many citizens to receive water with unsafe lead levels. The state has told residents not to drink the water without filtering and says it is treating all Flint children as having been exposed to unsafe levels of lead.

During the Flint effort, the state has coordinated distribution of more than 90,300 cases of water, 73,200 water filters and 19,800 water testing kits, the release said.

Since Jan. 5, the state has purchased 111,630 cases of water, 115,700 water filters, and 61,161 water testing kits, the release said.

It's not clear what will happen after each household has been contacted once, Banner said. It's possible those who can't pick up needed supplies at Flint fire halls and other distribution centers will be able to call to have items delivered, she said.

"We recognize this is a long-term thing," she said.

Persons wishing to volunteer or provide material, in-kind, or financial donations can visit www.helpforflint.com for more information. The American Red Cross says it is no longer able to accept material donations.

Hi!

The overtime exemption request for hours worked on the Flint water crisis is still pending approval. Once it is approved through the MSP chain of command, it will be sent to Civil Service for approval based on an overtime approved start date of 01/03/2016.

Since the request has not yet been approved, your overtime hours could not be entered in DCDS for the last pay period. Once the exemption is approved, overtime hours worked can be entered. I will reach out to you once the exemption is approved to confirm your OT hours before modifying your timesheet.

Subject: URGENT: JIC Staffing - Deadline 3 p.m. Today
Attachments: Staffing - 2016.01.20.docx

Importance: High

Fellow PIOs:

The Joint Information Center (JIC) continues to play a critical role in centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts as the state continues working to improve the water situation in Flint. Thank you to all the departments who have and are providing staff. At this time, we are seeking staff for Jan. 23-Jan. 31.

After the call for staffing on Monday, we only heard from a few department PIOs. We really need your support and help to make this operation happen.

To maximize efficiency, preference is for PIOs to staff the JIC for a two- or three-day time period (at least initially) to limit re-training and transition between incoming/outgoing staff.

I ask that you please review the attached staffing schedule and respond with your availability by 3 p.m. today. Most immediately, we are in need of some additional staff for this Saturday and Sunday.

The JIC is operating from a state office building in Flint at 125 E. Union Street, 48502. At a minimum, JIC working hours are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., although several PIOs are routinely working until 9 p.m. to complete all necessary tasks (more staff will help alleviate some of this). Lunch is provided, and overnight accommodations can also be arranged at no-cost to the PIO.

Please let me know if you or one of your staff can help us out.

Thank you much,

Ron

Hi Sierra,

I know you tweeted the release last night, but today I would like you to tweet the map specifically. Can you develop some possible content for my review. Also wondering if we should put the map on FB?

Let's make sure that your focus for the next couple of days is also to post and tweet non-Flint related content. I want to make sure we continue business as normal, as much as possible.

Thanks!

Demand Increases at Water Resource Sites

Over 300 volunteers help in visiting over 13,000 homes today

FLINT, Mich. – The city's five water resource sites experienced an increased demand in bottled water today, distributing over 300 pallets of water in seven hours, making it the busiest day of operation yet.

In addition to this activity, water response teams also continued their door-to-door efforts, today visiting 13,684 homes providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits. The teams are composed of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers, as well as National Guard Soldiers and Airmen. More than 300 volunteers took part in today's activities.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- 148,866 cases of water
- 86,843 water filters
- 25,586 water testing kits

While the state continues to increase the amount of water it is purchasing and providing, this increased demand provides some logistical challenges. In order to ensure supply keeps pace with demand, residents are reminded the general guideline is one case of bottled water per household per day.

As part of the distribution process, residents seeking water filters and replacement cartridges are asked to share their address. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time to assist with long-term recovery and help water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts. It is important to note that no resident will be denied resources if an address is not provided, and a photo identification is not required.

MORE

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, in addition to donations, since January 5:

- 133,662 cases of water
- 115,700 water filters
- 61,161 water testing kits

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5
3402 Western Road
Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Road
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8
202 East Atherton Road
Flint, MI 48507

Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples are only accepted using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams. Visit https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KMaAZA1c3oA to watch a video on how to properly take a water sample.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

High-level Messages

- Governor Snyder made resources available beginning in October for Flint residents, including free filters and testing; however we recognize the word was not getting out to residents or they didn't know where to go, or have transportation. These obstacles have been overcome, and I'll be talking about the progress we have made on today's call.

- We are increasing our efforts/numbers each day on the ground. As of this morning, 22,129 homes in the City of Flint were either visited by a water response team, comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers, or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up these resources.

- Our primary mission continues to be ensuring all Flint residents have access to safe water and are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits.

- Our door-to-door teams ensure every resident is offered a free filter, replacement cartridges, bottled water, and water testing kit.

- Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams, in addition to donations:

    - More than 77,700 cases of water
    - More than 69,700 water filters
    - More than 16,600 water testing kits

- Door-to-door efforts continue to increase. Between today and tomorrow, an additional 180 additional National Guard soldiers and airmen are joining water response teams going door-to-door in Flint delivering water supplies.

- In addition to door-to-door efforts, we continue to maintain five water resource sites open from daily 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

    - These sites are now staffed by National Guard soldiers, which has freed up American Red Cross volunteers to join the door-to-door teams.

- We are continuing to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety.

- All of the resources I have mentioned can be found by visiting www.michigan.gov/FlintWater, calling 2-1-1, or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

Volunteers and Donations

- There continues to be great cooperation on the ground in Flint by many local agencies, from the city and county to churches and public, private, and non-profit groups to help with this effort.

- The American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1, Michigan Community Service Commission, and many other organizations have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process.

- The American Red Cross has established a volunteer reception center for those wishing to assist with ongoing efforts to distribute water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water test kits.

    - The Volunteer Reception Center is located at the Red Cross office at 1401 S. Grand Traverse St. in Flint.

    - This week, the Volunteer Reception Center hours are:
        - Monday - Friday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
        - Saturday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
        - Sunday, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.

- Material and in-kind donations of cases of water bottles, gallon jugs and larger containers of water can be dropped off at the below locations.

    - Donations of 100 cases or less:

        - Catholic Charities Center for Hope, 517 E. Fifth Ave, Flint
          Monday – Friday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

          Saturday – Sunday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.

    - Donations of 100 cases or more, pallets of water or donations in one semi-truck:

        - Food Bank of Eastern Michigan, 2300 Lapeer Rd., Flint
          Monday - Friday 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

    - For extra-large donations, such as multiple semi-trucks, delivery arrangements can be made by emailing Janet Hunter at hunterj8@michigan.gov.

    - In-kind donations include labor to install filters and trucks to deliver materials. All in-kind donors should contact Janet Hunter at hunterj8@michigan.gov.

Federal Support

- President Obama's approval of a federal emergency in Flint provides emergency relief in the form of bottled water, water filters, filter replacements, and water test kits. The period of assistance is up to 90 days.

- In addition, the state has been working with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.

    - Coordination includes identifying federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

- With the emergency declaration in place, we've been notified the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has been designated the lead federal agency responsible for coordinating federal government response and recovery efforts.

- Chief of Staff Ben Goldhaber of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR) is on the call and will give an update.

INFORMATION – IF ASKED...

Supplemental Appropriation Request

- The State Budget Office has assembled an emergency supplemental budget request for the current fiscal year to address the immediate funding needs for the Flint water crisis.
- The supplemental request was put together by reviewing the financial needs submitted by various state agencies as well as the City of Flint.
- The total amount of the supplemental request is $22.6 million from the general fund; when federal and restricted funds are included, the supplemental request totals $28 million.
- While we know that more money will be needed to address the water crisis in Flint for the long term, this supplemental funding will provide the immediate financial support that is necessary.

Possible Lead in Bottled Water Issue

A few residents have raised concerns about lead being present in the bottled and canned water that is being distributed through the water distribution sites.

We believe these concerns might originate from individuals using a total dissolved solids test strip in an attempt to test for lead. This test strip does not measure lead, and therefore would not give an accurate result.

However, we take every concern seriously, and therefore the DEQ is expeditiously testing the bottled and canned water being distributed in Flint to ensure it is lead free. In the meantime, we have taken the extra steps to hold back product bearing similar product codes until the test results come back. To assure incoming product is lead free, we will begin testing batches of new product and are working with the manufacturer to assure product integrity moving forward.

Water Resource Site Locations

- Water resource sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

  Fire Station #1
  310 East 5th St.
  Flint, MI 48502

  Fire Station #3
  1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
  Flint, MI 48503

  Fire Station #5
  3402 Western Road
  Flint, MI 48506

  Fire Station #6
  716 West Pierson Road
  Flint, MI 48505

  Fire Station #8
  202 East Atherton Road
  Flint, MI 48507

Filters

- When used properly water filters remove 99% of lead in water. Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

- One filter and one replacement cartridge are being provided per household initially. Each filter is good for approximately 100 gallons of water. The filter has an indicator on it that will turn from green to red when it needs to be replaced.

- The filters have a two to five-year, non-replaceable battery that operates the indicator light.

- There is a detailed video posted on www.michigan.gov/flintwater that explains how to properly install a water filter cartridge. An instruction sheet also has been provided to 2-1-1 to share with those individuals without internet access.

Resources for homebound individuals

- 2-1-1 is collecting a list of limited mobility or homebound individuals needing home delivery of water resources and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department, who is making these deliveries.

- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free water filter installation to homebound residents needing assistance. This is also being coordinated through 2-1-1.

Water Bills

- The City of Flint is responsible for issuing water shut-off notices for non-payment. Per the Mayor, the city has put a halt on all notices or disconnections. Shut off notices have not been mailed since the beginning of December.

- The city advises that there has been no disconnection of service for nonpayment on an active account since August 7, 2016.

- The City is currently reviewing its policy on shut off notices in light of the declared emergency and amended preliminary injunction order issued on January 11, 2016.

- The City has a legal obligation to bill for services provided by its utility services department and to maintain operation of both with water and sewer systems.

- Water payment inquiries should be referred to the City of Flint.

Situation Report

January 21, 2016

The Joint Information Center (JIC) was expected to be operational in Flint from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Jan. 21.

State agencies at the JIC included the Governor's Office, Michigan State Police, Michigan Economic Development Corporation, Michigan Community Service Commission and Departments of Environmental Quality, Health and Human Services, Agriculture and Rural Development, Licensing and Regulatory Affairs, Military and Veterans Affairs, and Treasury. The Federal Emergency Management Agency, Genesee County Sheriff's Office and American Red Cross were also present.

Tasks accomplished:

- Finalized an Official Statement about testing bottled water for lead. Recently, there were concerns raised about the possibility of lead being in the bottled water that is being given to residents of Flint. The statement was provided to ABC12 who contacted the JIC and also to 211 to use when asked.
- Created a media monitoring report and looked for misinformation. Called to request a correction to a Detroit Free Press headline that included WRTs were completing their work; headline was amended to indicate the mission is ongoing. Several media calls on this topic were received and answered today.
- Added the following content to www.michigan.gov/flintwater: link to www.helpforflint.com; water donation drive guidelines; Disaster Distress Helpline; and photos from National Guard door-to-door teams.
- Media hotline staff answered over 30 emails and phone calls.
- Updated internal and general talking points about the ongoing Flint water emergency.

January 22, 2016

The Honorable Rick Snyder
Governor of Michigan
111 South Capitol Avenue
Lansing, Michigan 48909

Dear Governor Snyder:

This is in response to your January 20, 2016, appeal for a major disaster declaration for the State of Michigan as a result of water contamination described in your request as beginning on April 25, 2014, and continuing. You specifically requested Individual Assistance and Public Assistance, including direct federal assistance for Genesee County and Hazard Mitigation statewide.

After a thorough review of all of the information contained in your initial request and appeal, we reaffirm our original finding that a major disaster declaration under the Stafford Act is not appropriate. The request does not meet the legal definition of a "major disaster" under 42 U.S.C. § 5122, as implemented at 44 C.F.R. §§ 206.2(17). The incident was not a result of a natural catastrophe, nor was it caused by a fire, flood, or explosion. Therefore, I must inform you that your appeal for a major disaster declaration is denied.

As the President has directed, Federal agencies, including FEMA, will continue to assist the State however possible in addressing the needs of the citizens in Flint. Dr. Nicole Lurie, Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response at the US Department of Health and Human Services, the Federal government's senior response official, remains our main point of contact for coordinating these ongoing efforts.

Sincerely,

W. Craig Fugate
Administrator

Water Response Teams Continue Door-to-Door Canvass in Flint

FLINT, Mich. – By the end of the day today, water response teams had canvassed all areas of the city providing Flint residents with free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

To date, 30,770 homes in the city of Flint were either visited by a water response team, or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up supplies. Water response teams are composed of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers, as well as National Guard Soldiers and Airmen.

"While we have visited every part of the city, we know we have not yet reached every home, so our work is not done," stated Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "Water response teams will continue door-to-door visits until we are sure every Flint resident has the safe water resources they need."

As part of the distribution process, members of the water response teams ask a series of questions, such as what type of filter they have and whether the resident needs assistance installing a water filter. The questions help in ensuring the team is distributing an accurate amount of supplies and also allows for the collection of information necessary for long-term recovery. While answering the questions is beneficial to operational efficiency, the questions are voluntary and residents will still receive water resources if they refuse to answer questions.

As previously announced, all members of water response teams wear official credentialed badges with a State of Michigan seal hologram so they can be easily identified. At no time will they enter a resident's home or request payment for services or supplies.

To date, the following resources have been distributed at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- More than 105,091 cases of water
- More than 79,571 water filters
- More than 21,625 water testing kits

To serve and protect: We elect individuals to represent us and they turn their backs on the very ones that elected them. It has only been in the last few months that fragments of information have reached the public concerning the water conditions and contamination of the Flint City Water. It is nothing less than shocking that our elected officials would try to hide the hazards that residents are being subjected to just by drinking a simple glass of tap water!!!

Today the water crisis in Flint is gaining national attention. There are more and more articles daily giving evidence that the City Government has known for a considerable amount of time that there are problems with the water. Even "EPA water expert, Miguel Del Toral, identified potential contamination problems with Flint's drinking water last February and confirmed the suspicions in April of 2015."

We believe there has been a cover-up of the water contamination, hiding it from residents long before they knew there was a hazard of drinking the water. How far and exactly WHO was involved in the cover-up WE DEMAND ANSWERS!

Two weeks ago Genesee County Volunteer Militia Command Staff released a public statement concerning the patriot movement in Burns, Oregon and in that statement it was written,
....."1. To the grievances of our current tyrannical government,
.....2. A government that was sworn to uphold The Constitution and The Bill of Rights.

Americans are angered at the very infringements of our Rights at the Federal, State, and Local bodies of government. Everyday that anger grows specifically when it concerns our children and their safety....

We the People say "ENOUGH IS ENOUGH" and we are going to stand united until Genessee County and the State of MIchigan not only remedies the water hazard conditions, but hold those accountable who have worked to sweep the issue under the rug.....

We the People demand answers for those who have fallen ill or even died and had their lives ruined from being exposed to Flint water.

January 22, 2016

The Honorable Rick Snyder
Governor of Michigan
Lansing, Michigan 48909

Dear Governor Snyder:

This is in response to your January 14, 2016, request for an emergency declaration for the State of Michigan as a result of contaminated water described in your request as beginning on April 25, 2014, and continuing. You specifically requested a declaration for the Individuals and Households Program and emergency protective measures (Category B), including direct federal assistance and reimbursement, under the Public Assistance program for Genesee County.

The January 16, 2016, emergency declaration FEMA-3375-EM authorized emergency protective measures (Category B), limited to direct federal assistance, under the Public Assistance program at 75 percent federal funding. The emergency declaration authorized the federal provision of water, water filters, water filter cartridges, water test kits, and other necessary related items for a period of no more than 90 days for Genesee County. Additionally, the President offered assistance in identifying other Federal agency capabilities that could support the recovery effort.

After a thorough review of your request, it has been determined that additional Stafford Act assistance, beyond that which has been authorized under FEMA-3375-EM, is not appropriate for this event. Therefore, your request for the Individuals and Households Program and reimbursement for emergency protective measures (Category B) under the Public Assistance program for Genesee County is denied.

This denial may be appealed within 30 days after the date of this letter. Any appeal pursuant to 44 CFR § 206.46, along with additional information justifying the appeal, should be submitted to me through Andrew Velasquez III, Regional Administrator, FEMA Region V, located at 536 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Zimmerman

2,715 More Homes Visited on Tuesday by Water Response Teams

FLINT, Mich. - As noted in Governor Snyder's State of the State address last night, significant progress has been made in distributing water resources to residents in Flint.

As of this morning, 22,129 homes in the City of Flint were either visited by a water response team, comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers, or the resident has visited a water resource site to pick up these resources.

The following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams, in addition to donations:

- More than 77,700 cases of water
- More than 69,700 water filters
- More than 16,600 water testing kits

There is a coordinated effort to ensure that each Flint home is provided with a water filter and other water supplies. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time, so water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts.

The State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- 95,760 cases of water
- 115,700 water filters
- 61,161 water testing kits

Persons wishing to volunteer or provide material, in-kind, or financial donations can visit www.helpforflint.com for more information.

MORE

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1
310 East 5th St.
Flint, MI 48502

Fire Station #3
1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
Flint, MI 48503

Fire Station #5

Flint, MI 48506

Fire Station #6
716 West Pierson Road
Flint, MI 48505

Fire Station #8

To enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Subject: New Request for Staffing - Flint Joint Information Center
Attachments: Staffing - 2016.01.18.docx

Fellow PIOs:

The Joint Information Center (JIC) continues to play a critical role in centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts as the state continues working to improve the water situation in Flint. Thank you to all the departments who have and are providing staff. At this time, we are seeking staff for Jan. 23-Jan. 31.

To maximize efficiency, preference is for PIOs to staff the JIC for a two- or three-day time period (at least initially) to limit re-training and transition between incoming/outgoing staff.

I ask that you please review the attached staffing schedule and respond with your availability by Wednesday at noon. Most immediately, we are in need of some additional staff for this Saturday and Sunday.

The JIC is operating from a state office building in Flint at 125 E. Union Street, 48502. At a minimum, JIC working hours are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., although several PIOs are routinely working until 9 p.m. to complete all necessary tasks (more staff will help alleviate some of this). Lunch is provided, and overnight accommodations can also be arranged at no-cost to the PIO.

Please let me know if you or one of your staff can help us out.

Thank you much,

Ron

FLINT, Mich. – Today, the water response teams distributed resources to nearly 4,000 Flint homes providing residents with free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

To date, more than 11,300 homes have been visited by the water response teams, comprised of local and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers. Over the course of the holiday weekend, Flint residents and approximately 300 state employees and their family members are volunteering to help increase door to door efforts.

In addition, the Michigan National Guard is dedicating more personnel to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites. Beginning on Monday, January 18, approximately 70 National Guard members will be handing out resources at the fire stations, which is more than double the current commitment.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams, in addition to donations:
•Nearly 20,900 cases of water
•Nearly 48,000 filters
•More than 3,300 water testing kits

150 crowd Michigan capitol in protest over Flint water crisis
MLive

LANSING, MI -- A crowd of 150 protesters circled through the hallways of the Michigan state capitol on Thursday, toting jugs of dirty water and calling for action on a drinking water crisis that has rocked the city.

Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency in the city earlier this month, but the water crisis emerged more than a year ago when the city switched water sources in April of 2014.

House Democratic Leader Tim Greimel told the protesters, who rode in on buses from Flint and Detroit Thursday, that their representatives had been fighting for them on the water issue.

"The administration has turned a deaf ear to what they and others have been saying for months," Greimel said.

He called for Gov. Rick Snyder's resignation if he knew about the situation in Flint and didn't do anything about it.

Some at the protest said Gov. Rick Snyder had to have known about it.

"The concerned pastors came to Lansing with the lead test results in February and showed them to his assistant, so he knew about this thing," said Flint resident Lathan Jefferson, who came to the capitol to protest on Thursday.

For a year and a half he's been calling federal agencies looking for help.

"They blow you off. They keep giving you different numbers to call," Jefferson said.

R.L. Mitchell said he came from Flint today because when Gov. Rick Snyder was in Flint earlier this week he couldn't get in the room. He's worried about the long-term effects of the water.

"Every person I know in Flint has problems with the water. There's brown stuff coming out right now and they put filters on it and they don't know how to work it. And in a whole lot of filters black stuff comes out and they still drink it, put it in their ice cubes," Mitchell said.

Earlene Love is worried about the health effects too, but when she went to her doctor for a blood test the doctor told her it didn't affect old people.

"I just looked at him like he had lost his mind. Because if I had drank the water, then it's going to affect me too," Love said.

Elected officials came to the protest in solidarity with Flint residents.

"There have been few events in the history of our nation where government has let people down like this has," said Genesee County Clerk John Gleason. "My God, they poisoned the kids."

State Reps. Sheldon Neeley, D-Flint, and Phil Phelps, D-Flushing, came to show their support as well.

Protesters left the state capitol building and headed for the Romney Building, which houses the governor's office. Michigan State Police officers stopped them in the lobby, where they chanted and waved bottles of dirty water for around 20 minutes.

Snyder spokesperson Dave Murray said the Governor's office understood the frustration.

"We understand people are frustrated. The health and safety of Flint residents is a priority, both now and long into the future," he said.

"Gov. Snyder acted aggressively as soon as he became aware of the elevated blood lead levels on Oct. 1, with an action plan announced quickly aimed at health and safety, and the reconnection to the Great Lakes Water Authority announced just days later," Murray said.

FYI

Reports: Jesse Jackson to hold rally in Flint
Detroit Free Press
1.14.16

Civil rights activist the Rev. Jesse Jackson is to visit a Flint church on Sunday and hold a rally as the city deals with a water crisis, two TV stations in Flint report.

Jackson is to attend Heavenly Host Church then hold a rally early Sunday afternoon, ABC 12 and NBC 25 report.

Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency in Flint earlier this month because of immediate health concerns over lead contamination in the city's water supply. Michigan State Police joined others in distributing bottled water and filters to residents.

Flint's drinking water became contaminated with lead in 2014 after switching its supply source from Lake Huron to the more polluted and corrosive Flint River. The move — a cost-cutting measure while the city was under the control of a state-appointed emergency manager — resulted in a spike in lead levels in children, which causes permanent brain damage.

Although the state assisted Flint in switching its drinking water supply back to Lake Huron water from Flint River water in October, there are concerns that lead problems persist due to damage the corrosive river water caused to the water distribution system.

Federal Support

- President Obama's approval of a federal emergency in Flint provides emergency relief in the form of bottled water, water filters, filter replacements, and water test kits. The period of assistance is up to 90 days.

- In addition, the state is working with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.
    - Coordination will include identifying federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

Current Status/Update

- We are continuing to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety.

- One of our most important messages and priorities continues to be making sure residents are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits.

- The one-stop shop for finding all these resources is by visiting www.michigan.gov/FlintWater or calling 2-1-1.

- To date, more than 21,300 homes have been visited by water response teams who are going door-to-door to distribute free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.
    - Water response teams are a collaborative effort comprised of city, county, state personnel, American Red Cross personnel, and volunteers.

- The Michigan National Guard has been activated to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites at fire stations in the city.
    - There are approximately 70 National Guard members handing out water resources at the fire stations in the city.

- Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:
    - More than 37,300 cases of water
    - More than 53,700 water filters
    - More than 7,300 water testing kits

- To help enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can now drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites at fire stations. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

- Water resource sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

  Fire Station #1
  310 East 5th St.
  Flint, MI 48502

  Fire Station #3
  1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
  Flint, MI 48503

  Fire Station #5

Filters

- When used properly water filters remove 99% of lead in water.

- Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

- One filter and one replacement cartridge are being provided per household initially. Each filter is good for approximately 100 gallons of water. The filter has an indicator on it that will turn from green to red when it needs to be replaced.

- The filters have a five-year, non-replaceable battery that operates the indicator light.

- There is a detailed video posted on www.michigan.gov/flintwater that explains how to properly install a water filter cartridge. An instruction sheet also has been provided to 2-1-1 to share with those individuals without internet access.

Resources for homebound individuals

- 2-1-1 is collecting a list of limited mobility or homebound individuals needing home delivery of water resources and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department, who is making these deliveries.

- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free water filter installation to homebound residents needing assistance. This is also being coordinated through 2-1-1.

Outside Support Efforts – Volunteers and Donations

- There has been great cooperation on the ground in Flint by many local agencies, from the city and county to churches and public, private, and non-profit groups to help with this effort.

- The American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1, and many other organizations have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process.

- The American Red Cross has established a volunteer reception center for those wishing to assist with ongoing efforts to distribute water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water test kits.
    - The Volunteer Reception Center is located at the Red Cross office at 1401 S. Grand Traverse St. in Flint.
    - This week, the Volunteer Reception Center hours are:
        - Monday - Friday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.
        - Saturday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
        - Sunday, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.

National Guard Mobilization

    - National Guard is uniquely prepared and trained to respond quickly in emergency situations.
    - The first group of National Guard personnel arrived in Flint on January 13 to conduct assessment and get acclimated.
    - 30 more personnel arrived on January 15 and additional soldiers were added on January 18, bringing the current commitment to approximately 70 soldiers.

- This is the second time the Governor has activated the National Guard.
    - Last time was for the Duck Lake Fire in Luce County in May 2012.
- Per the Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the Michigan State Police Director or designee is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard.
- Activation of the Michigan National Guard allows the volunteers from the American Red Cross, who have been staffing the water resource sites, to join the water distribution teams.

Water Bills

- The City of Flint is responsible for issuing water shut-off notices for non-payment. Per the Mayor, the city has put a halt on all notices or disconnections. Shut off notices have not been mailed since the beginning of December.

- Water payment inquiries should be referred to the City of Flint.

- Efforts are being coordinated by the State of Michigan in partnership with the City of Flint, Genesee County, and local community organizations to provide a full set of water resources to the residents of Flint.

- We recognize the urgency of this situation and will continue to engage in full partnership to coordinate relief efforts, streamline communication, and use every resource available to help the residents of Flint.

- One of our most important messages and priorities continues to be making sure residents are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits. The one-stop shop for all these resources is www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

- This entire operation is about making sure Flint residents receive the resources and information they need, and we're 100% committed to doing what needs to be done until all needs are met.

- The efforts by the State of Michigan are to supplement the efforts being done by the City of Flint and Genesee County. Under the presidential declaration FEMA is now working alongside the state supporting ongoing operations.

Flint Water Resource Sites

- Five water resource sites have been established in Flint fire stations where residents can pick-up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and home water testing kits.

- These sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and serve as a one-stop location where residents can pick-up all of the resources they need to ensure their drinking water is safe. And citizens who may need transportation can call 2-1-1 for assistance.

- The locations are:

Water Response Teams

- On Jan. 12, water response teams, consisting of city, county and state personnel began going door-to-door throughout Flint neighborhoods to ensure residents have the resources they need.

- The water response teams are handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

- The teams will go door-to-door daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. until needs are met.

- If by chance a resident is not at home when the teams stop by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

- The state has been working with local officials to identify the needs of residents to help prioritize efforts.

- The bulk of our actions is about identifying specifically where the needs are, where the gaps in recovery are, and ensuring close coordination with the city and county on any actions.

- Members of the water response teams have official credentialed badges with a State of Michigan seal hologram to be easily identified.

Resources Distributed Since January 9

- Since January 12, the water response teams have provided nearly 7,500 Flint homes with bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

- Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:
  - More than 26,500 cases of water
  - Nearly 50,200 filters
  - More than 4,700 water testing kits

- In addition to donated supplies, the State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:
  - Nearly 45,000 cases of water
  - Nearly 79,000 filters
  - Nearly 19,000 water testing kits

Resources for homebound individuals

- 2-1-1 is collecting a list of individuals needing home delivery and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department.

- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free water filter installation to homebound residents needing assistance. This is being coordinated through 2-1-1.

Filters

- When used properly water filters remove 99% of lead in water.

- Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free installation to homebound residents needing assistance.

- There is a detailed video posted on www.michigan.gov/flint that explains how to properly install a water filter cartridge.

- Water filters are also available for small businesses, in addition to Flint residents, at the water resource sites.

- One filter and one replacement cartridge are being provided per household. The filters will filter 100 gallons of water. Each filter has an indicator on it that will turn from green to red. When the indicator turns red, it needs to be replaced.

Water Bills

- The city is responsible for issuing shut off notices. Per the Mayor, the city has put a halt on all notices or disconnections. The Mayor advises shut off notices have not been mailed since the beginning of December.

- Inquiries regarding the payment of water bills should be referred to the City of Flint.

Volunteering

- A lot of great efforts are underway by many local agencies; public, private, non-profit, etc., and there has been an outpouring of support from volunteers and organizations who want to help with this effort.
- The American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1 and many other organizations have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process.

- Volunteers and donations are being coordinated through 2-1-1, in cooperation with the American Red Cross. Persons/organizations wishing to donate 100 cases of water or less can be taken to the American Red Cross located at 1401 S. Grand Traverse in Flint.

- Volunteers can also report to the American Red Cross for processing.

- The Volunteer Reception Center hours beginning this Tuesday, January 19:
  *Monday - Friday, 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.
  *Saturday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
  *Sunday, 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Water Testing

- Citizens who have not received a response on water test results in Flint should contact the City at 810-787-6537 ext. 3501.

- To streamline the water testing process, Flint residents can now drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites at fire stations. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

National Guard Mobilization

- The Michigan National Guard has been activated to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites at fire stations in the city. Starting tomorrow, the number of National Guard members will be further increased to approximately 70 National Guard members handing out resources at the fire stations in the city.
    - Governor Snyder issued an Executive Order on January 12, 2016, to activate Michigan National Guard.
    - Currently they are being used to staff water resource sites to support the distribution of bottled watered, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.
    - National Guard personnel will not be going door to door with the water resource teams, at this time.
    - National Guard is uniquely prepared and trained to respond quickly in emergency situations.
    - First group of National Guard personnel arrived in Flint on Wednesday, January 13 to conduct assessment and get acclimated.
    - 30 more personnel arrived on Friday, January 15; expanded to approximately 70 personnel on Monday, January 18, 2016.
    - This is the second time the Governor has activated the National Guard. Last time was for the Duck Lake Fire in Luce County in May 2012.
    - Per Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the Michigan State Police Director or designee is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard.
    - Activation of the Michigan National Guard has allowed the American Red Cross, who had been staffing the water resource sites, to join the water distribution teams.

Presidential Declaration – FEMA assistance

- On January 16, President Obama approved Governor Snyder's request for a federal emergency in Flint. This action will provide emergency relief in the form of bottled water, water filters, filter replacements, and water test kits. The period of assistance is up to 90 days.

- Governor Snyder had also requested a major disaster declaration, which the President denied based on the legal requirement that under the Stafford Act disaster relief is available only for natural events, fires, floods, or explosions. The state is reviewing the process for appealing the disaster declaration denial.

Attorney General Investigation

- Michigan Attorney General's office has launched an investigation to determine what, if any, Michigan laws were violated in the process that resulted in lead contamination in Flint.

Other/Misc.

- Water is being distributed primarily in bottles rather than jugs. The reason for this is that the donations that have been received are largely comprised of bottled water. Requests for water in jugs have been made when donors have asked about needs.

- The state recognizes that offering recycling options for empty water bottles is a priority. Measures will be put in place soon to provide for recycling opportunities.

- Per DHHS, State Emergency Relief funding is available to qualified households to replace damaged water heaters. This information is available by calling 211.

- Legionnaires disease related inquiries will not be handled by the JIC. Inquiries should be directed to DHHS – Jen Eisler -

- Per the Michigan Department of Education, the state is not involved in the water provided to the Flint Schools. Any questions related to this topic should be referred to Flint Schools.

- Governor has asked the Receivership Transition Advisory Board to transfer the powers and authority currently vested in the city administrator to the mayor. Any inquiries related to this should be referred to the Governor's office.

- For non-Flint residents who want to test their water for lead – they can purchase a testing kit from DEQ for $18 – details follow:

- Anyone in Michigan who wants to test their water for lead can call the State Drinking Water Lab at 517-335-8184.
- The lead testing kit costs $18, which includes the sample bottle and instructions shipped to your home as well as the lab test. It does not include the cost of shipping your filled sample bottle back to the lab.
- Depending on the lab workload, results are typically available within 1-2 weeks.
- Your results will include information about the EPA's lead recommendations as well as contact information for your local health department, which can help you interpret your results further, if needed.

Flint Water Emergency Response
Congressional/Legislative Call
Remarks for Capt. Chris Kelenske

Background

- Yesterday, President Obama approved the Governor's request for a federal emergency in Flint. This action will provide emergency relief in the form of bottled water, water filters, filter replacements, and water test kits. The period of assistance is up to 90 days.
    - Under the Stafford Act, resources totaling $5 million can be used for federal emergencies, with a required state match of 25 percent. It's important to note that we shouldn't view this as a $5 million cap on federal assistance, because if the $5 million is exhausted, Congress has the option to approve additional funding.
    - Governor Snyder had also requested a major disaster declaration, which the President denied based on the legal requirement that under the Stafford Act disaster relief is available only for natural events, fires, floods, or explosions. The state is reviewing the process for appealing the disaster declaration denial.
    - Mr. David Samaniego, our Federal Coordinating Officer (FCO) from FEMA is on the call and will give an update next.

Current Status/Update

- Today, which is our 12th day of coordinating this emergency response, we are continuing to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety.
- One of our most important messages and priorities continues to be making sure residents are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits.

- The one-stop shop for finding all these resources is by visiting www.michigan.gov/FlintWater or calling 2-1-1.

- Including today's activity, water response teams, who are going door-to-door, have distributed resources to nearly 7,000 Flint homes providing residents with free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

- More than 12,000 homes have been visited by the water response teams, which are a collaborative effort comprised of local and state personnel, American Red Cross personnel, and volunteers.

- The Michigan National Guard has been activated to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites at fire stations in the city. Starting tomorrow, the number of National Guard members will be further increased to approximately 70 National Guard members handing out resources at the fire stations in the city.

- From January 9 - 16, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:

    - Nearly 20,900 cases of water
    - Nearly 48,000 water filters
    - More than 3,300 water testing kits

- To help enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can now drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites at fire stations. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

- Water resource sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

    Fire Station #1
    310 East 5th St.
    Flint, MI 48502

    Fire Station #3
    1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
    Flint, MI 48503

    Fire Station #5
    3402 Western Road
    Flint, MI 48506

    Fire Station #6
    716 West Pierson Road
    Flint, MI 48505

202 East Atherton Road
Flint, MI 48507

Filters

- When used properly water filters remove 99% of lead in water.
- Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.
- One filter and one replacement cartridge are being provided per household initially. Each filter is good for approximately 100 gallons of water. The filter has an indicator on it that will turn from green to red when it needs to be replaced.
- The filters do have a five-year, non-replaceable battery that operates the indicator light.
- There is a detailed video posted on www.michigan.gov/flintwater that explains how to properly install a water filter cartridge. We are also working to develop an instruction sheet for 211 to walk through with those individuals without internet access.
- Small business owners seeking water filters at the water resource sites should not be turned away.

Resources for homebound individuals

- 2-1-1 is collecting a list of individuals needing home delivery of water resources and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department, who is making these deliveries.
- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free water filter installation to homebound residents needing assistance. This is being coordinated through 2-1-1.

Outside Support Efforts – Volunteers and Donations

- There has been great cooperation on the ground in Flint by many local agencies, from the city and county to churches and public, private, and non-profit groups to help with this effort.
- The American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1, and many other organizations have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process.

- Volunteers and donations are being coordinated through 2-1-1, in cooperation with the American Red Cross.

- Persons/organizations wishing to donate 100 cases of water or less can be taken to the American Red Cross located at 1401 S. Grand Traverse in Flint.

- Volunteers can also report to the American Red Cross for processing.

National Guard Mobilization

- Governor Snyder issued an Executive Order on January 12, 2016, to activate Michigan National Guard.
    - Currently they are being used to staff water resource sites to support the distribution of bottled watered, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits
    - National Guard personnel will not be going door to door with the water resource teams, at this time.
    - National Guard is uniquely prepared and trained to respond quickly in emergency situations.
    - First group of National Guard personnel arrived in Flint on Wednesday, January 13 to conduct assessment and get acclimated.
    - 30 more personnel arrived Friday; expansion to approximately 70 personnel by Monday.
    - This is the second time the Governor has activated the National Guard.
        - Last time was for the Duck Lake Fire in Luce County in May 2012.
    - Per Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the Michigan State Police Director or designee is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard.
    - Activation of the Michigan National Guard allows the volunteers from the American Red Cross, who have been staffing the water resource sites, to join the water distribution teams.

Water Bills

- The City of Flint is responsible for issuing water shut-off notices for non-payment. Per the Mayor, the city has put a halt on all notices or disconnections. Shut off notices have not been mailed since the beginning of December.

- Water payment inquiries should be referred to the City of Flint.

Attorney General Investigation

- The Michigan Attorney General announced Friday he is investigating whether any Michigan laws were violated in the process that led to this emergency.

Other/Misc.

- Water is being distributed primarily in bottles rather than jugs. The reason for this is that the donations received are largely comprised of bottled water. Requests for water in jugs have been made when donors have inquired about our needs.

- The state recognizes that offering recycling options for empty water bottles is a priority. Measures are being put in place soon.

- Legionnaires disease- related inquiries should be directed to MDHHS and Genesee County Health Department.

- Governor has asked the Receivership Transition Advisory Board to transfer the powers and authority currently vested in the city administrator to the mayor. Any inquiries related to this should be referred to the Governor's office.

State Emergency Operations Center

- The State Emergency Operations Center has been activated since January 5 and continues to be staffed seven days a week by members of state agencies and other partners.

Flint Water Emergency Response
General Talking Points

Background

- On January 16, President Obama approved Governor Snyder's request for a federal emergency in Flint. This action will provide emergency relief in the form of bottled water, water filters, filter replacements, and water test kits. The period of assistance is up to 90 days.
    - Governor Snyder had also requested a major disaster declaration, which the President denied based on the legal requirement that under the Stafford Act disaster relief is available only for natural events, fires, floods, or explosions. The state is reviewing the process for appealing the disaster declaration denial.
- The State Emergency Operations Center in Lansing has been activated since January 5 and continues to be staffed seven days a week by members of state agencies and other partners to coordinate the state's response.

Current Status/Update

- The state continues to bring all state resources to bear to protect public health and safety. One of our most important messages and priorities continues to be making sure residents are aware of the information and free resources available to them, which include bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, water test kits.
- The one-stop shop for finding all these resources is by visiting www.michigan.gov/FlintWater or calling 2-1-1.
- Including today's anticipated activity, water response teams, who are going door-to-door, have distributed resources to nearly 7,000 Flint homes providing residents with free bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

- More than 12,000 homes have been visited by the water response teams, which are a collaborative effort comprised of local and state personnel, American Red Cross personnel, and volunteers.

- The Michigan National Guard has been activated to assist with distribution efforts at the five water resource sites at fire stations in the city. Starting tomorrow, the number of National Guard members will be further increased to approximately 70 National Guard members handing out resources at the fire stations in the city.

- From January 9 - 16, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:

    - Nearly 20,900 cases of water
    - Nearly 48,000 water filters
    - More than 3,300 water testing kits

- To help enhance the water testing process, Flint residents can now drop-off water samples to the five water resource sites at fire stations. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

- Water resource sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

    Fire Station #1
    310 East 5th St.
    Flint, MI 48502

    Fire Station #3
    1525 Martin Luther King Ave.
    Flint, MI 48503

    Fire Station #5
    3402 Western Road
    Flint, MI 48506

    Fire Station #6
    716 West Pierson Road
    Flint, MI 48505

    202 East Atherton Road
    Flint, MI 48507

Filters

- When used properly water filters remove 99% of lead in water. Residents are urged to use filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth, and watering pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning.

- One filter and one replacement cartridge are being provided per household initially. Each filter is good for approximately 100 gallons of water. The filter has an indicator on it that will turn from green to red when it needs to be replaced.

- The filters do have a five-year, non-replaceable battery that operates the indicator light.

- There is a detailed video posted on www.michigan.gov/flintwater that explains how to properly install a water filter cartridge.

Resources for homebound individuals

- 2-1-1 is collecting a list of individuals needing home delivery of water resources and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department, who is making these deliveries.

- The Plumbers and Pipefitters Union has agreed to provide free water filter installation to homebound residents needing assistance. This is being coordinated through 2-1-1.

Outside Support Efforts – Volunteers and Donations

- There has been great cooperation on the ground in Flint by many local agencies, from the city and county to churches and public, private, and non-profit groups to help with this effort.

- The American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1, and many other organizations have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process.

- Volunteers and donations are being coordinated through 2-1-1, in cooperation with the American Red Cross. Persons/organizations wishing to donate 100 cases of water or less can be taken to the American Red Cross located at 1401 S. Grand Traverse in Flint.

- Volunteers can also report to the American Red Cross for processing.

State of Michigan Joint Information Center Now Operational

LANSING, Mich. – Today the State of Michigan launched its Joint Information Center (JIC) to coordinate public information from the State Emergency Operations Center, set up to help with health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water. The emergency operations center was activated after Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County on Jan. 5.

Public information and updates, including resources for residents such as how to obtain free water filters and lead testing, are available at www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

The JIC will serve as the state's central communications hub for this emergency and is staffed by public information officers (PIO) from several state agencies. Hours of operation will be 9 a.m. – 5 p.m., Monday – Friday, until further notice.

It is operating out of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division in Lansing. State officials have been in contact with Flint and Genesee County officials to move the JIC to the city of Flint to better partner and coordinate with local agencies.

The declaration makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency" on Jan. 4, activating local emergency response and recovery plans. By requesting a governor's declaration, the county has determined local resources are insufficient to address the situation and state assistance is required to protect public health, safety and property to lessen or avert the threat of a crisis.

The city of Flint has been under a local emergency declaration since Dec. 14, 2015.

LANSING, Mich. – Beginning on Saturday, January 16, water distribution efforts will expand with more than 20 water response teams going door to door to distribute safe water resources to the homes of Flint residents. LANSING, Mich. – Beginning on Saturday, January 16, water distribution efforts will expand with more than 20 water response teams going door to door to distribute safe water resources to the homes of Flint residents. These teams will consist of state personnel and American Red Cross volunteers, including approximately 250 State of Michigan employees and their family members who will volunteer Saturday through Monday.

Since January 12, the water resource teams have provided nearly 7,500 Flint homes with bottled water, filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

All members of the water response teams will be wearing official credentialed badges with a State of Michigan seal hologram so they can be easily identified.

"With more teams going door to door, we are confident we will double our efforts to ensure residents receive these much needed resources as soon as possible," said Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Since January 9, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by the water response teams:

- More than 18,500 cases of water
- Nearly 46,000 filters
- More than 3,200 water testing kits

In addition to donated supplies, the State of Michigan has purchased the following resources, since January 5, which will continue to be delivered to Flint over the coming days:

- Nearly 45,000 cases of water
- Nearly 79,000 filters
- Nearly 19,000 water testing kits

In the below WNEM article it implies that the National Guard is part of the teams that are going door-to-door.

Snyder activates National Guard, requests FEMA assistance to help in Flint

FLINT, MI (WNEM) -
Gov. Rick Snyder has requested support from FEMA.

That request was made on Tuesday, according to a press release from his office.

The request will identify federal agencies that have programs or the authority that could be utilized in the ongoing response to Flint's water crisis.

Snyder also issued an executive order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

Members of the National Guard are expected to arrive as early as Wednesday to assist the efforts of teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint resident have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said in a press release.

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee released a statement in response to Snyder's deployment of the National Guard:

"Flint needs more action and less talk from Governor Snyder. It is important to remember that this crisis was created by a state-appointed emergency financial manager, and it is the state's ultimate responsibility to act and make it right. Flint residents are the victims in this crisis and they deserve a more urgent response equal to the gravity of this crisis."

Kildee spoke to President Barack Obama shortly after the State of the Union address on Tuesday night.

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee released a statement in response to Snyder's deployment of the National Guard:

"Flint needs more action and less talk from Governor Snyder. It is important to remember that this crisis was created by a state-appointed emergency financial manager, and it is the state's ultimate responsibility to act and make it right. Flint residents are the victims in this crisis and they deserve a more urgent response equal to the gravity of this crisis."

Kildee spoke to President Barack Obama shortly after the State of the Union address on Tuesday night.

FLINT, MI (WNEM) -
Gov. Rick Snyder has requested support from FEMA.

That request was made on Tuesday, according to a press release from his office.

The request will identify federal agencies that have programs or the authority that could be utilized in the ongoing response to Flint's water crisis.

Snyder also issued an executive order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

Members of the National Guard are expected to arrive as early as Wednesday to assist the efforts of teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint resident have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said in a press release.

U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee released a statement in response to Snyder's deployment of the National Guard:

Fellow PIOs:

The Joint Information Center (JIC) is playing a critical role in centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts as the state continues working to improve the water situation in Flint. Thank you to all the departments who have and are providing staff. Despite these efforts, we continue to require additional PIOs to keep up with workload.

At this time we are asking for assistance from any state agency who can send a PIO to the JIC. To maximize efficiency, preference is for PIOs to staff the JIC for a two- or three-day time period (at least initially) to limit re-training and transition between incoming/outgoing staff.

The JIC is operating from a state office building in Flint at 125 E. Union Street, 48502. At a minimum, JIC working hours are 8 a.m. – 6 p.m., although several PIOs are routinely working until 9 p.m. to complete all necessary tasks (more staff will help alleviate some of this). Lunch is provided, and overnight accommodations can also be arranged at no-cost to the PIO.

Most immediately, we are in need of a writer for Thursday and Friday, as well as someone to develop website messaging. We are also looking to identify staff who can work this weekend and on Monday (which is a state holiday). Beyond that, we need to establish a staffing schedule for next week.

I've attached the current staffing schedule so you can see who is already plugged in and where the needs are. Please let me know if you or one of your staff can help us out.

I ask that you respond with your availability as soon as possible to JICManager@michigan.gov.

Thank you much,

Fellow PIOs:

This week, the governor activated the State Emergency Operation Center to address the health and safety issues related to Flint drinking water. The Joint Information Center has been established to support the SEOC by centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts.

All media inquiries regarding Flint water and health concerns must be directed to the JIC – the media line is: 888-363-8632. Additionally, all communications materials related to Flint must be routed through the JIC to ensure consistent and accurate messaging. If you have draft social media, FAQs, or any materials you plan to share, send them to Ron Leix at leixr@michigan.gov for approval.

The JIC has created approved social media content for your use, as well as Facebook and Twitter graphics. Messaging and graphics are attached.

Some of you may be called on to staff the JIC. Currently, the governor's office and lead agencies – MDHHS and DEQ – are working side by side with MSP on location. Through close of business today, Friday, January 8, the JIC will be located at 4000 Collins Road, Lansing, MI 48910 in the SEOC. As of Monday morning at 9 a.m., the JIC will be moved to Flint, at 125 E. Union Street, 48502.

Thank you to all the departments who have and are providing staff. Despite these efforts, we continue to require additional PIOs to keep up with workload.

At this time we are asking for assistance from any state agency who can send a PIO to the JIC. To maximize efficiency, preference is for PIOs to staff the JIC for a two- or three-day time period (at least initially) to limit re-training and transition between incoming/outgoing staff.

The JIC is operating from a state office building in Flint at 125 E. Union Street, 48502. At a minimum, JIC working hours are 8 a.m. – 6 p.m., although several PIOs are routinely working until 9 p.m. to complete all necessary tasks (more staff will help alleviate some of this). Lunch is provided, and overnight accommodations can also be arranged at no-cost to the PIO.

Most immediately, we are in need of a writer for Thursday and Friday, as well as someone to develop website messaging. We are also looking to identify staff who can work this weekend and on Monday (which is a state holiday). Beyond that, we need to establish a staffing schedule for next week.

I've attached the current staffing schedule so you can see who is already plugged in and where the needs are. Please let me know if you or one of your staff can help us out.

I ask that you respond with your availability as soon as possible to JICManager@michigan.gov.

Fellow PIOs:

This week, the governor activated the State Emergency Operation Center to address the health and safety issues related to Flint drinking water. The Joint Information Center has been established to support the SEOC by centralizing communications and streamlining public education efforts.

All media inquiries regarding Flint water and health concerns must be directed to the JIC – the media line is: 888-363-8632. Additionally, all communications materials related to Flint must be routed through the JIC to ensure consistent and accurate messaging. If you have draft social media, FAQs, or any materials you plan to share, send them to Ron Leix at leixr@michigan.gov for approval.

The JIC has created approved social media content for your use, as well as Facebook and Twitter graphics. Messaging and graphics are attached.

Some of you may be called on to staff the JIC. Currently, the governor's office and lead agencies – MDHHS and DEQ – are working side by side with MSP on location. Through close of business today, Friday, January 8, the JIC will be located at 4000 Collins Road, Lansing, MI 48910 in the SEOC. As of Monday morning at 9 a.m., the JIC will be moved to Flint, at 125 E. Union Street, 48502.

Thank you,
Dave

PIOs,

So you are aware, the Federal Emergency Management Agency has approved the Governor's request for support to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint. The details of this are still being worked on. Various federal agencies and support programs may be made available. PIOs may need to provide subject matter expertise as state agencies become involved and have knowledge of these federal programs.

In addition, the Governor activated the National Guard with personnel beginning in Flint on Wednesday.

Additional details are in the below news release.

The Joint Information Center will continue to provide updates as we become aware. For questions, please email _____ or call the JIC

Governor Snyder Requests Support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency

National Guard Activated to Assist with Flint's Water Emergency

LANSING, MI - Gov. Rick Snyder today requested support from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) to coordinate an interagency recovery plan with other federal agencies to provide resources to Flint.

This request will identify federal agencies that have programs, authorities and/or technical expertise that could be utilized in the ongoing response and recovery efforts in Flint to be made available. Such federal agencies may include the Department of Health and Human Services, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Housing and Urban Development, and Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, Snyder today issued an Executive Order activating the Michigan National Guard to assist with distributing supplies at the five water resource sites established in Flint.

"As we work to ensure that all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water, we are providing them with the direct assistance they need in order to stretch our resources further," Snyder said. "The Michigan National Guard is trained and ready to assist the citizens of Flint."

Members of the National Guard are expected to start arriving in Flint as early as Wednesday to assist with response efforts and plan to increase to over 30 personnel by Friday. The support of the National Guard will enable American Red Cross volunteers, who have been staffing the water resource sites since Jan. 9, to join the efforts of the water resource teams going door to door in Flint neighborhoods to distribute bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and testing kits.

This is the second time Snyder has activated the National Guard. The first was for the massive Duck Lake Fire in the Upper Peninsula in May 2012.

Under Executive Order 2016-02, the active state service units and individuals in the Michigan National Guard are authorized to assist in maximizing all state efforts to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County in accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan.

Flint residents can continue to pick up free bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and home water testing kits at the water resource sites.

On Jan. 5, Governor Snyder declared a state of emergency in the City of Flint at the request of Flint and Genesee County officials.

In accordance with the Michigan Emergency Management Plan, the director of the Michigan State Police, or her designee, is responsible for coordinating all state efforts, including the Michigan National Guard to assist the City of Flint and Genesee County.

Additional information about available resources can be found at www.michigan.gov/flintwater and by calling 2-1-1.

Not exactly. They had a few interviews with the residents but they did say they spoke with the Governor's office about the testing levels were seasonal.

Good morning Jen and Cheryl,

Thank you again for helping us with the social and media monitoring for the Flint JIC on Friday, January 15. Attached is an email from Nicole Lisabeth that went out to the state PIOs that includes location, time and additional information about the JIC.

As promised, below are some instructions and procedures for JIC media monitoring.

Social Media:
I have been mainly using TweetDeck to monitor Twitter. I created columns for #FlintWater, #FlintWaterCrisis, and a key word search for "Flint Water" and "Flint Water Bathing." An account that we have been following closely is the @flintwaterstudy Twitter account.

For Facebook, I have been using the hashtags #FlintWater and #FlintWaterCrisis as key hashtags to search.

Mainstream Media:
I have set up google alerts for "Flint water" but I have found that I am getting quicker results by manually searching "Flint water" through Google News. This has been receiving national and local coverage so we have been documenting both on a national and local level.

MiCIMS Procedures:
To upload a media monitoring report (attached is an example from last week) follow the below procedures.

1. Log into MiCIMS using your username and password.
2. Select Incident: 2015-10-01-City of Flint-Water Contamination / Shortage.
3. A main menu box should appear, select JIC/PIO Media Monitoring.
4. The JIC/PIO Media Monitoring screen will appear. To submit a new report, select New Record in the upper right hand corner.
5. Fill out the required fields and additional fields as needed.
6. Upload the word document as an attachment.
7. Select Save.

My goal has been to provide a media monitoring report twice a day, in the morning and afternoon. Articles, tweets or posts that I feel need immediate attention, I submit individually through MiCIMS and emailed to Reports should be submitted through MiCIMS and emailed to

If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to me. My office number is 517-241-0977 and my cell number is

Filters provide best access to safe drinking water in Flint
Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 11, 2016
Release #: 4
For more information contact: Joint Information Center: 888-EMD-TODAY (888-363-8632)

LANSING, Mich. – Flint residents are encouraged to use water filters as their primary source for water consumption and cooking needs.

"The best way to ensure safe drinking water in your home is to have a water filter properly installed on your tap," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. "Filters make your water safe to consume, and provide the most sustainable solution for having access to safe water in your home."

Donated water continues to be distributed to the five water resource sites at Flint fire stations. Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water. Free filters and replacement cartridges are available at the water resource sites.

"We recognize the urgency of getting water resources to the residents of Flint," Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "To help ensure the necessary resources continue to be available at the water resource sites, the state is expanding their partnership with the American Red Cross to utilize their warehousing and inventory management capabilities for stored water resources."

In addition, water resource teams will begin going door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods on Tuesday to distribute clean water resources. The water resource teams, consisting of state personnel and Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be distributing bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Hi F/Lt. Allen,

I just looked at all four of these news releases tonight. I only think you're going to get one bite at this apple. The media is not going to cover all four, and it's hard to say which one they will pick. Usually it depends on when it catches a reporter's eye and when they have some additional time.

Do you want to try to put your most important announcements into one news release and re-send it to me?

This issue is further complicated by the fact that I talked last week with the Attorney General's communications office regarding our plans for human trafficking awareness month and I assured them we were only planning social media, newsletter articles, and awareness seminars in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Knowing that they issued a press release. I had no idea all these other releases were in the works. There's just too many competing messages here.

Hi Tiff,

I went to doctor so hopefully I will start to feel better. Below are my edits. Please run past Greg since he requested this document. Jo Klotz will also need to sign off on behalf of Colonel. Thanks.

SUBJECT: Activation of State Emergency Operations Center

On January 5, Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water. By declaring a state of emergency, Governor Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) to coordinate state efforts. In addition, Governor Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) to coordinate the action's of state departments in the state's response and recovery efforts.

The SEOC is the emergency operations center for the state of Michigan and is overseen by the MSP/EMHSD. The SEOC is supported by staff from MSP/EMHSD and staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in the state of Michigan.

On January 6, a State of Michigan Joint Information Center (JIC) was also established to lead the state's messaging and information response in support of the SEOC and in coordination with the Genesee County Emergency Operations Center and the City of Flint.

Going forward, to better coordinate the health and safety of the residents of Flint and to ensure they are aware of and have access to the resources available within their community, the SEOC will serve as a central point of coordination between the local and state response efforts.

The state of Michigan is working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, to find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents.

You can use these documents to write the memo. I don't think we need to attach them to the memo, although it wouldn't hurt to share them with Mike and Dave so they have some background for situational awareness.

> Since Saturday, five water resource sites have been established Flint fire stations where residents can receive the resources they need to ensure their drinking water is safe. These sites are open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and serve as a one-stop location where residents can pick up free bottled water, water filters, water filter replacement cartridges, and free household water testing kits.

To date, the water resources sites have distributed over 43,000 bottles of water; 1,200 water filters; 800 water replacement cartridges; and 750 water testing kits to Flint residents.

We are making every effort to ensure the water resource sites are stocked with these supplies. We recognize at times that some of the sites may be running low on resources, but I ensure you that we are doing all that we can to meet the needs of residents.

Residents who may need transportation assistance can call 2-1-1.

Also, beginning tomorrow, four water resource teams, comprised of state personnel and Michigan State Police troopers, will be going door-to-door throughout Flint neighborhoods to ensure residents have the resources they need. The water resource teams will be handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges, and water testing kits.

If by chance a resident is not at home when the teams stop by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence. And calling 2-1-1- is always a great resource for citizens to learn more information.

The bulk of our actions continue to be identifying where specific resource needs are, where the gaps in recovery are, and ensuring we are coordinating closely with the city and county on any actions. This will allow us to target our actions and ensure we are not duplicating efforts.

A lot of great efforts are already underway by many local agencies; public, private, non-profit, etc.

I would especially like to thank the American Red Cross, United Way, 2-1-1 and the many other organizations that have assisted with water resource distribution efforts and the donations management process. We have also received an outpouring of support from volunteers and organizations who want to help with this effort. Individuals looking to volunteer or donate water should call 211.

We're working as fast as we can to identify what is being done already and what still needs to be done.

One of the most important messages and priorities for us is making sure residents are aware of the information and free resources currently available to them. The one-stop shop for all these resources is www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

This entire operation is about making sure Flint residents receive the resources and information they need, and we're 100% committed to doing what needs to be done until all needs are met.

If asked:

The efforts by the State of Michigan is to supplement the efforts being done by the City of Flint and Genesee County. If needed, the Federal Emergency Management Agency will help supplement state efforts to ensure city of Flint residents have the water resources they need.

Three Federal Emergency Management Agency liaisons are here providing technical guidance, but we will need a comprehensive and throughout assessment of the situation before we can approach FEMA.

Reporters will be receiving information about how to get video of the water resource teams distributing resources in neighborhoods will receive information from the JIC yet today.

Morning Report

MLive: Susan J. Demas: Flint water crisis shows limits of Snyder's 'dashboard' approach to governing Sometimes you have to rethink everything. When children are poisoned, as they have been in Flint, that should be a wake-up call. And it should start with Gov. Snyder.

Lansing State Journal: Letters to the Editor: 1.12
The crisis with Flint's water supply – and the clear and inept management of this crucial, life giving element by Gov. Rick Snyder's administration (as evidenced by the resignations of several officials in his administration over this issue) – begs several important questions:

New York Daily News: King: Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder did nothing as Flint's water crisis became one of the worst cases of environmental racism in modern American history
One of the great American fears is that one day terrorists, perhaps brown Muslim men with huge beards, robes and fake Syrian passports, will poison our water supply and kill us by the millions. It turns out that the fear was partly accurate — the water supply in an important American city has been poisoned, but not by ISIS. Instead, the culprits are conservative white men who look much more like "Mad Men" cast members.

Detroit Free Press: Should Flint residents pay for lead-poisoned water?
Residents of the impoverished City of Flint pay some of the highest water bills in Michigan. And those bills have not stopped coming or been reduced since state and local officials acknowledged the water is unsafe to drink without filtering.

Detroit News: Doctors worry about bathing kids in Flint water
Some medical professionals expressed concerns Monday about a state Department of Health and Human Services recommendation that children can be bathed in Flint tap water.

Detroit News: Moss: Flint crisis a chance to create a better future
Mia Farrow and Cher are tweeting. National media outlets are at full attention. The director of the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality and the agency's spokesperson have resigned. Several lawsuits have been filed. Meanwhile, Gov. Rick Snyder, set to deliver his State of the State address on Jan. 19, has apologized and declared a state of emergency.

WXYZ: Governor Snyder creates committee to support Flint during water crisis
Governor Rick Snyder signed an executive order today to create a committee dedicated to supporting Flint during the city's water crisis.

NBC News: Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder Turns to Feds for Help With Flint Water Crisis
With chanting protesters demanding his resignation in the background, Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder announced Monday that he plans to ask for federal aid to deal with the lead-poisoning crisis in Flint.

Detroit Free Press: In Flint, report that raised flags on lead went ignored

When Gov. Rick Snyder's chief of staff e-mailed the state health department about the brewing water crisis in Flint last July, that's what the state department of health told him, according to e-mails obtained by Virginia Tech University researcher Marc Edwards under the state Freedom of Information Act.

MLive: City hall office containing water documents broken into, officials say
Officials say a recent city hall break-in occurred in an office containing documents related to the city's water system.

MLive: Sheriff uses reverse 911 for Flint residents who need water help
Flint residents received a reverse 911 phone call from Sheriff Robert Pickell around 2:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 11, for information on receiving bottled water and filters.

Filters provide best access to safe drinking water in Flint

Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

LANSING, Mich. – Flint residents are encouraged to use water filters as their primary source for water consumption and cooking needs.

"The best way to ensure safe drinking water in your home is to have a water filter properly installed on your tap," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services. "Filters make your water safe to consume, and provide the most sustainable solution for having access to safe water in your home."

Donated water continues to be distributed to the five water resource sites at Flint fire stations. Residents should install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate, ongoing access to safe water. Free filters and replacement cartridges are available at the water resource sites.

"We recognize the urgency of getting water resources to the residents of Flint," Capt. Chris Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "To help ensure the necessary resources continue to be available at the water resource sites, the state is expanding their partnership with the American Red Cross to utilize their warehousing and inventory management capabilities for stored water resources."

In addition, water resource teams will begin going door-to-door in Flint neighborhoods on Tuesday to distribute clean water resources. The water resource teams, consisting of state personnel and Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be distributing bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Additional resources, including a video on how to install filters, are available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater and by calling 2-1-1.

State of Michigan to deploy water resource teams in city of Flint

Focus remains on ground stabilization, distribution of water resources

LANSING, Mich. – In its immediate response efforts, the state of Michigan is stabilizing the situation on the ground to ensure all Flint residents have access to clean and safe drinking water. In addition to the water resource sites, water resource teams will be in Flint neighborhoods beginning Tuesday to distribute clean water resources door to door.

The water resource teams consisting of state personnel, including Michigan State Police (MSP) troopers, will be handing out bottled water, water filters, replacement cartridges and water testing kits. If a resident is not home when a team stops by, a flyer with information on how to receive these free water resources will be left at their residence.

Once the state is beyond the immediate response phase, state officials will work with the federal government to determine what additional resources are available under their own authority. Currently, three FEMA liaison officers are in the State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) to provide technical guidance as needed at the request of Capt. Chris Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the MSP Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division.

Thanks Shanon.

Will a message be going out to all SOM PIOs from the Gov's office today about the JIC? I was thinking about this yesterday but aside from my calling Jen's cell phone all day, I never received the JIC activation press release, and talking points and social media haven't been distributed, so there's a chance people could get calls about something related to Flint and not know to send them to the JIC.

State of Michigan Joint Information Center Now Operational

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 6, 2016; 4:50 p.m.
Release #: 01
For more information contact: Joint Information Center: 888-EMD-TODAY (888-363-8632)

LANSING, Mich. – Today the State of Michigan launched its Joint Information Center (JIC) to coordinate public information from the State Emergency Operations Center, set up to help with health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water. The emergency operations center was activated after Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County on Jan. 5.

Public information and updates, including resources for residents such as how to obtain free water filters and lead testing, are available at www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

The JIC will serve as the state's central communications hub for this emergency and is staffed by public information officers (PIO) from several state agencies. Hours of operation will be 9 a.m. – 5 p.m., Monday – Friday, until further notice.

It is operating out of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division in Lansing. State officials have been in contact with Flint and Genesee County officials to move the JIC to the city of Flint to better partner and coordinate with local agencies.

The declaration makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency" on Jan. 4, activating local emergency response and recovery plans. By requesting a governor's declaration, the county has determined local resources are insufficient to address the situation and state assistance is required to protect public health, safety and property to lessen or avert the threat of a crisis.

The city of Flint has been under a local emergency declaration since Dec. 14, 2015.

Gov. Snyder declares emergency for Genesee County

State Emergency Operations Center activated to assist with relief efforts

LANSING, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today declared a state of emergency for Genesee County due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

By declaring a state of emergency, Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations. The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) to coordinate state efforts.

"The health and welfare of Flint residents is a top priority and we're committed to a coordinated approach with resources from state agencies to address all aspects of this situation," Snyder said. "Working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, we will find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents."

In addition to the emergency declaration, Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center to coordinate state response and recovery activities. State agencies will report to the center to coordinate resources, assess the situation and begin providing assets to assist with local relief operations.

"Our staff recognizes the urgency of this situation and is already working closely with local officials," said Capt. Chris A. Kelenske, Deputy State Director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the MSP/EMHSD. "We will continue to collaborate with state, city and county leaders to coordinate relief efforts, streamline communication and use all available resources to help residents."

On Jan. 4, Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency," which activated local emergency response and recovery plans. By requesting a governor's declaration, the county has determined local resources are insufficient to address the situation and state assistance is required to protect public health, safety and property to lessen or avert the threat of a crisis.

The city of Flint has been under a local emergency declaration since Dec. 14, 2015.

The SEOC is the emergency operations center for the state of Michigan. Located in Lansing, the center is overseen by the MSP/EMHSD and coordinates response and recovery efforts by state agencies and local government. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in the state of Michigan.

State of Emergency Declaration

- On Jan. 5, Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

- By declaring a state of emergency, Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

- The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) to coordinate state efforts.

- In addition to the emergency declaration, Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center to coordinate state departments, the state's response, resources, and relief and recovery activities.

- The SEOC is the emergency operations center for the state of Michigan. Located in Lansing, the center is overseen by the MSP/EMHSD and coordinates response and recovery efforts by state agencies and local government. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in the state of Michigan.

- On Jan. 6, the Joint Information Center was opened to lead the state's messaging and information response in coordination with the local Emergency Operations Center, Genesee County, and the City of Flint.

- The state of Michigan is working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, to find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents.

Background

- In response to elevated lead levels found in drinking water in the city of Flint, the state of Michigan is collaborating with local government, and water and health experts to protect the health of residents.

- On Oct. 2, 2015, Gov. Snyder released a comprehensive action plan to address elevated blood lead levels and lead rates in drinking water in the city of Flint. This plan included the following action steps:

    - Test Flint public schools drinking water, with testing also available at no cost to any other school in Flint.
    - Offer free water testing to Flint residents.
    - Provide free water filters to residents.
    - Expanded health exposure testing of individual homes.
    - Accelerate corrosion controls in the Flint drinking water system.
    - Accelerate water system improvements to address replacing lead service lines.
    - Expedite the completion of the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline.
    - Expand a Safe Drinking Water Technical Advisory Committee.
    - Named Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive for the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, as the Flint drinking water public health adviser.
    - Boosted a comprehensive lead education program to make sure residents have detailed information about how to protect themselves and their homes.

- On Oct. 16, 2015, the city of Flint reconnected with the Great Lakes Water Authority as the source of the city's drinking water until the Karegnondi Water Authority pipeline is completed.

- On Oct. 21, 2015, Gov. Snyder announced the creation of the independent Flint Water Advisory Task Force charged with reviewing actions regarding water use and testing in Flint and offer recommendations for future guidelines to protect the health and safety of all state residents.

Flint Water Emergency Response

State of Emergency Declaration

- On Jan. 5, Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County due to the ongoing health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water.

- By declaring a state of emergency, Snyder has made available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

- The declaration authorizes the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) to coordinate state efforts.

- In addition to the emergency declaration, Snyder activated the State Emergency Operations Center to coordinate state departments, the state's response, resources, and relief and recovery activities.

- The SEOC is the emergency operations center for the state of Michigan. Located in Lansing, the center is overseen by the MSP/EMHSD and coordinates response and recovery efforts by state agencies and local government. The SEOC is staffed by members of state agencies and other partners for decision making and information coordination during disasters or emergencies in the state of Michigan.

- On Jan. 6, the Joint Information Center was opened to lead the state's messaging and information response in coordination with the local Emergency Operations Center, Genesee County, and the City of Flint.

- The state of Michigan is working in full partnership with the Flint Water Advisory Task Force, all levels of government and water quality experts, to find both short-term and long-term solutions to ensure the health and safety of Flint residents.

Frequently Asked Questions

Flint Water Situation and Declaration Process

What is a local state of emergency?

- The chief executive official of a community, like a mayor or county board chair, can declare a "local state of emergency" during an emergency or disaster. A local declaration enables a community to activate its emergency operations plans and administer local aid and assistance. Directives may be issued too.

- A local emergency declaration is not an automatic call for state or federal assistance. A local declaration is a mechanism to cope with an emergency or disaster.

- A local declaration typically complements the activation of a county's or a municipality's emergency operations center and public information operations.

Why does Flint depend on Genesee County for emergency declarations?

- The city of Flint has opted to be incorporated into the Genesee County Emergency Management program. The city has an emergency support plan that complements Genesee County's emergency operations plan.

- When the city of Flint exhausts its resources during an incident, they may call upon Genesee County for resources. It's a mutual agreement where both help each other out when it's needed most.

- The city of Flint's Fire Chief and Genesee County's Emergency Management Coordinator are designated as the officials to manage an emergency situation.

What is a Governor's declaration?

- When a designated Michigan Emergency Management Act program exhausts its resources during an emergency or disaster, they may request specific resources from the state of Michigan. Resources include contracts, equipment and personnel.

- All requests for a governor's declaration are submitted to the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division, which reviews the request and provides a recommendation to the Governor's Office. The Governor may approve or deny the request.

- The Governor can declare a "state of disaster" or "state of emergency" that makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

What state resources are available under a Governor's declaration?

- The Governor may provide state resources, like contracts, equipment, and personnel, to support and assist during the emergency or disaster.

- For the situation in Flint, state resources were deployed even before the disaster declaration. For example, the Michigan Legislature provided $9.35 million to lessen the threat of a catastrophe by reconnecting the city water to the Detroit Water and Sewer System. Funding was also provided for lead testing, case management for children with elevated blood levels, and water filters.

What is a Presidential declaration?

- When a state exhausts its resources during an emergency or disaster, a Governor may request assistance through the Stafford Act. Requests from Michigan are submitted to the President through the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Region V Office in Chicago.

- FEMA reviews all requests and provides a recommendation to the President. Ultimately, the President decides whether to make an emergency or major disaster declaration.

Is a Presidential declaration possible for the Flint water situation?

- A Presidential declaration requires a state to prove the incident is beyond the capabilities and resources of both local and state response and recovery efforts.

- A Presidential major disaster declaration provides long-term recovery resources after an emergency or disaster. Federal law and regulations define a major disaster as being any natural catastrophe, any fire, flood or explosion.

- A Presidential emergency declaration provides supplemental aide during an incident. Federal law outlines an emergency where federal assistance is needed to supplement state and local efforts and capabilities to save lives and to protect public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe. Up to $5 million in assistance is available. Amounts over that dollar figure require notification to Congress.

Will the Governor request a Presidential Declaration under the Stafford Act?

- All options are being examined for assistance, such as through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (Community Development Block Grants), the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, the Environmental Protection Agency, or legislative action. The Stafford Act is one mechanism to obtain assistance.

State of Michigan Joint Information Center Now Operational

LANSING, Mich. – Today the State of Michigan launched its Joint Information Center (JIC) to coordinate public information from the State Emergency Operations Center, set up to help with health and safety issues caused by lead in the city of Flint's drinking water. The emergency operations center was activated after Gov. Rick Snyder declared a state of emergency for Genesee County on Jan. 5.

Public information and updates, including resources for residents such as how to obtain free water filters and lead testing, are available at www.michigan.gov/FlintWater.

The JIC will serve as the state's central communications hub for this emergency and is staffed by public information officers (PIO) from several state agencies. Hours of operation will be 9 a.m. – 5 p.m., Monday – Friday, until further notice.

It is operating out of the Michigan State Police Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division in Lansing. State officials have been in contact with Flint and Genesee County officials to move the JIC to the city of Flint to better partner and coordinate with local agencies.

The declaration makes available all state resources in cooperation with local response and recovery operations.

Genesee County declared a "local state of emergency" on Jan. 4, activating local emergency response and recovery plans. By requesting a governor's declaration, the county has determined local resources are insufficient to address the situation and state assistance is required to protect public health, safety and property to lessen or avert the threat of a crisis.

The city of Flint has been under a local emergency declaration since Dec. 14, 2015.

Hello, I just received a call from a Genesee Co employee ref the attachment. Apparently, this went out as a mass email which included hundreds of people not receiving city of Flint water. This has caused mass confusion and anxiety throughout the areas with SOME franchise customers. The county is now fielding numerous calls reference testing for homes, blood tests, etc., for people not on Flint water. Hoping something can be sent out to rectify this issue. Thanks, Lt. Roach

Current Issues Talking Points

Michigan Legislature approves immediate supplemental funds for Flint

- The Michigan Legislature has unanimously approved Gov. Rick Snyder's $28 million supplemental proposal for Flint.
- This emergency funding is in addition to the $9.35 million allocated back in October to switch the water source back to Detroit's water system, purchase filters and screen for abnormal blood lead levels.
    - The state is working on longer-term funding to be included in the Governor's budget request in February.
- The $28 million will be used to help Flint's utilities, treating Flint children with high blood lead levels and the replacement of plumbing fixtures in schools, child care centers, foster care and nursing homes.
- This supplemental funding is just one part of the solution for healing Flint.
    - The immediate needs will be met, but so will the long-term needs of residents with regard to public health, infrastructure replacement and community support.

Flint emergency declaration extended to April 14

- Today Gov. Rick Snyder issued a proclamation calling for an extension to the emergency declaration in the city of Flint and Genesee County.
- The Michigan House and Senate approved the request, extending the emergency until April 14, 2016.
    - This extension coincides with the current Presidential Emergency Declaration.
- Extending this emergency will help us continue providing immediate assistance to the people of Flint while working on long-term solutions to help Flint recover from this tragedy.

Federal funds

- In an interview today, Lt. Gov. Brian Calley said that only $17 million of the $80 million in federal loans made available to Michigan can be allocated towards the recovery effort in Flint.
- This clarified a misunderstanding that the entire $80 million in federal loans could be allocated to aid in water infrastructure improvements for Flint.
- Read the Detroit Free Press story here: http://www.freep.com/story/news/local/michigan/flint-water-crisis/2016/01/28/only-17m-federal-loans-flint-says-lt-gov/79454204/

Comprehensive Plan for Flint

- Yesterday, the Governor held a press conference in Flint to outline next steps for the city, including infrastructure needs and clean water.
- Later in the day, Dr. Mark Edwards, who is part of the Governor's newly appointed Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee, echoed Governor Snyder's sentiments on how to fix the water issue and how to deal with the pipes.

Medicaid/Federal Asks

- On Jan. 26, Governor Snyder announced that a request will be sent to the federal government that asks for all Flint residents under age 21 to receive additional healthcare services to address potential problems brought on from exposure to lead.
- We want to make sure comprehensive medical care services are available, and we hope the federal government will partner in our efforts.
- Request will include:
  - Expanded Medicaid eligibility for all residents in the impacted areas up to age 21, regardless of income level.
  - Lead-abatement programs to help minimize and/or prevent any long term adverse health problems associated with lead exposure.
  - Additional, community-based resources to ensure all children, regardless of health insurance coverage, have access to comprehensive medical treatment.

Subject: Kilpatrick comments on Flint water

WXYZ) - From behind bars, former disgraced Detroit Mayor Kwame Kilpatrick is taking to social media with comments on the Flint water crisis.

Kilpatrick is expressing outrage from inside a federal prison. It came in a lengthy Facebook message from family members on his behalf.

According to the letter, Kilpatrick said he knew about the issues with the Flint water system back in 2004, despite the city being with the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department until 2014.

He also said he wasn't the only one with knowledge of the issues in Flint.

"Former Michigan Governor, Jennifer Granholm, was well aware of the issues with the Flint Water Department, and their inability to produce contaminant free water moving forward, nor afford the equipment & technology to do so," he wrote.

Kilpatrick also wrote that Gov. Snyder is misleading people by saying he recently found out about the issue.

"More than likely, he is being viciously, aggressively, and deliberately untruthful," he wrote. "I pray that the truth comes out.

"I pray for justice for the people of Flint! And I also pray that God will give to all of you in Michigan the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him. That you all may have your eyes opened with understanding," Kilpatrick added.

His entire letter reads:

"FYI
Just so you all know. We (The Detroit Water and Sewage Department) were talking about the problems of the Flint Water Department (financial management, ability to perform, cleanliness of water, elimination of contaminants, mercury levels, lead levels) back in 2004. We knew (our folks in Detroit, SEMCOG, Genesee County Officials, some members of the State Legislature, and the Governor at that time) new that there were significant issues with all of those items.

In 2006 we attempted to craft a deal to put them on our water system. We were in negotiations, led by Victor Mercado, for months, and I wanted to make it work. I attended one meeting, and was on a conference call for another, expressing my willingness to make this work. SEMCOG and Judge Fiekens was also aware of this. SEMCOG was against the Agreement!

BUT, the people in Genesee County, at the table during that time (the County Drain Commissioner & his staff, a State Senator, and a State House Member all from Genesee County) wanted to keep control of the system.

Also, former Michigan Governor, Jennifer Granholm, was well aware of the issues with the Flint Water Department, and their inability to produce contaminant free water moving forward, nor afford the equipment & technology to do so.

When the current Governor of Michigan says that he "only recently was made aware of this issue", he is being misleading at best. But more than likely, he is being viciously, aggressively, and deliberately untruthful. I pray that the truth comes out. That's what everyone in Michigan wants right? The Truth! Well, my prayer is that you all will have an opportunity to warm yourselves at the fire of Truth.

I am here in prison, with a 28-year sentence, for a case where there is NO EMBEZZLEMENT, NO MISUSE OF PUBLIC FUNDS, NO BRIBERY, NO STEALING OF ANY MONEY, as a matter of fact, NO PUBLIC MONEY AT ALL. And NO CHARGES THEREOF! 99% of Detroiters have NO idea why I'm here. They don't know the charges, nor what I'm sentenced for. They sure do know the rumors.

I wonder how much time you get for knowingly & actually delivering unsafe, dangerous, and poisonous drinking water to the people you represent? Which in-turn causes deaths, permanent illnesses, and disabilities. Can you actually be hated, hurt, and imprisoned for ridiculous rumors about murder...and not be for actually killing people?

I pray for justice for the people of Flint! And I also pray that God will give to all of you in Michigan the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him. That you all may have your eyes opened with understanding.

The blindness is hurting lots of people. Its even killing some. OPEN YOUR EYES!

State Using Technology to Identify Lead Pipes and Track Water Resource Distribution in Flint

Flint, Mich. – In an effort to help identify the location of lead pipes and other components of Flint's water infrastructure, GIS experts from the City of Flint, State of Michigan, the University of Michigan – Flint, and FEMA have translated hundreds of hand-drawn plat maps from the 1980s and hand-written notes on thousands of cards about updates to home plumbing systems into digitized maps. These maps are helping with the response and determine where safe water is needed.

"Mapping infrastructure to this depth of detail is highly unusual," said Capt. Chris A. Kelenske, deputy state director of emergency management and homeland security and commander of the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division. "Since most of the water system infrastructure is underground, we can't just walk out and survey it, so GIS mapping is a critical component of the state's coordinated response."

Once the maps are in digital format, they are synched with 2015 parcel data. The maps can then be overlaid with Census information and infrastructure information, allowing analysts to pinpoint which homes have lead service lines.

"The state is making progress in organizing, cataloging, and converting water service line information from paper to searchable databases and digitized maps," said Scott Bailey, a GIS data analyst with FEMA helping with the mapping project. "This is going to be a success story because prior to this event, this type of information was not available in a GIS environment."

The GIS systems have already assisted response teams as they go door to door to deliver water supplies to residents. Each team is armed with an iPad that feeds information into the GIS system. The online application uploads home data in real time, noting whether there are children in the household and which ones have been provided with bottled water, a water test kit, a water filter and replacement cartridges. The information has also helped identify the number of inhabited homes in a city affected by blight. Old data may show a street full of residents, when some houses are actually vacant.

Gov. Snyder Approves $28 Million in Immediate Aid for City of Flint

Appropriation will fund several programs to address Water Crisis

Flint, Mich. – Gov. Rick Snyder today, signed a $28 million budget supplemental which assists Flint residents by addressing the city's on-going water crisis. The supplemental, which Snyder called for in his State of the State Address January 19th, was approved by the legislature Thursday and signed by the Governor this morning.

"I thank the Legislature for their quick action to make this additional $28 million a reality. It is a necessary next-step in ongoing recovery efforts for the city," Snyder said. "We know that more money will be needed to address long-term concerns and I want to reassure the families of Flint that I remain dedicated to fixing this problem."

House Bill 5220, approved unanimously in both the House and Senate, will help ensure Flint residents have access to safe, clean drinking water in addition to the following:

- Supply free bottled water, faucet filters, and testing kits for Flint residents;
- Put nine nurses in local schools to monitor student health and well-being;
- Provide better nutrition for students and infants through WIC and in-school nutrition programs;
- Replace fixtures in schools, daycares, nursing homes and hospitals;
- Provide for an infrastructure study using independent experts;
- Treat any children who have high lead levels in the blood, using diagnostic testing, nurse visits and environmental assessments in the home.

Gov. Snyder will propose a long-term funding solution to address the ongoing needs of Flint in his Feb. 10 formal budget recommendation to the legislature.

Water Resource Sites Open Daily from 9 a.m. – 9 p.m.

Audio Available from Governor Snyder's Tele-Town Hall

Flint, Mich. – As efforts continue to ensure Flint residents have safe drinking water, Governor Snyder last night held a live tele-town hall where he and other state officials fielded questions from residents on the state's actions. A recording of the conversation can be heard here.

One of the most visible aspects of the response continues to be the distribution of bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits by National Guard members at five of the city's fire stations.

As part of the distribution process, residents seeking water filters and replacement cartridges are asked to share their address. This data is being collected and mapped in real-time to assist with long-term recovery and help water response teams know where to focus their door-to-door efforts. It is important to note that no resident will be denied resources if an address is not provided, and a photo identification is not required.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- 207,055 cases of water
- 97,342 water filters
- 30,801 water testing kits

Water response teams also continued door-to-door delivery efforts. Today, 125 American Red Cross and other volunteers visited 1,768 homes providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Earlier this afternoon, a coalition of public-private partners announced Flint's coordinated recycling program for empty water bottles and used water filter cartridges. Residents can learn more here.

Bathing in Water is Safe for Flint Children, Adults

FLINT, Mich. – The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services today reminded parents that it is okay to bathe in water from the Flint water system. The state is aware of concerns related to skin issues, but there is no known scientific link connecting rashes to the change in water source.

"Based on current testing and guidance from our federal partners, it's important to reiterate to families that bathing is safe for adults and children in Flint," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the MDHHS. "Naturally, people in Flint continue to be concerned about water quality and our department is working closely with officials from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as well as the local provider community to monitor all health issues that may be related to water. At this time there is no evidence to suggest this guidance should change."

MDHHS is currently recommending that bath time be used for bathing only, after which children should be taken out of the bath. Children should be supervised at all times while bathing and caution should be used to ensure that children do not drink the water. Any resident with concerns about a rash should contact their primary care doctor immediately.

Currently, rashes are only reportable to MDHHS when there is a suspect infectious disease such as measles or chickenpox. MDHHS, along with the local provider community, is working in partnership with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to determine what additional supports and surveillance may be necessary.

In addition to Michigan Department of Environmental Quality water testing, the EPA samples throughout the city of Flint show that residual chlorine is present in the system, which helps to prevent bacteria. While there are levels in some areas of the system that could be improved, the EPA also collected and analyzed a sample for bacteria at the site with the lowest chlorine level. The test showed that no bacteria (coliform and E. coli) were present.

For more information about Flint water, visit www.michigan.gov/FlintWater. Flint residents with questions should call 2-1-1 to be connected to local resources.

Accumulated ice falling from the Mackinac Bridge has prompted bridge officials to close it to traffic temporarily as a safety precaution. Warmer temperatures and increased sun have loosened ice that formed on the bridge's towers and cables, causing some of it to fall on the driving lanes below. The Mackinac Bridge Authority (MBA) has closed the bridge until the ice is clear or has stopped falling, which in the past has taken an average of a few hours, depending on weather conditions.

MPSC

Utility regulators should look at water rates (The Times Herald)

Northville Township residents are up in arms because of a proposal to raise their water and sewer rates by about 10 percent. Northville Township is a customer of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

Opponents of the increase have suggested a fix for what they consider arbitrary and illogical increases. They say that the Michigan Public Service Commission should set water rates, particularly within the Detroit system. There is an obvious logic to the proposal. The MPSC sets rates for monopoly public utilities in the state — for electricity, for natural gas, for the Harsens Island ferry.

LEGISLATIVE

$28M Flint water crisis aid to evolve in Michigan Senate Wednesday (Mlive)
The total amount of money the state is appropriating to help Flint recover from its water crisis will remain the same under Senate consideration Wednesday, but where those dollars are directed will look slightly different. "We have some better information about where it can be used the best, and I think we're going to make those changes," Senate Majority Leader Arlan Meekhof, R-West Olive, told reporters on the Senate floor Tuesday.

Local officials sue to block law prohibiting ballot info (AP)
School and local government officials have filed a federal lawsuit to block a new Michigan law that restricts them from informing voters about ballot issues. The complaint Tuesday against the state alleges the "gag order" law unconstitutionally infringes on free speech rights. Local officials are seeking an injunction so they can disseminate information before March 8 elections.

Pettalia Supports Gov. Snyder's Attempts to Fix Flint Crisis (WBKB)
Governor Rick Snyder has been under a lot of fire lately for the water crisis in Flint, and 106th District Representative, Peter Pettalia, feels that Snyder's state of the state address the other night was sincere and tackled the issue the best way he could. Governor Snyder accepted major responsibility for the Flint drinking water catastrophe in his state of the state address on Tuesday and set out both short–term and long–term promises to make things right.

OPINION

Our editorial: Don't pay for dirty Flint water (Detroit News)
Flint city leaders continue to bill residents for water service, including bills for past service of contaminated water. But residents shouldn't be on the hook for water they can't use. Until households have the water filters and other materials they need to make sure their water is clean, it's unfair to ask them to pay for the utility.

Editorial: Flint's water disaster offers lessons for Virginia (Richmond Times-Dispatch)
Much of the country has been horrified and angered by the disaster that has unfolded in Flint, Michigan, because of the city's tainted water supply. Let's hope state and local officials are taking notes and thinking about how to avoid similar disasters. The struggling city decided to join a regional water system then under construction and, in the meantime, draw from the Flint River. Officials with the state's Department of Environmental Quality did not require the use of anti-corrosion chemicals, in defiance of federal rules. This led to (surprise!) corrosion and dangerously elevated lead levels in the drinking water.

Editorial: Rethink how young convicts are treated (Detroit News)
This week's U.S. Supreme Court ruling granting a reprieve for convicts serving life sentences without parole for crimes committed as juveniles forces Michigan to adhere to common sense criminal justice reforms. State officials and lawmakers should use the ruling as the impetus to rethink how it deals with young criminals.

Politics & Prejudices: What really caused the Flint disaster (Metro Times)
Dan Kildee, Flint's congressman for the last three years, should have had a sense of satisfaction the day I talked to him. For months, he had been pushing Gov. Rick Snyder to swallow his pride and ask for federal help for Flint.

Flint Water Discussion Points
Updated Jan. 26

Current Issues Talking Points

Medicaid/Federal Asks

- Governor Snyder today announced that a request will be sent to the federal government that asks for all Flint residents under age 21 to receive additional healthcare services to address potential problems brought on from exposure to lead.
- We want to make sure comprehensive medical care services are available, and we hope the federal government will partner in our efforts.
- Request will include:
    - Expanded Medicaid eligibility for all residents in the impacted areas up to age 21, regardless of income level.
    - Lead-abatement programs to help minimize and/or prevent any long term adverse health problems associated with lead exposure.
    - Additional, community-based resources to ensure all children, regardless of health insurance coverage, have access to comprehensive medical treatment.

House passage of the $28 million supplemental bill (unanimous vote)

- The supplemental request includes short-term funding to address immediate needs in the city, including bottled water, filters and testing kits.
    - The supplemental request will also include funds to address the most critical needs of Flint residents.
    - The Governor has asked to completely re-open the budget proposal the administration has been working on since last fall to assess all of the resources available to provide long-term support to the health of Flint residents.
- The health and safety of Flint residents remains a top priority. The Governor has worked closely with the Legislature to encourage quick passage of the supplemental to encourage immediate action.
- We look forward to the Senate taking action on this bill this week.

General High-level talking points

- There are people in the state of Michigan that can't drink their water, and that is unacceptable to all of us. As Governor, Rick Snyder has taken responsibility, taken emergency response measures and is committed to dedicate all the resources needed to make this right for the people of Flint.

- The top priority for Governor Snyder and his administration is ensuring every Flint resident has access to clean, safe drinking water. We are committed to providing affected children and families access to medical and educational resources to ensure long-term care and treatment.

- The Flint water crisis has been a systemic failure of government at all levels: from the city of Flint, the state of Michigan, the civil servant scientists and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

- The Governor has held himself and his government accountable. The Governor replaced the leadership of Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) and has taken disciplinary measures on the staff and civil servant scientists responsible for the crisis. Actions have been taken to ensure a new and capable team is overseeing Flint water and creating a department culture focused on the health and safety of Michigan residents. Two DEQ officials involved in the testing of Flint water have been suspended pending an investigation, in accordance with civil service rules.

- The Governor has asked to completely re-open the budget proposal the administration has been working on since last fall to assess all of the resources available to provide long-term support to the health of Flint residents. In addition, the supplemental budget request will provide funds to the city to help alleviate the need for utility shutoffs.

- Governor Snyder and his administration are committed to working in partnership with Flint Mayor Karen Weaver, independent experts, and the federal government to ensure both short-term and long-term solutions.

Resources distributed (as of 1/25/2016):

- 176,118 cases of water
- 93,048 filters
- 29,320 testing kits
- 198,552 filter cartridges

Homes visited by Flint Water Response Teams (as of 1/24/16): 37,844

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 4

Current Issues Talking Points

State Senate takes up and approves Governor's $30 million proposal to assist Flint with water bill payments.

- No family or resident should be required to pay for water that is or was unfit for consumption.
- Yesterday, the Governor announced a plan to request $30 million to assist the city of Flint with water bill payments. The funding would come in the form of a supplemental from the Fiscal Year 2016 budget.
- The proposal calls for a Consumption and Use Credit the city could use to relieve families of a portion of their water bills from April 2014 through April 2016.
    - A typical Flint resident's billing statement includes charges for water and sewer.
    - Under the plan, the funding would be made available to cover water used for drinking, cooking and bathing which is approximately 65 percent of the water portion of a residents' water and sewer bill.
    - Residents would still be responsible for the remaining balance of the water portion of a bill accounting for water used in ways that do not qualify as consumption.
    - Residents would be responsible for covering all sewer costs.
- The official request was to be part of the Governor's formal budget presentation next week on Feb. 10, the Senate took up the proposal and passed it unanimously today.
- If approved in the House, total supplemental emergency funding for Flint will total $67.3 million this fiscal year.

Legionnaires Disease

- As the Governor has said repeatedly, he was not briefed on this issue until January 2016. He took action promptly and released the information publicly.
- When Harvey Hollins received the March email, he requested the DEQ look into the concerns, check with its experts, and get the facts. If the concerns were determined to be credible, the director was to bring the issue to the attention of the Governor.
- The issue was not brought to the Governor's attention until January of this year.

- Gov. Snyder has made changes at the department to address these concerns and change the culture to best protect the well-being of Michiganders.

Republican and Democratic Presidential Debates coming to Flint

- It was confirmed today that both a Republican (Detroit) and Democratic (Flint) Presidential debate will take place in Michigan in early March.
- To date the Federal Government has provided only $5 million in funding to assist residents in Flint while the State has allocated $37.3 million in emergency funding to support Flint families.
    - The Governor also proposed a plan to dedicate an additional $30 million as part of his upcoming formal budget presentation to assist Flint residents with water bill payments.
- What will help Flint more than a presidential debate is working together to implement concrete solutions that will aid the city along its road to recovery now and into the future.
- It is important we draw on all available resources to help meet both the immediate and long-term needs of Flint residents.

Hello PIOs,

Just wanted to reach out to let you know that we are beginning to nail down the final pieces of the budget in preparation for the presentation on February 10 (Wednesday). It may not be until Saturday before I can get your respective budget narratives out to all of you, but I will get them to you as soon as I can. For those of you who want to run your narratives past your directors and/or budget team, you may want to put them on notice for the weekend. We will need to go to print by Sunday night, so it doesn't leave a lot of time for review and feedback I know, but we will aim to have them in good shape for you.

Once the news release and talking points and budget slides are finalized next week, we'll make sure you all get an early copy. For those of you who have a role in the Flint water crisis, I'll need to lean on you for help if reporters start asking specific questions about the status of supplemental funding and when the programs supported with that funding will begin. Thank you all. You'll be getting more from me soon.

Current Issues Talking Points

Flint Mayor calls for immediate replacement of Flint pipes

- In a press conference today, Flint Mayor Karen Weaver called for immediate replacement of Flint's water infrastructure.
- Immediately removing pipes could potentially add to the infrastructure problem and result in higher costs for the city.
- Both Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich and Virginia Tech water treatment expert Marc Edwards advise first mapping the city's pipes to determine the location of lead infrastructure.
- Edwards also says the state is taking the correct actions to make Flint's water safe again. Adding phosphate to the water to coat the pipes is a necessary first step toward ensuring safe drinking water for Flint residents.

Senate Minority Leader sends Governor Flint action letter

- The Governor's senior staff has been in close communication with state Sen. Jim Ananich and have met with him frequently to provide updates, answer questions and get feedback.
- The Governor remains committed to providing Flint residents with the resources needed to implement both short and long-term solutions and will continue to work closely with Ananich.
- The Governor will announce a long-term funding proposal in his formal budget presentation next week to further address Flint water.

DPS Emergency Manager Darnell Earley resigns

- Today, Detroit Public Schools Emergency Manager Darnell Earley resigned, effective February 29.

- The Governor will appoint a transition leader before the end of the month to help guide DPS through a plan that will help address the district's academics and finances giving students and teachers the learning environment they deserve.
- The Governor is encouraging the Legislature to pass a bill package that will help address the $515 million debt faced by DPS. With that support the district should be better able to manage its business and educational goals.

Governor continues to stress importance of home water testing

- A video with instructions on how to properly test home water is available to share: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QTER-DiK64o
- The health and safety of Flint residents remains a top priority. It is essential that all Flint residents have the water in their homes tested as soon as possible.
- While water filters will eliminate lead in most homes, those with levels above 150 parts per billion will need to take extra precaution.
- If levels are above 150 ppb, residents should not drink water from the filtered faucet and use bottled water only.
- DEQ and DHHS will visit homes found to have lead levels over 150 ppb for additional testing.
- To date, less than one percent of Flint homes have been identified as having lead levels of this amount. Results showing lower levels indicate residents should continue following established protocols.
- Pregnant and nursing mothers and young children should continue to drink bottled water as a precaution.
- Free water testing kits are available at Fire Stations 1, 3, 5, 6, and 8. Water Samples should be returned to the fire stations for testing.
- Anyone who is unable to get to a Fire Station to pick up a free testing kit should call United Way 2-1-1 for assistance.

Opinion: Separating effective communication from spin
By: Matthew Seeger, Detroit News, 2/1/16

The Flint water disaster has become another cautionary tale about the risks of crisis and disaster and failed responses, management and communication.

In terms of the number of people harmed and timeframe for the harm, this is probably the worst disaster to affect Michigan in recent memory. The fact that the disaster was primarily human-caused makes the harm appear to be much worse. Disasters that are seen primarily as acts of God create less psychological impact and anger than those that are caused by human decisions and failures.

While there are many failures and lots of blame to go around, one of major causalities has been effective communication and the trust that comes from people getting accurate, timely and consistent information from their state and local governments.

The governor has now hired public relations professionals to help manage the communication associated with the disaster. These professionals were hired with private as opposed to state funds. Not surprisingly this development is being questioned, as an effort to spin the crisis is more positive ways.

Spin, from all sides, is always part of a crisis, but crisis communication is much more than PR spin — it's critical to an effective response, helping the people affected and learning from our mistakes.

Residents of Flint need good information about the distribution of bottled water, about ongoing changes in water quality and about possible health impacts for themselves and their family members. Regular updates need to be provided about what is being done to address the situation and what is changing from day to day. Others need information about how we can help. These messages need to be consistent, frequent, and address their specific concerns and needs. We need to hear regularly and directly from the people in control and they need to be honest and open.

Good communication can reduce uncertainty and help people regain some sense of control. Effective communication can also help sort out the very confused question about blame and responsibility and who knew what when, what actions should have been taken, and why wasn't action taken much sooner. Good crisis communication also involves listening to those impacted and hearing their concerns and anger. Most important, communication can help determine how to go forward.

The state is now participating in a Joint Information Center (JIC) to help facilitate the release of information with other state and local agencies. The state has adopted a much more transparent and cooperative stance. These are important first steps. As more is learned about what happened and why, that too should be communicated. In addition, our elected officials should be open about what they have learned about how those lessons will be translated into future actions and policies.

The Flint water crisis has played into many existing beliefs about the failures of government, the vulnerability of our poorer communities and the decay of our aging infrastructure. The intensity of responses and level of outrage have been very high and do not appear to be dissipating any time soon. Trust in state government is likely at an all-time low. Even the best crisis communicator will be unable to overcome that perception of outrage and extreme distrust. Efforts to spin the meaning of the Flint disaster will likely continue but should not overshadow or be confused with the broader efforts to communicate effectively.

Matthew Seeger is a professor of communication, dean of the College of Fine, Performing and Communicating Arts at Wayne State University and author or co-author of seven books on crisis communication.

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 1

Current Issues Talking Points

Governor and DEQ stress importance of home water testing

- The health and safety of Flint residents remains a top priority. It is essential that all Flint residents have the water in their homes tested as soon as possible.
- While water filters will eliminate lead in most homes, those with levels above 150 parts per billion will need to take extra precaution.
- If levels are above 150 ppb, residents should not drink water from the filtered faucet and use bottled water only.
- DEQ and DHHS will visit homes found to have lead levels over 150 ppb for additional testing.
- To date, less than one percent of Flint homes have been identified as having lead levels of this amount. Results showing lower levels indicate residents should continue following established protocols.
- Pregnant and nursing mothers and young children should continue to drink bottled water as a precaution.
- Free water testing kits are available at Fire Stations 1, 3, 5, 6, and 8. Water Samples should be returned to the fire stations for testing.
- Anyone who is unable to get to a Fire Station to pick up a free testing kit should call United Way 2-1-1 for assistance.

Federal denial of WIC expansion for Flint children

- On Saturday, the federal government denied the Governor's request to use supplemental nutrition funding for Flint children up to 10 years of age who may have been exposed to high lead levels in the water.
- The governor has continually stated that the Flint water issue is the result of government failure at all levels. All levels of government should be committed to supporting Flint's families along their road to recovery.

- It is understood that WIC funding is generally meant for children five years old and younger, however this disaster calls for a waiver of this rule. Expanded nutritional support for children under 10 is essential to their long-term well-being.
- The Governor is urging the federal government to re-evaluate their denial of this funding.
- The state has provided more than $28 million for a short-term solution in Flint, but additional funding and collaboration is necessary to implement a successful long-term solution.

Good afternoon,

In preparation for announcing additional appropriation measures related to the Flint water emergency in the upcoming FY 17 budget presentation, we'll be preparing a briefing document for legislators. As part of this effort, we want to include a Frequently Asked Questions document. This is where we really need your help.

Your budget staff should have a breakdown of each potential spending item related to your agency (both pending FY 16 supplemental items and FY 17 items). Please work with your budget folks and your communications team to develop any FAQs that you anticipate the public or legislators might ask, related to each item assigned to your agency.

Outreach to the Legislature has already begun, so having these responses back from you quickly is very important. Please send our PIO, Kurt Weiss, and me your FAQ lists no later than 5:00 p.m. this Tuesday, February 2.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns, or feel free to have your communications staff touch base with Kurt. I apologize for the short time window, but we really appreciate your help.

After looking at DEQ's, I expanded the MDHHS information as well:

In response to the elevated blood lead levels found in some Flint children, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services has worked closely with partners at the state and local level to reach and educate families and providers about what they can do to help protect the health of Flint residents. These actions include providing funding to Genesee County Health Department for nurses to work with families when an elevated blood lead level has been detected. During these follow-up visits, nurses coordinate with environmental health investigators to meet with families in their homes to identify lead exposures, address questions and provide water filters.

Further, MDHHS has requested support from our federal partners to expand program eligibility for Medicaid, as well as support on the ground in case management and long term services for families. These requests will ensure that every child in Flint has access to good nutritional education and resources, long term behavioral supports, educational support, as well as overall health services. As part of the effort to test Flint residents, the following data includes all children and adults tested since October 1, 2015:

- 3,351 Flint residents have been tested for elevated blood lead levels
- 67 Flint residents have had an elevated blood lead level test
- 1,505 children under the age of 6 have had their blood tested for lead
- 38 children under the age of 6 have had an elevated blood lead level
- 963 children between 6 and 17 years of age have had their blood tested for lead
- 7 children between 6 and 17 years of age have had an elevated blood lead level
- 883 adults over the age of 18 have had their blood tested for lead
- 22 adults over the age of 18 have had an elevated blood lead level

As part of the effort to expand access for Flint residents to nutritional and health services, MDHHS is working to submit a request to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to:

- Expand Medicaid eligibility for all residents in the impacted areas up to age 21, regardless of income level. The request would also include the expansion of Medicaid coverage for people already enrolled in other forms of insurance to ensure comprehensive benefits are available to children who may have come into contact with lead in the water.
- Additional, community-based resources to ensure all children, regardless of health insurance coverage, have access to comprehensive medical treatment. This will include physical and behavioral health treatment in addition to long-term health care services.
- Federal Medicaid match for lead abatement activities in impacted areas. Because of the number of children enrolled in Medicaid in the impacted area, lead-abatement programs would help minimize and/or prevent any long term adverse health problems associated with lead exposure.

Here's DEQ – open for edits if you like ~

Thanks

Mel.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) continues work in conjunction with the City of Flint, Genesee County and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to test and monitor the quality of the water in Flint. Michigan DEQ has embarked on a five part strategy to collect information on current water conditions that will help to establish a baseline of data that will be used for water experts to determine when the water is safe to drink.

The Michigan DEQ five part strategy includes:

Residential Water Testing – At-home water testing done by residents which helps to provide a snapshot of where the most problem areas are located so that DEQ and the EPA can quickly spot areas of concern. Residential water testing is key in guiding experts to areas of closer study and therefore is very important for residents to participate in. Flint residents can get their free water testing kits at any Water Resource Site - check the website Michigan.gov/flintwater or call 2-1-1 for locations.

To date, the most updated stats on Flint residential testing is as follows. While the

4924 Total Samples

4616 Samples @ 15 ppb or less for Lead (93.7%)

4179 Samples @ 5 ppb or less for Lead (84.9%)

308 Samples over 15 ppb for Lead (6.3%)

37 Samples over 150 ppb for Lead (0.75%)

26 Samples over 1,300 ppb for Copper (0.5%)

School Testing – Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools throughout the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. Of the 13 public schools, the state will retest again once it has completed replacing water fixtures to see how the lead levels are affected. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School and is estimated to be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

Food Service / Restaurant Provider Testing - To ensure that all food providers and restaurants have safe water, the DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, are flushing their water systems properly and have the correct food and water standards in place.

Blood Level Testing – Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood levels, have their homes water tested for lead. Homes with high water levels are provided additional services by DHHS and Genesee County to ensure residents exposure to lead is prevented.

Flint Water Distribution System Testing – Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system to collect information on where the areas of concern are as water travels from the water plant through the system and into the home. Additionally, Sentinel sites are in the process of being established across the city which will play a key role in data collection.

In order for local, state and federal experts to determine when the water will be safe to drink – we are collecting sets of data so that each piece can be layered on top of one another providing us the ability to make an intelligent trend analysis. Michigan DEQ is working with the EPA and other experts to ensure the data layers are sensible and appropriate. These data sets will also be reviewed by the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee and its correlating Water Quality Subcommittee which have an array of water quality experts who will together with local, state and federal government review and provide a consensus conclusion to water quality and safety.

We all send in to Zarotney and Tiff for assembling into one release.

Here's DEQ – open for edits if you like ~ Thanks Mel.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) continues work in conjunction with the City of Flint, Genesee County and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to test and monitor the quality of the water in Flint. Michigan DEQ has embarked on a five part strategy to collect information on current water conditions that will help to establish a baseline of data that will be used for water experts to determine when the water is safe to drink.
The Michigan DEQ five part strategy includes:
Residential Water Testing – At-home water testing done by residents which helps to provide a snapshot of where the most problem areas are located so that DEQ and the EPA can quickly spot areas of concern. Residential water testing is key in guiding experts to areas of closer study and therefore is very important for residents to participate in. Flint residents can get their free water testing kits at any Water Resource Site - check the website Michigan.gov/flintwater or call 2-1-1 for locations.
To date, the most updated stats on Flint residential testing is as follows. While the
4924 Total Samples
4616 Samples @ 15 ppb or less for Lead (93.7%)
4179 Samples @ 5 ppb or less for Lead (84.9%)
308 Samples over 15 ppb for Lead (6.3%)
37 Samples over 150 ppb for Lead (0.75%)

26 Samples over 1,300 ppb for Copper (0.5%) School Testing – Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools throughout the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. Of the 13 public schools, the state will retest again once it has completed replacing water fixtures to see how the lead levels are affected. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School and is estimated to be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.
Food Service / Restaurant Provider Testing - To ensure that all food providers and restaurants have safe water, the DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, are flushing their water systems properly and have the correct food and water standards in place.
Blood Level Testing – Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood levels, have their homes water tested for lead. Homes with high water levels are provided additional services by DHHS and Genesee County to ensure residents exposure to lead is prevented.
Flint Water Distribution System Testing – Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system to collect information on where the areas of concern are as water travels from the water plant through the system and into the home. Additionally, Sentinel sites are in the process of being established across the city which will play a key role in data collection.
In order for local, state and federal experts to determine when the water will be safe to drink – we are collecting sets of data so that each piece can be layered on top of one another providing us the ability to make an intelligent trend analysis. Michigan DEQ is working with the EPA and other experts to ensure the data layers are sensible and appropriate. These data sets will also be reviewed by the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee and its correlating Water Quality Subcommittee which have an array of water quality experts who will together with local, state and federal government review and provide a consensus conclusion to water quality and safety.

Here's DEQ – open for edits if you like ~

Thanks

Mel.

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) continues work in conjunction with the City of Flint, Genesee County and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to test and monitor the quality of the water in Flint. Michigan DEQ has embarked on a five part strategy to collect information on current water conditions that will help to establish a baseline of data that will be used for water experts to determine when the water is safe to drink.

The Michigan DEQ five part strategy includes:

Residential Water Testing – At-home water testing done by residents which helps to provide a snapshot of where the most problem areas are located so that DEQ and the EPA can quickly spot areas of concern. Residential water testing is key in guiding experts to areas of closer study and therefore is very important for residents to participate in. flint residents can get their free water testing kits at any of the Water Resource Site - check the website Michigan.gov/flintwater for locations.

To date, the most updated stats on Flint residential testing is as follows. While the

4924 Total Samples

4616 Samples @ 15 ppb or less for Lead (93.7%)

4179 Samples @ 5 ppb or less for Lead (84.9%)

308 Samples over 15 ppb for Lead (6.3%)

37 Samples over 150 ppb for Lead (0.75%)

26 Samples over 1,300 ppb for Copper (0.5%)

School Testing – Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools throughout the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. Of the 13 public schools, the state will retest again once it has completed replacing water fixtures to see how the lead levels are affected.

Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School and is estimated to be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

Food Service / Restaurant Provider Testing - To ensure that all food providers and restaurants have safe water, the DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, are flushing their water systems properly and have the correct food and water standards in place.

Blood Level Testing – Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood levels, have their homes water tested for lead. Homes with high water levels are provided additional services by DHHS and Genesee County to ensure residents exposure to lead is prevented.

Flint Water Distribution System Testing – Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system to collect information on where the areas of concern are as water travels from the water plant through the system and into the home. Additionally, Sentinel sites are in the process of being established across the city which will play a key role in data collection.

In order for local, state and federal experts to determine when the water will be safe to drink – we are collecting sets of data so that each piece can be layered on top of one another providing us the ability to make an intelligent trend analysis. Michigan DEQ is working with the EPA and other experts to ensure the data layers are sensible and appropriate. These data sets will also be reviewed by the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee and its correlating Water Quality Subcommittee which have an array of water quality experts who will together with local, state and federal government review and provide a consensus conclusion to water quality and safety.

I will work on a little paragraph, Ang / Jen - can you do a little paragraph, MSP your stuff on operations and Meegan - something from Gov perspective.
We all send in to Zarotney and Tiff for assembling into one release.

The goal is to get this JIC release out no later than 4pm.

I'm starting to work on my piece now.

Subject: Time Sensitive: FAQs Needed

Good afternoon,

In preparation for announcing additional appropriation measures related to the Flint water emergency in the upcoming FY 17 budget presentation, we'll be preparing a briefing document for legislators. As part of this effort, we want to include a Frequently Asked Questions document. This is where we really need your help.

Your budget staff should have a breakdown of each potential spending item related to your agency (both pending FY 16 supplemental items and FY 17 items). Please work with your budget folks and your communications team to develop any FAQs that you anticipate the public or legislators might ask, related to each item assigned to your agency.

Outreach to the Legislature has already begun, so having these responses back from you quickly is very important. Please send our PIO, Kurt Weiss, and me your FAQ lists no later than 5:00 p.m. this Tuesday, February 2.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns, or feel free to have your communications staff touch base with Kurt. I apologize for the short time window, but we really appreciate your help.

Outside Flint's borders, but stuck with its water Detroit News Neal Rubin

On the worst days at Aaron Wilkinson's house, the water looked like milk.

Across Menominee Avenue, where Joseph and Kelli Kus are raising four kids, the faucet spat big chunks of red and black sediment.

Their water came from the Flint River — but they don't live in Flint. They live half a block into the adjoining city of Burton, population 30,000, where 72 unfortunate addresses have been visited with all of the problems and none of the attention of the city only a few yards to their north.

The city of Flint on Friday reposted a list of 266 Flint water customers who live outside the city limits.

Officials: High lead levels too much for Flint filters Jim Lynch, Jacob Carah and Charles E. Ramirez The Detroit News

Flint — Officials admitted late Friday the filters they've been handing out to residents may not be effective enough in removing lead from their faucets.

Water samples collected from 26 random taps since the last week of December have shown lead levels higher than what filters are rated to handle — above 150 parts per billion. That is more than 10 times the level deemed safe by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. More than 3,900 homes were tested. The highest reading out of the 26 residences "was at least 4,000" parts per billion.

EXCLUSIVE: Senior adviser to Gov. Snyder talks Flint's infrastructure WJRT TV 12

FLINT (WJRT) - (01/29/16) - Pipe replacement or pipe dream in Flint? It's a question many people are asking as leaders work to resolve the city's water emergency.

ABC12 talked exclusively with Rich Baird, a senior adviser to Gov. Snyder.
Baird is working out of an executive office in Flint. He's monitoring all of teams that are working to restore trust and access to safe tap water.

Baird said science will drive all decisions including when it's safe to use water from the tap again and if pipes need to be replaced.

"We want to be driven by the science and it's not just independent validation. It's unimpeachable, independent validation that's going to guide what the remediation will be," Baird said.

State Encourages Food Establishments to take Advantage of Free Water Safety Inspections

Local and State Leaders Showcase Water Assessments Done at Flint Food Establishments

Flint, Mich. – In an effort to support Flint food-based businesses, Lt. Gov. Brian Calley, along with local and state food regulators and business development officials, provided a behind-the-scenes look at how the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) and Genesee County Health Department are working with local food establishments to conduct water assessments and ensure food safety precautions are in place.

"Flint has hundreds of restaurants, retail food markets and food processors committed to serving its residents safely," Calley said. "These establishments can now receive free assessments from MDARD and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure food safety precautions are in place."

"In response to this emergency and the need to assess lead levels in water being used at Flint food establishments, MDARD has mobilized 14 food inspectors, working full-time to conduct risk-based compliance assessments and verify adherence to current water source requirements," said MDARD Director Jamie Clover Adams. "MDARD inspectors are assisting the Genesee County Health Department in conducting the sampling and inspections, allowing the health department to focus its efforts on checking other priority facilities in its jurisdiction, including childcare facilities."

Food establishments must take extra precautions to protect food safety during the Flint water emergency. These precautions include having the water tested by an accredited laboratory to prove it is safe to use; installing approved water filters, as needed; flushing unfiltered faucets and hard-plumbed equipment on a daily basis; or using commercially bottled water for all cooking, cleaning/washing and drinking.

"Flint's restaurants and other food establishments are demonstrating they are taking the necessary precautions to reduce potential food safety risks associated with Flint water," said Mark Valacak, Health Officer, Genesee County Health Department. "Safe food preparation and handling is the cornerstone of any food business's success, and we are dedicated to working cooperatively with MDARD and the food service establishments we regulate to ensure the safety of our food supply."

The State of Michigan is covering the cost of water sample testing for food establishments on the City of Flint water supply.

"The restaurants, bars, cafes and other food businesses, like the Flint Farmers' Market, in Flint are the backbone of the city's culture and economic success, and help define who we are as a community," said George Wilkinson, Group Vice President, Flint & Genesee Chamber of Commerce. "Whether a relative new-comer or a well-established dining institution, we need to do whatever we can to support Flint food businesses and ensure their success."

Flint has a total of 633 licensed food businesses, including restaurants, food processors and retail grocery stores. Assessments have been prioritized according to risk, with those in known high-lead areas taking first priority, and by request from food establishments. Food businesses who have not yet had an assessment or free water sample testing can call MDARD's Call Center at 800-292-3939 to schedule an appointment.

As of Feb. 4, MDARD has completed approximately 225 initial assessments of food businesses and has begun doing follow-up assessments. If the businesses are taking the required precautions, they are determined to be in compliance with state and federal food regulations. A list of food businesses determined to be in compliance with current water use regulations is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater. The list is updated regularly.

Flint food businesses not included on the list are not necessarily out of compliance with Michigan food regulations. Some businesses have not yet received a compliance assessment from food inspectors.

Initial water samples taken at the facilities were "first-draw" samples, taken when the water had not been in use for at least six hours. If first-draw samples showed any lead levels, follow-up samples are being taken. MDARD will continue to work with businesses to make sure they are in compliance with water use requirements and assist them in getting water test sample results below detectable levels.

For more information, or to schedule a food establishment water assessment, contact MDARD at 800-292-3939.

Edible Flint Works to Address Water Emergency through Urban Gardening

Urban Agriculture Organization Makes a Positive Impact in Flint Communities

Flint, Mich. – Since 2009, Edible Flint has been working with individuals and institutional partners to support Flint residents in growing and accessing healthy food in order to reconnect with the land and each other. As a part of their continuing outreach to Flint's residents, Edible Flint is gearing up to ensure a bumper crop of lead fighting vegetables and address concerns over urban gardening in Flint.

Edible Flint supports more than 300 community and individual gardens in the city through its Garden Starters program. This program provides gardening classes, technical expertise, resources and supplies. In response to the recent Flint water emergency, the organization has plans to expand their programs as they prepare for the upcoming gardening season.

Not only are they looking to support additional food gardeners through their Garden Starters program, they are currently reviewing the selection of seeds and transplants being distributed this year to ensure vegetables that fight lead exposure are included. In addition, Edible Flint, which tests approximately 50 new gardens each year, will be increasing the number soil tests (including lead screening) for Flint's food gardens. They also intend to provide hose filters for garden irrigation for program participants.

"Edible Flint is committed to supporting Flint residents by providing access to resources to grow nutritious fresh food," said Terry McLean, Michigan State University Extension (MSUE) Educator, and Edible Flint Leadership Board Member. "Through our urban gardening program we hope to provide a catalyst for recovery and community engagement."

McLean added, Edible Flint has been working with MSUE partners to reassure gardeners of the safety of eating and growing vegetables grown in Flint's community gardens.

Plan Advanced by State to Monitor Skin Conditions in Flint

FLINT, Mich. – Health officials in Michigan are moving forward on the investigation of rashes possibly associated with Flint water.

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) is developing a plan to better understand rashes that are being reported by members of the public. In recent weeks, MDHHS and the United Way 211 Information Line have received some calls with questions or concerns about rashes possibly associated with Flint water. While rashes are very common in the general population and there are numerous known causes, an important public health function involves being able to identify and rapidly respond to new causes of illness as they emerge.

MDHHS has been actively monitoring trends in rash illnesses to emergency departments in Genesee County and has not seen evidence of increases compared with prior years. However, in an effort to proactively respond to reported rashes, MDHHS is developing a plan to conduct structured interviews with members of the public who report current rashes that may be related to exposure to Flint water in their homes. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry (CDC/ATSDR), and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) are providing technical assistance to MDHHS in this effort.

"Flint residents are understandably worried about the effects of skin exposure to water in their homes, and it's absolutely necessary we follow up directly on their concerns," said Dr. Eden Wells, chief medical executive with the MDHHS. "While the science currently tells us children and adults can bathe in the water, we are committed to identifying any potential health risks so we can provide information to and protect families in Flint."

MDHHS will begin asking health care providers to report cases of current rash possibly associated with Flint water exposure. These individuals will be contacted and interviewed by MDHHS personnel, and investigations will also involve testing home water samples of those with active rashes. This testing will be different from other routine water sampling and testing being conducted by the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality or the EPA throughout Flint as it will focus on testing for concentrations of metals and other water quality factors that may be associated with the reported rashes.

MORE

While finalizing plans and materials for this investigation, MDHHS is already actively responding to these rash reports. Last week, Flint residents who recently reported rashes were interviewed at their homes by a team from MDHHS and water samples were collected for analysis. While it is too early in the investigation to draw any conclusions about how many people might be experiencing rashes or what might be causing them, MDHHS is responding with urgency to these reported health complaints with assistance from federal partners.

Members of the public who have concerns about rashes are encouraged to visit their primary care physician. Information reported by health care providers is an important part of creating a better understanding of the characteristics of these rashes. Individuals with questions may also call United Way 211 to be connected with health information specialists to answer their specific concerns.

For additional information related to the response in Flint, visit www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

FLINT, Mich. – Michigan Department of Environmental Quality Director Keith Creagh met today with Interim Regional Administrator Robert Kaplan from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as part of ongoing interagency cooperation to address the Flint water crisis. The EPA and DEQ have met regularly since a state of emergency was declared in Flint in early January.

"These conversations with the EPA are a critical part of our shared response to the emergency in Flint," said Creagh. "We know that moving forward will require all levels of government – along with partners in the business and nonprofit communities and the community of Flint – to work together with the sense of urgency this crisis demands."

Creagh and the EPA regional administrator have weekly phone calls. In addition, program staff from the DEQ and EPA remain in daily contact to coordinate response. At today's meeting, Creagh and Kaplan along with technical staff from both agencies discussed working together to maximize the data that is being collected to make sure the agencies are closely aligned in their work.

The DEQ is also working in conjunction with the EPA to plan and review the 200 sentinel test sites, enabling both entities to capture the information needed across the entire spectrum of data so we have a better overall analysis of the distribution system.

"We want to have systems and structures in place that will lead us to better conclusions for the people of Flint," Creagh said. "We appreciate the partnership with EPA and other government and non-government agencies."

The discussion included a five-part strategy the DEQ implemented to establish a baseline of data to determine when the water in Flint is safe to drink.

MORE

The strategy includes:

- Residential water testing: At-home water testing done by residents is key in guiding experts to areas of concern.

- School testing: Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools in the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. The state will retest the public schools once it has completed replacing water fixtures. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School, which will be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

- Food service/restaurant provider testing: Michigan DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, flushing water systems properly and using the correct food and water standards.

- Blood level testing: Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood lead levels have their water tested for lead. Homes with high water lead levels are provided additional services by MDHHS and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure residents' exposure to lead is minimized.

- Flint water distribution system testing: Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system. Additionally, sentinel sites are being established to set a baseline for data collection. Sentinel sites are homes that will be used as representative samples to determine the effectiveness of corrosion controls in reducing lead levels.

"Our ongoing conversations with the EPA will help us solidify this plan so we can have confidence in the outcomes," Creagh said.

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and can be found at the five city fire stations. For locations, go to www.michigan.gov/flintwater. Additional information is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, or by calling United Way 211.

State outlines initiatives to determine safe drinking levels and to provide long-term assistance to Flint children

Flint, Mich. – Strategies to determine when Flint's water is safe to drink and to ensure that the city's children have access to comprehensive health care are key to the state's long-term solutions in the Flint water crisis.

Short-term, Gov. Rick Snyder is urging every Flint resident to get a water test kit.

"Almost 5,000 homes submitted water tests, but we want to encourage everyone to submit a water test. Please pick up a free water test kit at one of the Flint fire stations and return the sample to the same location," Snyder said. "We want to ensure that all homes are getting the proper immediate attention and the home water tests will help in that process. If you need assistance, please call United Way 2-1-1 for help."

In addition to the federal emergency declaration, which was granted on Jan. 16, Snyder has requested more federal help for Flint: "While the USDA denied my request to expand WIC nutrition support for Flint children ages 5-10, I'm asking that agency to reconsider. I'm also encouraging the federal government to grant my requests to extend Medicaid eligibility to all Flint residents ages 21 and under, provide long-term health care services for children and help with lead abatement."

On Friday, Snyder signed legislation that will allocate $28 million for more water resources and expanded health care initiatives, including more school nurses, diagnostic tests and community education through the Genesee County Health Department. He also plans to include additional long-term aid for Flint in his FY 2017 budget proposal to be unveiled early this month.

Here's what key Michigan departments are doing to help with the Flint water emergency:

Michigan Department of Environmental Quality
The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) has embarked on a five-part strategy to establish a baseline of data to determine when the water is safe to drink.

The strategy includes:

- Residential water testing: At-home water testing done by residents is key in guiding experts to areas of concern.

MORE

To date, of 4,924 total residential water samples, tests show that 93.7 percent of homes are below the actionable level of 15 parts per billion (ppb) for lead:

- 4,616 samples at 15 ppb or less for lead (93.7%);
- 4,179 samples at 5 ppb or less for lead (84.9%);
- 308 samples over 15 ppb for lead (6.3%);
- 37 samples over 150 ppb for lead (0.75%); and
- 26 samples over 1,300 ppb for copper (0.5%).

Water samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams. To process these samples as efficiently as possible, the Michigan Department DEQ lab is operating seven days per week and is capable of processing 1,000 tests per day. Residents can access these reports online at www.mi.gov/FlintWater. Results are mailed to each residence tested.

- School testing: Michigan DEQ in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has tested all 13 public schools in the city and continues to test non-public schools, children's centers and senior centers. The state will retest the public schools once it has completed replacing water fixtures. Fixture replacement has begun at Freeman School, which will be retested after water flushing happens within the next week.

- Food service/restaurant provider testing: Michigan DEQ is working in collaboration with the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (MDARD) to test establishments and ensure they are using water filters, flushing water systems properly and using the correct food and water standards.

- Blood level testing: Michigan DEQ is working in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) to ensure that residents with high blood lead levels have their water tested for lead. Homes with high water lead levels are provided additional services by MDHHS and the Genesee County Health Department to ensure residents' exposure to lead is minimized.

- Flint water distribution system testing: Michigan DEQ and the City of Flint are working to monitor and test the quality of the water as it travels throughout the city's water distribution system. Additionally, sentinel sites are being established to set a baseline for data collection.

Michigan DEQ is working with the EPA on trend analysis and data sets that will be reviewed by the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee, which includes water quality experts to help local, state and federal officials provide a consensus conclusion on water quality and safety.

Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
In response to the elevated blood lead levels found in some Flint children, the MDHHS has worked closely with partners at the state and local level to reach and educate families and providers about what they can do to help protect the health of Flint residents.

These actions include funding to Genesee County Health Department for nurses to work with families when an elevated blood lead level has been detected. During follow-up visits, nurses coordinate with environmental health investigators to meet with families in their homes to identify lead exposures, answer questions and provide water filters.

MORE

As part of the effort to test Flint residents, the following data includes all children and adults tested since Oct. 1, 2015:

- 67 of 3,351 Flint residents tested showed an elevated blood lead level;
- 38 of 1,505 children under the age of 6 showed an elevated blood lead level;
- Seven of 963 children between 6 and 17 years of age showed an elevated blood lead level; and
- 22 of 883 adults over the age of 18 showed an elevated blood lead level.

Because lead stays in the blood for only a few weeks after exposure, these numbers do not provide a comprehensive picture of how many people may have been exposed. MDHHS continues to focus on ensuring that all children in Flint have access to additional behavioral, educational, nutritional and healthcare supports, as well as encouraging every resident to get tested for elevated blood lead levels.

Emergency Management Response
Today, water response teams comprised of city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers continued door-to-door delivery efforts. These teams are canvassing neighborhoods providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits to City of Flint water system consumers not yet identified as having a water filter. These door-to-door efforts also include the 266 homes outside of the city limits on the municipal water system.

Additionally, homebound residents who need supplies should call United Way 2-1-1 or 810-257-3600. The United Way 2-1-1 is collecting a list of individuals needing home delivery and is providing that information to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department.

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- 234,490 cases of water
- 100,593 water filters
- 32,093 water testing kits

Water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and can be found at the five city fire stations. For locations, go to www.michigan.gov/flintwater.

Flint Residents Encouraged to Get Their Water Tested

Efforts continue to provide safe water resources in the city

FLINT, Mich. – The State of Michigan underscores the importance of utilizing the at-home water testing kits provided free of charge by the state and encourages residents to make it a priority to get their water tested as soon as possible. Water samples can be dropped off at the five water resource sites at fire stations. Samples will only be accepted by using the official water testing kits provided at the water resource sites and by the water response teams.

To process these samples as efficiently as possible, the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality lab is operating seven days per week and is capable of processing 1,000 tests per day. Residents can access these reports online at www.mi.gov/FlintWater. Results are mailed to each residence tested.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

Residents are encouraged to have their water tested to be sure the levels are below 150 parts per billion for which the filter is certified. While water safety experts remain confident in the ability of the filters to remove the lead, vulnerable populations, especially pregnant women, nursing women and young children under five years old, should only drink bottled water until they get results showing that their water is below 150 parts per billion.

Residents awaiting test results should always flush water through the tap for at least five minutes if the tap hasn't been used in several hours, and water pitchers with filters should be flushed before putting water into the pitcher.

Residents should also install filters to their taps to ensure they have immediate and ongoing access to safe water. Only run cold water through the water filter and use filtered water for drinking and cooking. Monitor the cartridge on the filter and replace as needed.

Additionally, efforts continue to ensure city-wide distribution of bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

Water response teams comprised of 792 city, county and state personnel, American Red Cross and volunteers continued door-to-door delivery efforts today visiting 1,368 Flint homes today. These teams are canvassing the city providing free bottled water, filters, water replacement cartridges and water testing kits.

MORE

Since Jan. 9, 2016, the following resources have been distributed to residents, both at the water resource sites and by water response teams:

- 227,188 cases of water
- 99,969 water filters
- 31,512 water testing kits

In addition to water response teams, water resource sites remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a water bottle recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

Fire Station #3

Also today, volunteers began door-to-door efforts distributing recycling materials in Flint neighborhoods. Bottles can be recycled at water resource locations. Details on what can be recycled are on cityoflint.com. Guidelines, locations, hours and other information are available here.

United States Department of Agriculture

Food and Nutrition Service

Midwest Region

77 W Jackson Blvd.
20th Floor
Chicago, IL

January 29, 2016

Stan Bien, Director
Michigan WIC Program
Michigan Department of Health & Human Services
320 South Walnut Street-6th Floor
Lansing, Michigan 48913

Dear Mr. Bien:

This is in response to your letter dated January 27, 2016, which requested Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) approval to increase the access and availability of WIC benefits and services to children from 5 through 10 years of age. Your letter states you are requesting this exception based on the Flint Water Emergency and to fight lead with nutrition.

FNS is committed to assisting the State of Michigan in addressing the water crisis in Flint, particularly as it impacts children; one of our nation's most vulnerable populations. The Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) is considered one of the most critical, cost-effective, and important nutrition intervention programs in the country.

While we understand the State's desire to extend this important program to children up to 10 years of age, the federal statute governing WIC limits eligibility to children up to age five. More specifically, under section 17(b)(2) of the Child Nutrition Act of 1966 (42 U.S.C. 1786(b)(2)), "children" means persons who have had their first birthday but have not yet attained their fifth birthday. Thus, due to limitations established by statute, we are unable to approve your request. Any changes to WIC eligibility requirements would require Congressional action.

FNS is dedicated to supporting the nutrition of Flint's older children through other existing federal programs which include the National School Lunch Program, The Emergency Food Assistance Program and The Child and Adult Care Food Program.

FNS is working with the Michigan Department of Education to respond to the needs of children in Flint. I encourage you to connect with staff at the Michigan Department of Education in order to refer families with children over age five to existing nutrition programs in the community.

We have also evaluated your request to increase the number of Lactation Consultants in effort to increase the number of breastfeeding mothers. It is anticipated that fiscal year 2016 breastfeeding peer counseling funds will be allocated to WIC State agencies, including Michigan, by mid-March. In addition, Michigan's existing WIC nutrition services and administrative grant provides the ability to expand the number of Lactation Consultants. We encourage you to work with our Regional funding staff to review your anticipated need and funding level.

USDA IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY PROVIDER AND EMPLOYER

I appreciate the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services continuing to work with FNS to help ensure the delivery of essential nutritional services as you strive to address the adverse effects of lead contamination in the Flint community. We are confident that collaboratively we can continue to make a positive and meaningful contribution toward improving the health and nutrition of residents in Flint and throughout Michigan.

Sincerely,

Tim English

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 16

Current Issues Talking Points

Process under way to replace lead water pipes in Flint

- Work has begun in Flint to locate and replace high-risk, high-priority lead service lines in Flint.
- State and local leaders are working together on this project to maximize efficiency and protect the health and safety of Flint residents.
    - Flint-based engineering firm Rowe Professional Services will update recent analyses of water pipes and help with replacement.
    - Retired National Guard General Brig. Michael McDaniel is helping coordinate efforts between the Lansing Board of Water and Light, local, state and federal agencies, and additional stakeholders.
- A supplemental budget request approved last month includes money for utilities and can be used to support the survey work required to identify high-priority replacement areas.
- An additional $25 million was included in the Governor's FY 2017 budget recommendation last week which can also be used to assist in water infrastructure replacement projects.

Governor seeks waiver to expand Medicaid services to Flint residents under 21, pregnant women

- On Sunday, the Governor submitted a request to the federal Government to expand Medicaid for those up to age 21 and pregnant women.
- Approval of the request would expand Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Programs to an additional 15,000 residents served by the City of Flint water system.
- Under the expansion case workers would be designated to help people with:
    - Coordinating primary care physicians and behavioral health providers, Medicaid health plans and others to ensure access to all necessary health services;
    - Providing nutrition support;
    - Improving access to educational and social supports and services that may be available in the community to assist them with their individual needs.
- To date the federal Government has provided only $5 million aid to Flint residents while the State of Michigan has allocated $37.3 million and the Governor proposed an additional $195 million as part of his formal FY 2017 budget recommendation.

Governor releases department emails regarding Flint Water

- Friday, the Governor posted emails and corresponding documents related to Flint water that had been made available previously to requesting entities from state departments.
- By making these documents easily accessible, everyone can review them and take from them what they need. Transparency and collaboration are key to helping the city move forward.
- The documents include materials from the Michigan departments of Environmental Quality, Health and Human Services, Treasury, Department of Technology, Management and Budget, and Agriculture and Rural Development.
- Press release and documents here.

Governor requests opportunity to testify before congressional committee

- The Governor has asked the Chairman of the U.S. House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform for the opportunity to testify regarding the water crisis.
- The Governor hopes to clarify the ways in which local, state and federal governments jointly failed the people of Flint.
- He also hopes to explain the steps Michigan has taken and continues to take to prevent this type of crisis from happening again as well as share ongoing efforts to support Flint families both short and long-term.
- Attending this hearing will be an opportunity to examine health and safety protections in place, assess infrastructure needs, and avoid this type of crisis again.
- The chairman has accepted the governor's request but a hearing date has not been set.

FLINT WATER RESPONSE TEAM

UPDATE | MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 2016

This daily update is being issued in order to provide the latest information regarding actions and available resources.

Help keep your kids safe

The foods we prepare and serve to our families can help limit the effects of our kids' exposure to lead.

You should serve children foods that are rich in calcium, vitamin C, and iron to help keep lead from being stored in a child's body.

For food assistance for low-income Flint residents, contact WIC at 810-237-4537. You can apply for SNAP food assistance at www.michigan.gov/mibridges.

If you think your child is at risk for lead exposure, please contact your primary care doctor or the Genesee County Health Department by dialing 810-257-3612.

Click here for more helpful tips.

Gov. Rick Snyder seeks federal waiver to expand Medicaid services in Flint to people under age 21 and pregnant woman

If this request is approved, it would mean an expansion of Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program services to about 15,000 more Flint residents.

Those eligible for coverage include anyone up to the age of 21 and pregnant women and their future children.

Additional information about water response efforts is available at www.michigan.gov/flintwater, by calling United Way's 2-1-1 or visiting www.helpforflint.com.

- 35,570 water testing kits

REMINDERS

- For Flint water assistance: Dial United Way 211 or visit www.mi.gov/FlintWater
- To donate or volunteer: visit www.HelpForFlint.com

- Monitor the cartridge on the filter and replace as needed.

All – below are the list of searches we would like you to use in order to try to find the most relevant documents related to the Flint water crisis. Thank you again for your assistance. Because of the late timing for getting you this list, you may wait until Tuesday to send Travis Weber your estimates of time it takes to search this. Please remember that employees should search their hard drives as well as their e-mails, and that means DTMB cannot perform this search for you; your own folks who may have documents will have to do so from their machines. Thank you again for all your assistance and efforts.

Hi Kristin,

I'm working on a consumer-friendly Q&A on the Flint water crisis and have a question for you: Would you happen to have a list of clinics or other locations in Flint where residents can be tested for lead exposure, along with addresses and hours?

Thanks,

Jennifer Dixon

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 10

Current Issues Talking Points

Budget Proposal – Supporting Flint Families

- $195 million of the proposed budget will go toward helping Flint families by funding both short and long-term solutions to the water crisis.
  - $37 million to help ensure clean, safe drinking water. This funding will assist with water testing, inspection and replacement of fixtures in schools and daycare facilities, and help the city stay connected to the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department through the end of 2016.
  - $15 million to support food and nutrition funding for families and children. This funding will support school meal programs, mobile food banks and food inspections at food establishments in the county.
  - $63 million for physical, social and educational well-being. This funding will support families with blood testing, early childhood development programs, educational support and home lead abatement.
  - $50 million will be kept on reserve to address the future needs of Flint residents.
  - The remaining $30 million pertains to the recent proposal to help the city of Flint assist residents with covering a portion of their water bill.
    - A typical Flint resident's billing statement includes charges for water and sewer.
    - Under the plan, the funding would be made available to cover water used for drinking, cooking and bathing which is approximately 65 percent of the water portion of a residents' water and sewer bill.
    - Residents would still be responsible for the remaining balance of the water portion of a bill accounting for water used in ways that do not qualify as consumption.
    - Residents would be responsible for covering all sewer costs.
    - This $30 million has been approved in the Senate and awaits approval in the house before it goes to the Governor for his signature.
- If fully approved, the $195 million will be in addition to the previous $37.3 million in emergency funding already allocated to the city of Flint, totaling more than $230 million.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

Budget Proposal – Statewide Infrastructure

- In his FY 2017 Budget proposal presented today, the Governor called for the creation of a Michigan Infrastructure Fund to support statewide infrastructure needs.
- If approved, there will be a $165 million investment which will be allocated based on projects with the most immediate needs.
- In 2015, Michigan renewed a commitment to fix our roads and bridges, now it's time to focus on the rest of the state's infrastructure.
- Potential projects that could receive a portion of the $165 million include replacement of known high-risk lead and copper service lines, infrastructure upgrades while repairing roads or other utilities, and analysis of statewide infrastructure needs.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

NSF International confirmed:

When the boiled water advisory is lifted, filters exposed to contaminated water are safe to use after the cartridge has been replaced. The user should be sure to follow the manufacturer's replacement instructions as some have additional procedures that must be performed (rinsing, flushing the cartridge, resetting an indicator, etc.).

Please work with Wendy Braun to deliver accurate messaging to the citizens affected by the water main break.

A slightly modified statement that addresses lead reduction at the same time would be:
"These filters are not certified to reduce microbiological contaminants from drinking water. Residents should boil their filtered water to ensure that their water is microbiologically safe. Residents should replace the cartridge / filter after the Boil Water Advisory has been lifted. The lead reduction capabilities of the filter should not be adversely affected by the presence of bacteria, if present."

Mitch, Jen, and others,

So, I got what feedback I could and it is essentially what we had briefly discussed.

The standards are based on treating potable water, which is microbiologically safe water, so our certification to the standards would essentially be null and void if there is bacteria in the influent. This is akin to the issue of lead levels being over 150 ppb. The filters used in Flint are not certified to remove microbiological contaminants to drinking water. Residents should boil their filtered water to ensure that their water is microbiologically safe. The, replace the cartridge / filter after the Boil Water Advisory has been lifted.

Hope this gives you what you need. If you need anything else, please let me know.

Snyder budget tackles urgencies: Flint water and DPS
Detroit Free Press
By: Paul Egan and Kathleen Gray
2.10.16

Michigan faces two unique challenges -- the Flint public health crisis and the financial meltdown at Detroit Public Schools -- that require immediate attention in the 2016-17 state budget, Gov. Rick Snyder said in a presentation to lawmakers Wednesday.

Included in Snyder's $54.9-billion proposed state budget is $195.4 million dedicated to Flint in 2017 and a proposal to take $72 million a year for 10 years from the state's tobacco settlement fund to retire Detroit Public Schools debt that is expected to hit $515 million this summer.

Last year, "we worked to develop a solution to address Michigan's crumbling roads and bridges," Snyder said in the text of his budget presentation.

"Now we must solve the Flint water crisis and address the challenges at Detroit Public Schools."

A link is that the crises either developed or worsened while the city government or school district was under the control of a state-appointed emergency manager.

Beyond the two immediate challenge, Snyder said the budget priorities continue to be economic growth, education, public safety, and fiscal responsibility. His address highlighted continued improving signs in the Michigan economy overall, with more than 440,000 new private sector jobs since he took office in 2011, improving home prices and steady declines in the state unemployment rate.

"This plan provides a balanced approach to addressing our special challenges while continuing to pay off debt, save money for the future, and make needed investments in critical areas," Snyder said.

For the first time since Snyder took office, the budget does not call for an increase to the state's Budget Stabilization Fund, better known as the Rainy Day Fund. But Snyder said the balance in that fund now stands at about $611 million, up from $2.2 million when he took office.

The total $54.9-billion budget includes federal funds. The main state funds, the general fund and the School Aid Fund, are estimated to have 2017 revenues of $10.6 billion and $12.8 billion respectively.

Snyder's budget message says that "clean drinking water is a necessity," and "Flint residents shouldn't have to rely on bottled water and water filters just to drink a glass of water or safely cook a meal."

The governor "is dedicated to ensuring the situation is dealt with quickly and thoroughly, so that Flint's water is safe for residents once again."

Snyder said $195.4 million for Flint is spread across several state agencies and "will be used to continue the work to provide Flint residents with immediate needs like bottled water, water filters and replacement cartridges while also investing in longer term needs such as specialists and staff, including nurses and epidemiologists; support for health care access for Flint children; payment for testing and studies; and the ongoing treatment of children."

The proposal for Flint includes $30 million Snyder already announced as part of a plan to credit Flint residents for part of the cost of water they have been billed for since April 2014 but can't drink.

It also includes: $37 million for safe drinking water efforts; $15 million for food and nutrition to combat lead exposure; $63 million for improving the physical, social and education well-being of Flint children and other vulnerable residents; and $50 million to be placed in a reserve fund for future expenses that are yet to be determined.

The proposed Flint funding for $2017 is on top of $37.35 million in supplemental appropriations the Legislature approved for the 2015-16 fiscal year.

"Additional funds will be needed in the coming years to ensure Flint residents receive the care and services they need for a healthy future."

The budget calls for $25 million in infrastructure funding for needs specific to Flint and another $165 million to be set aside for statewide infrastructure needs in a newly created Michigan Infrastructure Fund.

Snyder's 10-year, $720-million plan for Detroit Public Schools includes $200 million in start-up and transition costs, including space consolidation, instructional support, and investment in academic programs.

"These funds will help get the school district back on firmer financial footing and, more importantly, help ensure Detroit children are receiving a quality education, setting them on a path toward a brighter future."

For the broader K-12 budget, Snyder's proposal calls for $150 million in extra funding for the school foundation allowance, which he said equates to $60 to $120 per pupil.

The budget also provides for $15 million extra for career and technical training and a $2.1-million investment in science, technology, engineering and mathematics programs to encourage students to pursue those fields.

The Free Press reported Tuesday that Snyder wants lawmakers to pump an additional $61.2 million into Michigan's public universities, an increase designed to restore funding levels to what they were in 2010-11, the budget approved shortly before Snyder took office on Jan. 1, 2011.

Snyder's plan calls for an overall 4.3% increase, with half earmarked for across-the-board increases to all the state's universities and the other half added to performance-based funding..

Snyder called for a tuition increase cap for next year of 4.8%. That's up from last year's cap of 3.2%. If universities violate the cap, as Eastern Michigan University and Oakland University did last year, they will forfeit performance funding.

On public safety, Snyder said an additional $9.5 million for the Michigan State Police will support a trooper school expected to produce 85 new recruits.

The budget also includes $8.5 million for an academy to graduate 350 additional corrections officers for the state prison system, which is grappling with a large number of retirements.

In the area of health and human services, Snyder announced a $25.6-million plan to expand the Healthy Kids dental plan to all children under age 21 in all Michigan counties, bringing the total number covered to just shy of 827,000.

Officials say the budget was revised in recent weeks to deal with the Flint public health crisis as the extent of health and infrastructure problems grew, along with preliminary plans to address them.

The governor wants lawmakers to approve $50 million to operate Detroit Public Schools while his school reform plan is working its way through the Legislature, Budget Office spokesman Kurt Weiss said.

"All of Michigan's children deserve a quality education that prepares them for future success," Snyder said in his budget message. "The financial stress currently facing the Detroit Public Schools must be resolved in order to ensure Detroit's schoolchildren have the same opportunities for success as other children in our state."

Michigan faces a string of lawsuits and investigations as a result of the Flint lead crisis.

In April 2014, the city, while under the control of a state-appointed emergency manager, switched the source of supply from Lake Huron water supplied by the City of Detroit to Flint River water treated at the Flint's city treatment plant. Michigan Department of Environmental Quality officials have acknowledged they made a mistake when they failed to require needed corrosion-control chemicals to be added to the water.

As a result, lead leached from pipes and fixtures into the drinking water and test showed lead levels spiked in the blood of some Flint children. Although the city switched back to Detroit water in October, officials say the potential for harm continues because of damage done to Flint's water distribution infrastructure.

State and federal investigations into Flint's environmental disaster are ongoing and the city remains under a state of emergency until at least mid-April. The lead contamination in Flint has drawn worldwide attention, including from several presidential candidates.

A Medicaid Waiver Request to Assist in Addressing Health Impacts from Potential Lead Exposure in Flint, Michigan, Pursuant to Section 1115 of the Social Security Act

February 13, 2016

State of Michigan

Rick Snyder, Governor

Nick Lyon, Director
Michigan Department of Health and Human Services
201 Townsend Street
Lansing, MI 48913

I. Overview

The State of Michigan, through its Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS), hereby submits the following request for a waiver pursuant to Section 1115 of the Social Security Act. The purpose of this waiver request is to address potential lead exposure in the impacted areas of Flint, Michigan as further described herein.

This request has three aims: (1) to expand Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) eligibility for select individuals in the impacted area; (2), to coordinate comprehensive benefits and resources for these individuals through the provision of Targeted Case Management services; and (3) to provide a mechanism for expanded lead abatement activities in the impacted area. Although measures have been taken to address the public health issues brought about by this emergency, obtaining proper health care, case management and other assistance is necessary to minimize and further prevent any long-term adverse health effects associated with lead exposure.

II. Section 1115 Waiver Request

A. Expansion of Medicaid and CHIP Eligibility for Impacted Individuals

MDHHS proposes to suspend or alter existing eligibility requirements to provide Medicaid eligibility for select individuals who are served by the Flint water system or were served by the Flint water system. The requirements to be modified and the target population are described below.

1. Eligible Individuals: Eligible individuals include residents of Michigan who meet one of the following criteria:

    - Those individuals up to age 21 who are served by the Flint water system or were served by the Flint water system between April 2014 and the date on which the Flint water system is deemed safe by the appropriate authorities. This would include any children born to the pregnant women described below.
    - Those individuals who are served by the Flint water system and are pregnant between the date of approval of this waiver request and the date on which the Flint water system is deemed safe by the appropriate authorities.

2. Income and Asset Standards: An income standard of 400 percent FPL would be applied, using MAGI-based methodologies. No asset test would be applied. Individuals up to age 21 and pregnant women with household income above 400 percent FPL could buy in to unsubsidized coverage under the program.

3. Annual Renewals: MDHHS will use an electronic passive renewal process to redetermine the eligibility of those found eligible under this waiver. The renewals will occur at least once in each twelve month eligibility period. Income and residency will be verified. Those who are found ineligible through the electronic process will be given an opportunity to provide paper verification. In addition, any individual who has already been determined eligible for a Medicaid category and is served by or has been served by the Flint water system during the above mentioned period will maintain their current eligibility according to the rules described above. However, these individuals may be reevaluated using the modified standards if they lose their eligibility at any time before the Flint water system is deemed safe by the appropriate authorities.

4. Duration of Eligibility: Those determined eligible based on the above criteria will retain full Medicaid eligibility according the following schedule:

   - Pregnant Women: The duration of the pregnancy and during the two calendar months post-delivery.
   - All others: Until the age of 21.

5. Benefits

   Eligible beneficiaries described above will receive the full array of State Plan benefits. This includes the provision of Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnostic and Treatment Services (EPSDT) for children up to age 21, Non-Emergency Medical Transportation (NEMT) and Maternal Infant Health Program services.

6. Delivery System

   The State will utilize its existing delivery systems to provide Medicaid benefits to eligible individuals. Individuals will be enrolled in the Medicaid Health Plans, consistent with the State's approved §1915(b) waiver. Populations that are considered voluntary or exempt from enrollment into a Medicaid Health Plan (e.g., Native Americans, beneficiaries who have other Health Maintenance Organization or Preferred Provider Organization coverage, etc.), will remain a voluntary or exempt population from managed care under this demonstration.

   Behavioral health services and related specialty supports will also be provided to eligible individuals through the State's existing Prepaid Inpatient Health Plan system in accordance with the Medicaid State Plan and any relevant waiver authorities. The services provided under this demonstration will be coordinated with existing case management services as appropriate.

7. Cost-Sharing

   Michigan does not impose any cost sharing for individuals under 21 or pregnant women under the state plan. Cost-sharing for eligible individuals described above will be consistent with the Medicaid State Plan. Children under age 19 covered under MIChild (the state's title XXI-funded Medicaid expansion program, with income between 160 – 212% of the FPL) are charged a premium under the state plan. However, individuals subject to this waiver will be exempt from all premiums. Children who are currently eligible for the MIChild program and are served by or have been served by the Flint water system as described in Section II A will also be exempt from premiums for the duration of their eligibility.

B. Targeted Case Management

In addition to the benefits described above, the State plans to offer Targeted Case Management (TCM) Services to all children and pregnant women served by the Flint water system who have been determined eligible for Medicaid. For the purposes of this demonstration, TCM services are defined as services furnished to assist these individuals within the target population in gaining access to needed medical, social, educational, and other services. The State will provide face-to-face TCM services in a manner consistent with 42CFR 441.18 and 42 CFR 440.169 through a Designated Provider Organization (DPO), as defined below.

1. Target Population

   For the purposes of this demonstration, the target group includes all children who are newly eligible pursuant to Section II A, as well as all Medicaid eligible children (up to 21) served by the Flint water system.

2. Delivery System

   As noted above, the State will provide TCM services through DPOs. For the purposes of this demonstration, a DPO is any provider who has been approved by the State (in coordination with community leaders and stakeholders in the impacted area) and meets the following qualifications:

   - Is currently enrolled as a Michigan Medicaid Provider;
   - Can demonstrate the capacity to provide all core elements of TCM, including comprehensive assessment and care plan management, as well as linking, coordination and long-term monitoring of services;
   - Has a sufficient number of staff to meet the service needs of the target population and the administrative capacity to ensure the provision of quality services in accordance with State and Federal requirements;
   - Has experience in the coordination and linkage of community services; and
   - Has the willingness and capabilities to coordinate with the individual's Medicaid Health Plan, as applicable.

3. DPO Staff Qualifications

   The DPO will provide TCM services primarily through the use of a case manager. The case manager must meet one of the following criteria:

   - Licensure as a Registered Nurse by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs and at least one year of experience providing community health, pediatric or maternal of infant health nursing services; or
   - Licensure as a Social Worker by the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs and at least one year of experience providing social work services to families.

   With active participation by the beneficiary, case managers will be required to provide comprehensive TCM services consistent with 42 CFR 440.169, which includes but is not limited to: performance of a comprehensive history, assessment, and reassessment of the individual; the development and ongoing management of an individualized plan of care, including identification of goals and actions; the provision of ongoing communication with the individual's primary care physician and health plan (as applicable); coordination of health care and related community support services, including physical and behavioral health-related services (i.e. Medicaid health plans and community mental health services programs), nutritional support and age appropriate referrals to Early On, Great Start Readiness Programs and Head Start; and referral to and assistance in obtaining additional social supports, including financial, housing and transportation assistance, and lead assessment and abatement resources.

C. Lead Abatement

The State also seeks enhancement and expansion of its current lead abatement program through the use of a designated state health program model. As part of this expansion, the State would provide abatement services to homes in the impacted area. Abatement services are defined as the removal of lead hazards, including:

- The permanent enclosure or encapsulation of lead based paint,
- The replacement of surfaces or fixtures, the removal or covering of soil lead hazards, and
- All preparation, cleanup, disposal, and post-abatement clearance testing activities associated with such measures.

Individuals performing abatement services must be properly certified by the state. MDHHS also requests funding to train individuals in lead abatement.

III. Goals and Objectives

Through the provision of direct health care services as part of expanded eligibility, and the inclusion of TCM services, along with the provision of lead abatement activities, the State expects to do the following:

- Identify and address any physical or behavioral health issues associated with actual or potential exposure to lead hazards.
- Mitigate lead hazards in the impacted area through the provision of expanded lead abatement activities, which will result in a reduction in the number of individuals experiencing potential lead exposure.

As part of this demonstration, the State will test the following hypotheses:

- Providing expanded eligibility under this waiver will allow for enrollees to have access to services to identify and address physical or behavioral health issues associated with lead exposure.
- Providing Targeted Case Management services will allow for enrollees to receive assistance in gaining access to needed medical, social, educational, and other service.
- Providing enhancement and expansion of the lead hazard removal program will reduce the potential for ongoing or re-exposure to lead hazards.

To test these hypotheses, the State will utilize the following evaluation measures:

- Utilization of services for waiver enrollees including but not limited to access to primary/preventive services, lead screening, well-child visits, behavioral health services.
- Utilization of TCM services including but not limited to the number of waiver enrollees served, types of referrals provided.
- Number of homes in the designated area in which lead hazard removal has occurred.

IV. Enrollment and Financial Information

The State anticipates approximately 15,000 individuals will be eligible for the group described in Section II A. In addition, approximately 30,000 individuals in the impacted area are currently enrolled in Medicaid.

V. Cost-Effectiveness and Budget Neutrality

The Medicaid Eligibility Group (MEG) and associated amounts listed in the table below in conjunction with the amount calculated in paragraph (B) constitute the budget neutrality limit for the target population.

MEG	DY 1 – PMPM	DY 2 – PMPM	DY 3 – PMPM	DY 4 – PMPM	DY 5 – PMPM
Target Population	$446.83	$449.35	$469.07	$484.60	$500.93

A. The PMPM amounts detailed in the table above represent estimated total computable costs for the full array of State Plan benefits and Targeted Case Management Services for the target population. If the state's experience of the take up rate and other factors that affect the costs of this population indicates that the PMPM limit above may underestimate the actual costs of State Plan benefits and Targeted Case Management Services for the target population, the state may submit a PMPM adjustment for CMS review and approval without submitting a formal waiver amendment.

B. In addition to the PMPM amounts above, the budget neutrality amounts will be increased to include the total computable costs of lead abatement services for the target population in the impacted area. These costs will be incurred in a manner which utilizes existing state administrative infrastructure and lead abatement programs. The non-federal share of these costs will be limited to resources appropriated by the state for the express purpose of lead abatement in the impacted area. Amounts associated with this paragraph will be reported to CMS on an annual basis for inclusion in the overall budget neutrality limit for the target population.

C. The State requests Title XXI funding be made available for the population made eligible by this waiver and all lead abatement activities described herein.

VI. Waivers and Expenditure Authorities

MDHHS seeks waiver of the following requirements of the Social Security Act:

- Eligibility §1902(e)(14) – To the extent necessary to eliminate the income and asset test and modify redetermination requirements for eligible individuals as described herein.
- Comparability §1902(a)(17) or § 1902(a)(10)(B) - To the extent necessary to provide the benefits described in this demonstration request to those individuals who meet the criteria described herein.
- Cost-Sharing §1902(a)(14) insofar as it incorporates Sections 1916 and 1916A, and § 2103(e) - To the extent necessary to waive premiums in the State's MIChild program for those individuals impacted by this demonstration.
- Freedom of Choice §1902(a)(23) - To the extent necessary to allow the State to limit those entities providing Targeted Case Management services under this demonstration.
- Statewideness §1902(a)(1) - To the extent necessary to allow the State to carry out the demonstration as described herein.
- Amount, Duration, and Scope of Services -Section 1902(a)(10)(b) - To the extent necessary to allow the State to provide a benefit package to the demonstration population that differs from the State Plan benefit package.

VII. Public Notice and Tribal Consultation Process

Given that this request is intended to address an emergency, as declared by the President on January 16, 2016, the State seeks an exemption from the public notice process pursuant to 42 CFR 431.416(g). However, the State does intend to seek input from the public as well as various stakeholders as part of the waiver development and implementation process, and has already issued some information through a press release as the State developed this proposal.

Given the expedient nature of this emergency request, the State also requests modification of the tribal consultation process. The State is submitting a letter to the Tribal Chairs and Health Directors in concert with the submission of this request, which will notify them of this proposal. MDHHS expects to schedule a conference call with the Tribal Chairs and Health Directors to discuss the waiver application, seek consultation and answer any questions.

VIII. Implementation Timeline

The State anticipates a phased approach to implementation upon approval of the demonstration.

The State also plans to engage in targeted outreach efforts to reach the individuals described in Section IIA as well as those in the impacted area who are currently eligible. This may include, but is not limited to, increasing the availability of application materials and related support services in the impacted area and providing State eligibility specialists in schools, health care facilities and other community locations to assist with the application process. The State also expects to pursue a streamlined application process for individuals who may be eligible under this demonstration.

IX. Expedited Renewal

Given the possible long-term risks from potential lead exposure, the State requests that upon expiration of the waiver, an expedited renewal process will be granted.

INTERVIEW OPPORUNITY: Spec. Colwell will be available for interviews at Fire Station #1 located at 210 E. 5th St. from 1-4 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 12.

National Guard Soldier Distributing Water Saves Flint Resident's Life

FLINT, Mich. –While helping to hand out water to the citizens of Flint, a National Guard soldier helped save a Flint resident's life.

"This is why I joined the military, to help people," said Spec. Charles D. Colwell, a medic with the Headquarters Company of the 125th Infantry Battalion attached to Alpha Company from Detroit, Mich. He is one of 65 soldiers helping distribute water resources after Gov. Rick Snyder activated the National Guard to help with the Flint water emergency.

Because of his actions on Feb. 1, Spec. Colwell is being recommended for the Michigan Lifesaving Medal by his immediate supervisor.

While on duty at Fire Station #1 in downtown Flint, Pfc. Zacharry R. Burrell greeted the resident who was there to return recyclables. Noticing that she was short of breath and struggling for her inhaler, Burrell ascertained the resident was clearly having a medical condition and needed immediate assistance.

"She stood there for a minute and it kind of looked like she was looking for something in her bag and then she bent down and put her hands on her knees and began coughing uncontrollably and I saw she had an inhaler in her hand," said Burrell.

Burrell brought Spec. Colwell out to the woman, who immediately started assessing her condition. She had been walking with some women to the firehouse. They told Colwell the woman had used her inhaler twice and it was nearly empty. He determined she was also suffering from severe bronchitis, so he called 911.

It wasn't until the next day the other soldiers realized how much he had done when she came back to the firehouse to thank Colwell for saving her life.

Colwell who has been a medic with the Michigan National Guard for the last two years is also a trained emergency medical technician on the civilian side in the city of Detroit.

"I do this so much every day and everyone else is kind of blowing it up," explained a humble Colwell, who doesn't understand why the other soldiers he is working with thinks he deserves the Michigan Lifesaving Medal.

"I couldn't be more proud of him," said his squad leader, Sgt. Brandon M. Lewis. "That's why I put him in for the highest award that I could possibly recommend for him for doing that."

Colwell went beyond his normal duties while in Flint and his actions made what could have been a bad situation a positive one.

"If it wasn't for him, one of us might have misjudged the situation and just thought she was sick," said Lewis. "Not only did he immediately seek her out, but he did everything he could to make her comfortable and by the time the EMTs and paramedics got here he already had an assessment to hand over to them so they were a few steps ahead."

The 125th Infantry Battalion includes soldiers from different companies from around the state who have volunteered to assist the citizens of Flint during this time. They are stationed at water resource sites at the five fire stations, handing out water, water filters and water testing kits.

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Release #: 37

Boil Water Advisory Lifted by City of Flint

No Bacteria Identified

FLINT, Mich. – With the Feb. 9 water main break repaired and successful back-to-back bacteria tests completed, the city of Flint lifted its boil water advisory today.

Affected residents no longer need to boil their filtered water because testing did not reveal any bacteria during or after the repair of the water main break. The boil water advisory was issued as a precautionary measure because the loss of pressure in the water distribution system can make the system vulnerable to bacterial contamination.

Previously installed water filters are still safe to use given the absence of bacteria, but residents are reminded to check their water filter indicator and replace the filter cartridge, if needed. Individuals should follow the water filter manufacturer replacement instructions.

Residents are reminded to continue use of filtered water for drinking, food preparation, brushing teeth and pets. Unfiltered water may be used for bathing and cleaning. Pregnant woman and children under 6 years of age should continue to drink only bottled water.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Michigan Department of Environmental Quality both encourage residents and businesses to flush their water for between two to five minutes through all taps every day. This will assist with flushing their individual pipes as well as rescaling the water system as a whole. This should be done first thing in the morning after the water system has been stagnant for several hours.

To prolong the life of their filter, this daily flushing should be done with the filter turned in the off position. Once the system has been flushed for two to five minutes, the filter should be turned back on for all cooking and drinking.

Residents are also reminded to clean the aerator on every household faucet every week.

Free water filter cartridges, water filters, bottled water and water testing kits are available at water resource sites that remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a water bottle recycling site)
310 East 5th St.

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Dear Ms Wachino:

The State of Michigan hereby submits a demonstration application, pursuant to Section 1115 of the Social Security Act, to address issues related to lead exposure in the impacted areas of Flint, Michigan.

The waiver request has three aims: (1) to expand Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program eligibility for select individuals (i.e. children up to age 21 and pregnant women) in the impacted area; (2) to coordinate comprehensive benefits and resources through the provision of Targeted Case Management services; and (3) to provide a mechanism for expanded lead abatement activities in the impacted area. Approval of this demonstration will expand access to health care, case management and other supportive services and is necessary to minimize and further prevent any long-term adverse health effects associated with lead exposure.

We appreciate the assistance both you and your colleagues at the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services have already provided, and look forward to working together to achieve our mutual goal of improving the health and well-being of Michigan's citizens.

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 10

Current Issues Talking Points

Legionnaires Disease

- Recent comments in the media are inconsistent with the collaboration that has taken place between the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services and the Genesee County Health Department.
- MDHHS takes legionella concerns seriously and has released some of its earliest email conversations between its epidemiologists and the Genesee County Health Department regarding legionella cases.
- The MDHHS partnership with the Genesee County Health Department is central to providing Flint residents with the health resources they need to overcome obstacles in both the short and long terms. They have worked side by side to deliver health services, exchange data and ideas, and to be there for the Flint community.
- In the fall of 2014, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services was aware of an increase in Legionnaires' disease cases in Genesee County and it was determined that additional support from the state was needed. The state stepped in to offer that support. Within a month, state epidemiologists were actively conducting interviews with cases and medical record reviews to make sure that Flint residents had the joint resources of local and state experts.
- MDHSS is continues to be engaged with environmental health officials on the local and national levels to proactively address the potential for future Legionnaires disease cases.

Budget Proposal today, Feb. 10

- The Governor will give the formal FY 2017-18 budget presentation today, Feb. 10 at 11 a.m.
- As part of the budget proposal, the Governor will outline long-term funding efforts to aide in Flint's recovery.
- To date, the state has allocated $37.3 million in emergency funding for Flint.
    - The Governor also proposed and the Senate has approved an additional $30 million the city could use to help relieve Flint residents of a portion of their water bill.
- The budget presentation is available via livestream at www.michigan.gov/snyderlive.
    - To limit the negative impact on state network speeds, DTMB advises employees to reserve a conference room and watch the presentation in teams rather than individually at their desks.

Flint Mayor calls for immediate replacement of Flint pipes

- In an announcement yesterday, Flint Mayor Karen Weaver called for immediate replacement of Flint's water infrastructure.
- Immediately removing pipes could potentially add to the infrastructure problem and result in higher costs for the city.
- Both Senate Minority Leader Jim Ananich and Virginia Tech water treatment expert Marc Edwards advise first mapping the city's pipes to determine the location of lead infrastructure.
- Edwards also says the state is taking the correct actions to make Flint's water safe again. Adding phosphate to the water to coat the pipes is a necessary first step toward ensuring safe drinking water for Flint residents.
    - Flint's damaged pipes spark debate on fix (Detroit Free Press)
    - Prof. Marc Edwards discusses pipes in Flint (video)
- The Governor continues to work with Edwards and the Flint Water Interagency Coordinating Committee to identify and implement a successful long-term solution for Flint families.

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 8

Current Issues Talking Points

State partners with Flint human service groups to assist with water testing

- Water testing teams need extra hands to get the job done in a timely manner.
- The new partnership between the state and Flint area organizations - Orchards Children's Services and Flint YMCA's Safe Places Program – will hire and train 50 Flint residents this month to help conduct water tests for their fellow community member across the city.
    - More residents will be hired as more work is identified.
- The partnership is part of a comprehensive effort to help ensure Flint families benefit from both short-term and long-term opportunities created by relief efforts.
- Comprehensive water testing is a necessary step along Flint's road to recovery.
- The health, safety and well-being of Flint families remains a top priority as we work together to ensure progress in the city.
- Free water testing kits are also still available at Fire Stations 1,3,5,6, and 8. Water samples should be returned to the fire stations for testing.
- Until water is declared safe, people should continue to follow established safety protocols.

Governor invited to testify at Congressional Hearing

- The Governor received an invitation to testify at the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee hearing in Washington D.C. next week.
- The Governor has denied the invitation as he will be giving the formal FY 2017 budget presentation the same day in Lansing.
- As part of the budget proposal, the Governor will outline long-term funding efforts to aide in Flint's recovery.
- To date, the state has allocated $37.3 million in emergency funding for Flint.

Residents Reminded of Boil Water Advisory
Water Filter Cartridges Should be Replaced After Advisory is Lifted

Free water filters, cartridges, bottled water, testing kits available at resource sites

FLINT, Mich. Flint residents are reminded to boil their water due to the drinking water warning issued by the city of Flint on Feb. 9. Until further notice, boiled filtered water or bottled water should be used for drinking, brushing teeth, washing dishes, preparing food and for pets.

The boil water advisory was issued in response to a water main break on Tuesday that caused a loss of pressure in the water distribution system. Whenever a water system loses pressure for a significant length of time, bacteria contamination can result. As a precautionary measure, residents are advised to boil their water to kill bacteria and other organisms in the water.

Once the City of Flint lifts the advisory, affected residents should be prepared to take a few precautions to ensure their water is safe for use.

First, residents should always flush their water system for at least five minutes after it has gone unused for several hours. For filtered pitchers, flush before filling the pitcher. Residents can prolong the life of their tap filter by turning the valve to the unfiltered setting before flushing, then switch back to the filtered setting before drinking or cooking.

Second, residents should replace the cartridge in their water filter after a boil advisory. Previously installed water filters will still be safe to use after the cartridge has been replaced, and residents should be sure to follow the water filter manufacturer replacement instructions.

For other tips, see the attachment, "Boil Water FAQs."

Free water filter cartridges, water filters, bottled water and water testing kits are available at water resource sites that remain open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and are located at:

Fire Station #1 (also a water bottle recycling site)

All water filters distributed by the State of Michigan are certified by NSF International for lead reduction. Individuals wishing to verify that a specific filter is NSF-certified can do so via the NSF website.

The State of Michigan continues to coordinate response efforts in partnership with the city of Flint, Genesee County and local community organizations.

Flint Water Daily Update
Updated Feb. 10

Current Issues Talking Points

Budget Proposal – Supporting Flint Families

- $195 million of the proposed budget will go toward helping Flint families by funding both short and long-term solutions to the water crisis.
    - $37 million to help ensure clean, safe drinking water. This funding will assist with water testing, inspection and replacement of fixtures in schools and daycare facilities, and help the city stay connected to the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department through the end of 2016.
    - $15 million to support food and nutrition funding for families and children. This funding will support school meal programs, mobile food banks and food inspections at food establishments in the county.
    - $63 million for physical, social and educational well-being. This funding will support families with blood testing, early childhood development programs, educational support and home lead abatement.
    - $50 million will be kept on reserve to address the future needs of Flint residents.
    - The remaining $30 million pertains to the recent proposal to help the city of Flint assist residents with covering a portion of their water bill.
        - A typical Flint resident's billing statement includes charges for water and sewer.
        - Under the plan, the funding would be made available to cover water used for drinking, cooking and bathing which is approximately 65 percent of the water portion of a residents' water and sewer bill.
        - Residents would still be responsible for the remaining balance of the water portion of a bill accounting for water used in ways that do not qualify as consumption.
        - Residents would be responsible for covering all sewer costs.
        - This $30 million has been approved in the Senate and awaits approval in the house before it goes to the Governor for his signature.
- If fully approved, the $195 million will be in addition to the previous $37.3 million in emergency funding already allocated to the city of Flint, totaling more than $230 million.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

Budget Proposal – Statewide Infrastructure

- In his FY 2017 Budget proposal presented today, the Governor called for the creation of a Michigan Infrastructure Fund to support statewide infrastructure needs.
- If approved, there will be a $165 million investment which will be allocated based on projects with the most immediate needs.
- In 2015, Michigan renewed a commitment to fix our roads and bridges, now it's time to focus on the rest of the state's infrastructure.
- Potential projects that could receive a portion of the $165 million include replacement of known high-risk lead and copper service lines, infrastructure upgrades while repairing roads or other utilities, and analysis of statewide infrastructure needs.
- An infographic detailing the above is available here.

DRINKING WATER WARNING

The City of Flint water system lost pressure and contamination may have occurred
BOIL YOUR FILTERED WATER BEFORE USING

Due to a drop in pressure in the City of Flint water supply, bacterial contamination may have occurred in the water system. Bacteria are generally not harmful and are common throughout our environment. Corrective measures are currently being undertaken to correct the situation.

What should I do?

AS A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE, DO NOT DRINK THE WATER WITHOUT BOILING IT FIRST. Bring all FILTERED water to a boil, let it boil for one minute, and let it cool before using, or use bottled water. If you are currently NOT using a filter to remove lead from drinking water, FLUSH your water for AT LEAST 7 minutes before collecting any to boil. Boiled FILTERED, boiled FLUSHED, or bottled water should be used for drinking, making ice, brushing teeth, washing dishes, and preparing food. Boiling kills bacteria and other organisms in the water. Continue using boiled or bottled water until further notice.

Due to the pressure loss, there may be trapped air and loose sediment in your water lines. The air and sediment may be removed by flushing you water system. DO NOT FLUSH YOUR SYSTEM THROUGH THE FILTER. The resulting air and sediment may affect the performance of your filter and the filter cartridge should be replaced.

What happened? What is being done?

These precautionary actions are being taken due to the loss of water pressure in the water distribution system caused by a water transmission main break on February 9, 2016. Whenever a water system loses pressure for any significant length of time, precautionary measures are recommended.

The City of Flint Water Department is working to get pressure restored, and water staff will be taking other remedial actions such as flushing and collecting bacteriological samples from around the system. The samples will be collected to determine that the water quality meets the state drinking water standards. We will inform you when tests show no bacteria and you no longer need to boil your water. We anticipate resolving the problem later today. This precautionary boil water notice shall remain in effect until results from the sampling verify the water is safe to drink. Customers will be advised when the boil water advisory has been lifted.
